Prof's Essay Published

William Zak, associate professor of English, has published an essay in the current issue of the Keats-Shelley Journal.

The article compares two of John Keats's most celebrated poems, the "Ode to Psyche" and the "Ode on a Grecian Urn," in order to present a new interpretation of each and to define Keats's late view of the nature and value of the poetic imagination.

Recently the editorial board of the Bucknell University Press approved the publication of Dr. Zak's first book, to be entitled Sovereign Shame: A Study of King Lear and due for release in 1983. In preparation since 1978, the book is an attempt to characterize the distinctively tragic nature of the action in the play generally considered the bleakest and most uncompromising of Shakespeare's tragedies.

At present Dr. Zak is completing a critical study of the relationship between John Barth's The Floating Opera, the Maryland-born writer's earliest novel, and the classic eighteenth century British novel by Laurence Sterne, The Life and Opinions of Tristram Shandy, Gentleman.

Outdoor Club Starts

The SSC Outdoor Club is looking for students faculty, and staff interested in camping, canoeing, backpacking, caving, climbing, and rappelling. Last academic year club members hiked through El Paso State Park and skied outside Montreal. They backpacked in Shenandoah National Park and canoed on the upper Delaware River.

This semester the outdoor Club is planning an introductory trip for new members to Harpers Ferry on September 17, 18, and 19. This trip will include a short hike on the Appalachian Trail and training in elementary climbing and rappelling for those intersted. Following the Harpers Ferry trip, the club will go white water rafting on the Youghiogheny River on the first weekend in October.

If you are interested in any of these activities, plan to attend our first meeting, September 9th at 7 pm in the ROTC classroom in Holloway Hall (HH-029). If you are interested and can't attend the meeting, please contact M SGT Rick Maloof in the ROTC office (ext. 448) or Dr. Bill Horne in HH 347 (ext. 483). Until further notice meetings will be held weekly on Thursdays at 7 pm in the ROTC classroom.

Tennis Meeting

All students interested in trying out for the men or women's varsity tennis teams please attend a very important meeting on Wednesday, September 8, at 3:30 pm at the tennis courts. If you are interested, but cannot attend this meeting, please call Dean Burroughs, tennis coach, prior to this meeting.

Book Rack Schedule

Summer: Monday - Friday
8 a.m. - 4 pm ending Sept. 3.

Fall: Monday - Friday
8 am - 5 pm beginning Sept. 6.

Evening: Monday - Thursday
6 pm - 7:15 pm, Sept. 6 to 23.

Book Returns:

Used books must be returned prior to September 13. New books must be returned prior to September 20. All returns must be accompanied by a valid receipt.

No returns are allowed after the above dates unless accompanied by a drop slip from the Registrar's Office, and these must be made within one week from the date the course was dropped.

Stop in and check out the specials on calculators, clocks, Powerdrive Stereo-Head phones and our welcome back contest. Also, pick up your free student plan book.

Training in CPR

Short courses in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) are available every few weeks through Salisbury State's Continuing Education program. In three evening sessions, you can learn how to save a life in cases of heart attack, choking, drowning, electric shock, injury, and other emergencies where the heart and breathing stop and death occurs quickly. How many people in your building, or your family, know CPR?

All college personnel and spouses are, of course, welcome in these courses. The next course will be held September 8 and September 15, from 7 to 9:15 pm, with three additional hours of manikin practice and testing to be arranged. Call 742-6635 or ext. 421 or 370 for further information.

Volunteers Needed

Volunteers are needed on campus for Planned Parenthood clinics every Thursday and alternate Fridays.

If you are interested please see Susan Yobst in the Health Center on Thursday, September 9, between 12 noon and 7 p.m.

Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

What kind of red flower is that around the flagpole? I've gotten that question many times this summer, and, in case you were wondering too, it is called a Canna. Cannas come in many different colors, but red is the most popular. This particular variety is called "The President."

Cannas are usually purchased in a dormant state, which means you come home with only a lumpy brown tuber. If you're in a hurry for your flowers (as we were), you can pot the tubers up in March and start them in a greenhouse or sunny window. By the time leaves have emerged from the pots, the weather is usually warm and your Cannas can be planted outdoors.

Cannas are tropical plants which love all of the warmth, sunshine, and showers that you can give them. Unfortunately, the tubers will not survive our Maryland winters, and they must be brought inside after the first frost, or replaced the following spring.

Computer Center Hours

The Computer Center announces the Fall hours of operation will be as follows:

Monday - Friday	8:30 am - 11:30 pm
Saturday	9 am - 11:30 pm
Sunday	To be announced

Pre-Business Orientation

All new pre-business majors, or persons considering pre-business as a major, should attend one of the following orientation meetings in Caruthers Hall Auditorium: 1) September 21, Tuesday, 3:30 pm or 2) September 24, Friday, 2:30 pm.

If you are unable to attend one of these orientation sessions report to Holloway Hall, Room 302, by September 24, and give the BUAD/ECON secretary your name and receive appropriate materials.

On Campus Employment

Interested students should come to the Work Experience office in the Maintenance Building to complete an application. Jobs are limited though, and most will be filled within the first two weeks of classes. Maximum working hours are 20 hours per week.

New Communications Center

Learning Resources Center has a new name. Effective August 2, 1982 it became known as The Salisbury State College Communications Center. We feel that this new title will more accurately reflect the broader scope of activities in which we are engaged throughout the campus and surrounding area.

Our TV studios are now in the process of renovation and modernization in a further effort to keep our standards high and to serve you even more efficiently.

Seeking Dean

Indiana Northwest at Gary, Indiana is conducting a search for a Dean of Academic Affairs. The application deadline is September 15, 1982. Anyone interested should please contact the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs for more information.

Recruiters Scheduled

Date/Time	Name/Position
Sept. 21 9-4:30	Pic 'N' Pay Shoes, Inc. Manager Trainee (All majors)
Sept. 27 9-4:30	Hecht Co. Manager Trainee (BUAD, Marketing & Management)

Call or stop by the Career Planning and Placement Center for appointments, HH 273 or 546-3261, ext. 386.

Three Join Housing Staff

Three area directors have recently joined the Housing Department staff as full-time, live-in professionals. They are: Rebecca Clagett (B.S., SSC; M.S., Gannon University. Ms. Clagett will be living in Manokin Hall apartment, (ext. 258) and will also work with Wicomico Hall.

Matt Hawes (B.S., Springfield College) will be living in Pocomoke Hall apartment (ext. 264) and will also have responsibility for Nanticoke Hall. Mr. Hawes will also serve as head wrestling coach.

Della Marshall (B.S. Lincoln University; M.A., University of Maryland) will reside in Chester Hall apartment (ext. 293) and will work with Choptank Hall as well.

As members of the professional staff, the area directors are each responsible for the day-to-day operations of two residence halls, and coordinating the delivery of educational programs and services to residents in those halls. They also serve as advisors to the hall governments and are members of the crisis management group on campus.

AREA DIRECTORS OFFICE HOURS
1 PM to 4 PM - Monday thru Friday

Rebecca Clagett - Manokin Office (ext. 257) - Manokin/Wicomico

Matt Hawes - Nanticoke Office (ext. 259) - Pocomoke/Nanticoke

Della Marshall - Choptank Office (ext. 242) - Chester/Choptank

Rights and Privacy Act

SSC will assume the right, under the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, to provide students directory information without prior consent of the student.

Directory information is defined as a student's name, local address (if listed), date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of an athletic team member, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, most recent previous educational agency or institution attended, listing of officers of student organizations (including names and addresses).

In the event a student wants more or less directory information released, please notify the Office of Dean of Students, ext. 211, 212, or stop by room 243, Holloway Hall.

Student Health Insurance

Student Health Insurance information is available from the College Health Center or the Dean of Students Office, 243 Holloway Hall.

Education Majors!

The first meeting of the Student National Education Association will meet on September 13, at 7 pm in room 167 located in Caruthers Hall. Education majors and prospective education majors are encouraged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Dance Company Performs

The Salisbury State College Dance Company is performing at the Commander Hotel in Ocean City on Thursday, September 9, as entertainment for the annual meeting of the Chesapeake Section of the American Water Works Association. Accompanying the dancers who will be performing Big Circle Mountain Dancing and Clogging will be Salisbury's own folk, bluegrass and jazz band, Gravelly Run.

Notes from the Health Center

The Health Center fall semester hours are as follows:

Monday - Friday	8:30 am to 12 N & 1 to 4:30 pm
Thursday afternoons	Planned Parenthood by appointment
Saturday & Sunday	12 N to 2 pm

Health Center services for faculty and staff are limited to blood pressure and weight checks, emergency first aid, tuberculosis screening and announced health education/screening projects.

Tuberculin skin tests are required for new employees only during the '82-'83 school year. Campus-wide tuberculin screening will be conducted in the fall of '83.

Academic and administrative offices requesting first aid materials will be billed for the supplies. Aspirin and Tylenol will not be dispensed for office use due to Maryland Pharmacy Board rules and regulations.

Students and faculty members are reminded that the Health Center is not authorized to grant excuses due to illness. Absences of any nature are to be worked out between the professor and the student.

The Health Center welcomes aboard Karen Rickards, RN and Barbara Ryan, RN. Karen will be sharing a full time position with staff nurse Marie Simpkins. Barbara will be working part time in the Health Center.

Teaches Course After Trip Abroad

Phillip Bosserman, professor of sociology, is returning to the campus after a year's sabbatical leave in France.

There, as a research fellow of the National Endowment for the Humanities, he studied the history of sociology and other social sciences in France after World War II. He met many persons from other regions of the world and also travelled widely in Europe and eastern Europe during his stay in Paris.

Professor Bosserman will teach a course on Social Change and Social Planning drawing from the rich experiences of his sabbatical year. The course examines social change in its international context.

The class will meet on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9:50, beginning September 8.

For more information contact the Office of Continuing Education.

AAUW Membership Social

The Salisbury Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold a social for members and interested new members Sunday, September 12 from 2 - 4 pm at the home of Barbara Wilsey, 607 Pine Bluff Road. New faculty women are especially urged to come.

Two Art Exhibits on View

Two exhibits from the Baltimore Museum of Art will be displayed at Blackwell Library during the next month and until October 5. They are "Images of Christianity," an exhibit of 31 works of art on paper, and "Mandarin Squares," an exhibit of 20 art objects.

Both exhibits have been made possible by grants from the Maryland State Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts, Washington, D.C.

Sports Admission Policy

All full time staff and faculty will be admitted to all intercollegiate athletic contests free of charge upon presentation of ID cards at the gate or door, according to Deane Deshon, athletic director.

Also, each full time staff and faculty member may bring one guest at no charge, he advises.

Part time faculty and staff will be charged the student rate upon presentation of their I.D.'s.

Airmen of Note Here

Free tickets are now available for the appearance of the Airmen of Note, the U.S. Air Force's jazz ensemble, at SSC on Saturday, September 18, at 8 pm in Holloway Auditorium.

Tickets may be picked up at the College Center between the hours of 8:30 am and 4:30 pm. All seats not claimed by 7:50 pm on the day of the concert will be released to the general public.

Sponsors are Salisbury State College, WSBY and WQHQ radio stations.

Energy Briefs

by Mark Wilkerson

Thanks to the combined efforts of Public Safety and Bill Bowen, the college mechanic, several old and discarded bicycles have been transformed into a new energy and time saving mode of transportation for members of the Physical Plant staff.

This summer the college has spent $121,177 for 2,047,000 kilowatt hours of electricity. During the same three months last year (June, July and August) we spent $144,375 for 2,300,000 kilowatt hours of electricity. Although we had 78 fewer cooling degree days this summer, I still feel conservation played a big role in the overall reduction. For instance, in July alone we had 60 more cooling degree days this year (it was hotter) and the campus was utilized more with conferences, etc., and we still used 65,000 less kilowatt hours and $7,000 less. This is progress!! Thank you all for the cooperation and understanding exhibited in regard to our conservation efforts.

Three Enter Grad School

Three students from the department of Geography and Regional Planning have been accepted to graduate schools this fall and will be pursuing master's degrees. They are: Michele M. Masucci, Clark University (Worcester, Ma), Social Geography; Michael W. Powers, University of Maryland, Coastal Geomorphology/Remote Sensing; and Brent R. Skeeter, University of Georgia, Applied Climatology. All have received either teaching or research assistantships.

Communication Services News

by Daniel H. Gladding

Mail & Distribution (Campus Post Office)

The Campus Post Office hours of operation are 8 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Any mail needing postage affixed should be received in the Campus Post Office daily by 3 p.m. to insure same day mailing.

Large office mailings such as bills, grades, etc. should provide advance notice as much as possible to insure an adequate supply of postage funds available. Each office and delivery point should provide the post office with a new roster of persons receiving mail respectively so that proper channeling can be accomplished.

Telephone & Telegraph (Switchboard)

The new CENTREX system is well underway. All offices and departments have been visited and reviews are complete. The new telephone number assignments will be released to department heads and chairpersons beginning September 13. The new Fall 1982 campus telephone directory should be available for distribution the week of September 6. All telephone moves and changes have been accomplished as requested. Notify us if there are any problems. It would be very helpful if each department could notify the switchboard of all new faculty/staff members until the new directory is released.

Duplication Services

This department is overloaded with work. Due to a vast majority of submission deadlines missed by staff members due to various circumstances, a few projects may not get completed on time. We are currently working overtime, compensatory time, and student shifts as much as possible. Your complete cooperation and understanding is requested. Work with us please! Stationery and printing requests will be accepted on or after September 20 for items bearing the new CENTREX telephone numbers. Duplication Services will print new stationery, etc. in spare time during the course of the fall schedule. Plan ahead and be ready for the new year and the new telephone system and order your stationery early.

Special Projects

The auditorium of Holloway Hall is under extensive renovation. Painting of the auditorium balcony and stage have nearly been completed.

The stage floor refinishing project is now underway. New lighting fixtures, furniture and hardware have all been purchased and received. New draperies and stage curtains will be installed in mid to late October due to contract awarding delays. Overall, we anticipate the complete renovation being complete by Thanksgiving.

MCEA Speaker

Dr. Thomas Bellavance will be the guest speaker at MCEA Chapter 72 quarterly meeting September 14. Chapter 72 will meet in the Chesapeake Room in the College Center at 7:30 pm. Please make plans to attend.

Personnel Changes

Several personnel changes have been made in Central Stores. Marie Neal will join Richard Pusey's Business and Finance staff in the near future and will deal solely with inventory control and maintenance. Ed Newcomb will assume supervisory responsibility of Central Stores and Leland Smith will coordinate the day-to-day business operation of the department. The transition period is not expected to create any inconvenience to the campus community. The new phone extension for Central Stores is 213.

Work Experience Note

All departments employing students are reminded to have each student bring the original of their contract to the Work Experience Office. At that time they will complete the W4 form which is necessary for the student to be added to the payroll records. This procedure must be followed for both returning student employees and those newly hired.

Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

I don't need to tell you that fall is approaching quickly; you can feel it in the cool morning breezes or in the crisp evenings that make you think about putting on one of your cozy sweaters, even if you never do.

For many people, fall means the end of gardening season, no more weeds to pull or watering to do. But the best of gardners know that fall is the ideal time to do much of the work which will make your garden beautiful in the spring. Anytime from now until the end of October is ideal for fertilizing and seeding lawns. The prevalent grasses of this area, bluegrass, fescue and rye, do most of their growing in the spring and fall. Seeding now will give the young grass plants two growth periods to get themselves established before the summer droughts come. Campus seeding projects this fall include planting improved perennial ryegrass on the field inside the old track and planting improved tall fescue on the baseball field and the S. Division field.

If you would like to do some seeding this fall, but are not sure which seed is best for your lawn, give the Maryland Extension Service a call at 749-6141. They will be able to advise you about the right treatment for your yard.

Library Display

An interesting collection of new and old musical instruments from many countries has been placed on display in the library by Charles Smith, Music Department, and Dorothy Newcomb, Blackwell Library

IRP Invites Students

The Institute for Retired Persons (IRP) invites students to meet for an informal dialogue on issues of mutual concern on Tuesday, September 21, at 11:30 am in the Chesapeake Room at the College Center.

The forums, held on the third Tuesday of each month, are intended to be for an inter-generational exchange of ideas.

Named Program Specialist

Judylynn Mitchell has been appointed the program specialist in the Office of Continuing Education, beginning September 1.

As program specialist, Mrs. Mitchell's major responsibility will be to coordinate and initiate minority person/group enrollments and to assist with other educational programs and courses for the various publics on Delmarva who are also interested in continuing their education.

Rights and Privacy Act

SSC will assume the right, under the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, to provide students directory information without prior consent of the student.

Directory information is defined as a student's name, local address (if listed), date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of an athletic team member, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, most recent previous educational agency or institution attended, listing of officers of student organizations (including names and addresses).

In the event a student wants more or less directory information released, please notify the Office of Dean of Students, ext. 211, 212, or stop by room 243, Holloway Hall.

Student Health Insurance

T'Ai-Chi Offered at SSC

An introduction to "T'ai-Chi Ch'uan," an ancient Chinese system of physical culture, will be offered by SSC on Wednesday evenings, from 7 to 8 pm, for eight consecutive weeks beginning September 15, at the Oriental Studies Institute on State Road in Delmar, Del.

TCC can be classified as a martial art, but a soft, inner system similar to the Japanese Aikido. While the currently popular Judo and Karate stress focused, concentrated activity with bursting power as a goal, TCC is a diffused, meditational activity with sensitivity and yielding as goals. TCC is more concerned with health and relaxation than self-defense. The practice of TCC centers around a rhythmic, legato, solo form. The student seeks a condition of "sinking/relaxing," and the movement ought to suggest "swimming in air."

Persons desiring additional information concerning this as well as other non-credit continuing education courses should contact the Office of Continuing Education, ext. 321.

Meal Hours

Monday thru Friday: Breakfast - 7 to 8:45 a.m.; Lunch: 11:30 a.m. to 1:15 p.m.; Dinner - 5 to 6:30 p.m.
Saturday & Sunday: Brunch - 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; Dinner - 5 to 6 p.m.

Cash Meal Prices

Breakfast - $1.95; Lunch - $2.95; Brunch - $2.95; Dinner - $3.50.

Annual Competition for Overseas Study to Close Soon

The 1983-84 competition for grants for graduate study abroad, offered under the Fulbright Program and by foreign governments, universities and private donors, will close on October 31, 1982. Only a few more weeks remain in which qualified graduate students may apply for one of the approximately 500 awards which are available to 50 countries.

Most of the grants offered provide round-trip transportation, tuition and maintenance for one academic year; a few provide international travel only or a stipend intended as a partial grant-in-aid.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens at the time of application, and must generally hold a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before the beginning date of the grant and, in most cases, should be proficient in the language of the host country. Except for certain specific awards, candidates may not hold the Ph.D. at the time of application. Candidates for 1983-84 are ineligible for a grant to a country if they have been doing graduate work or conducting research in that country for six months or more during the academic year 1982-83.

Creative and performing artists are not required to have a bachelor's degree, but they must have four years of professional study or equivalent experience. Social work applicants must have at least two years of professional experience after the Master of Social Work degree.

Call Dr. Fusaro, ext. 392 (DSH 302) for information.

Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

The pink flowering shrubs growing on the berms along Rt. 13 and other places on campus are called crape myrtles. The proper name for the crape myrtle is Lagerstroemia Indica and the primary reason for its popularity is that it blooms when little else is doing so.

The crape myrtle is a shrub adapted to southern climates, and rarely found north of Delaware. Even in Salisbury there is deadwood which must be pruned out each year—evidence of the winter's toll.

Unlike most other shrubs in this area*, the crape myrtle forms its buds in the late spring for the flowers you see now. Pruning at the wrong time could remove most of the developing flower buds. Right now in late summer is a good time to prune them since the deadwood stands out clearly from the flowering branches.

Six new crape myrtle shrubs have been planted on campus this year in anticipation of many beautiful Septembers.

Cross Country Teams

All students interested in running on the men's or women's cross country teams are invited to attend practice daily at 4:00 p.m. in Maggs PAC. Contact Don Cathcart, cross country coach, for further information (ext. 364).

Norma Heyde Inducted as Charter Member

On August 31, 1982, Norma Heyde, associate professor of music, was inducted as a charter member of the Rosa Ponselle Museum Associates at Villa Pace, the Baltimore home of Rosa Ponselle.

Miss Ponselle, one of the most renowned singers in the history of singing, died May 25, 1981. She left approximately $2.5 million of which the bulk is to be used by the Rosa Ponselle Charitable Foundation to operate the museum in her home for the public, and to award scholarships and prizes to aspiring young vocal artists.

The grand opening of the Villa Pace Museum and the launching of the sale of Rosa Ponselles' biography has been set for September 25, 1982. Mrs. Heyde was an artist student of Miss Ponselle for seven years.

Pre-Nursing Students

The application deadline for enrollment in the nursing major for Spring semester, 1983, is October 1, 1982. This applies to those pre-nursing students anticipating registering for Nursing 300 Professional Nursing Concepts, for Spring 1983 as well as other students interested in the major. The application form may be obtained from the Department of Nursing and submitted no later than October 1, 1982. The next application deadline is March 1, 1983.

Announcement to be Made on New Computer System

The selection of the new administrative and academic computer systems will be announced by Raymond A. Shingler, director of data processing, on Friday, September 24th, at 1:30 p.m. in Holloway Hall Auditorium. Anyone wishing to attend is welcome.

Cedar Bowl Tickets

If you want to support Muscular Dystrophy and the Tall Cedars of Lebanon in their efforts, you may purchase tickets to the Cedar Bowl, a local high school contest between Salisbury's Parkside High and Easton High on October 16 at 8 p.m. in County Stadium.

Tickets can be secured through Public Relations at $2.00 per person.

Clerical Personnel Note

On October 15, a workshop on Management Essentials for Clerical Personnel will be conducted here in Salisbury at the Deers Head Center. Anyone interested in attending this workshop can pick up a registration form from the Personnel Office. More information about this workshop is also available through that office. Deadline for registration is September 24, 1982.

On October 29, the Fifth Annual State Women's Conference will be held in Baltimore. The fee is $25.00 which includes lunch (parking not included). The Personnel Office has not received information on this conference as of this newsletter, but they will have information shortly. We have been told this is a worthwhile conference to attend, and I hope we have a good response of people. Let's get a group together and go!

Pre-Business Orientation

All new pre-business majors, or persons considering pre-business as a major, should attend one of the following orientation meetings in Devilbiss Science Hall, Room 149: 1) September 28th, Tuesday, 3:30 p.m.; or 2) October 1st, Friday, 2:30 p.m. If you are unable to attend one of these orientation sessions, report to Holloway Hall, room 302, by October 1st, and give the BUAD/ECON secretary your name and receive appropriate materials.

Outdoor Club Trip

For the Outdoor Club trip to the Hawk Mountain Sanctuary in central Pennsylvania on September 17th, 18th, and 19th, a few places remain. Students interested in this introductory trip featuring backpacking and camping should attend the regular weekly Outdoor Club meeting on Thursday, September 16th at 7PM in Tawes 118.

At that meeting Club officers will be accepting payment for the white water rafting trip on the Youghiogheny River in western Pennsylvania. The cost for this trip on October 1st, 2nd, and 3rd will be $20 (basic fee). For further information on these trips and on Club activities contact Club President, Misty Knight at ext. 489.

Energy Information

by Mark W. Wilkerson

It was about this time last year that I was able to report we had just received a grant totaling $48,000. This grant was awarded to SSC under the Institutional Conservation Program for the purpose of hiring a professional engineering and consulting firm to identify various projects which would be economically feasible to implement. All such changes or additions would be geared toward our goal of reducing energy usage campus wide.

The engineering was completed in the spring. I immediately applied for more funding under the same program, this time to actually implement the recommended energy conservation measures.

In late August I was informed that none of the $150,000 worth of projects applied for would be funded. This was very disappointing, especially when I reflected on the pages of bureaucracy I mulled through just to apply for the grant.

Upon questioning the project director of the Maryland Energy Office, I learned that we were not the only insitution to miss out. It seems that in Maryland alone there were 5½ million dollars worth of project requests and only $750,000 to be awarded throughout the state.

We will be reapplying for some additional funding at a later date.

Airmen of Note Here

The Airmen of Note, led by Chief Master Sergeant Dave Steinmeyer, will provide "Jazz At Its Best" with vocalist Bobbie McCleary adding her own unique vocal stylings to what has been critically acclaimed by Woody Herman as one of the finest big bands in the country.

The Airmen of Note, The Official United States Air Force Jazz Ensemble, has frequently travelled overseas, and their tours abroad have taken them to almost all of the European countries as well as North Africa, Egypt, Saudi Arabia, and Greenland.

During one European tour, the Airmen of Note played at the World's Fair in Brussels. This tour also included performances in Royal Festival Hall in London, and before a large audience of 8,000 people in the Sportspalast in Berlin. While in Birmingham, England, the "NOTE" appeared on BBC Television with a viewing audience estimated at 22 million people.

Jimmy Stewart, star of The Glenn Miller Story, in which the Airmen of Note portrayed the Glenn Miller Orchestra, has appeared several times with the band. In fact, whenever Mr. Stewart and the band meet in the midst of their travels, it is not uncommon to find Jimmy leading the band in a few numbers.

Many great musicians and vocalists have worked with the Airmen including Sammy Davis, Jr., Stan Kenton, Sarah Vaughn, Buddy de Franco, The Four Freshmen, and the leader of the "Tonight Show" band Doc Severinsen.

Sponsors are Salisbury State College, WSBY and WQHQ radio stations.

"How to Relax and Enjoy"

On Tuesday, September 28th the Salisbury State Program Board is presenting How To Relax and Enjoy. This program, presented by author-lecturer Jerry Teplitz, demonstrates and teaches methods of total relaxation, of curing headaches, hangovers, insomnia, as well as teaching you how to energize yourself. He uses a set of systems which he developed from the ancient techniques of meditation, yoga and Shiatsu or pressure-point massage. He is so confident of his methods that he guarantees $4.00 to anyone who is not more relaxed after the program. The program will be held in Holloway Hall Auditorium at 8 PM on Tuesday, September 28th. Tickets are FREE for SSC students and $3 for the public and may be obtained at the College Center Information Desk.

Health Center Open House

The Health Center, located at the south entrance of Holloway Hall, invites all freshmen, new and transfer students to an Open House, Just To Get Acquainted.

Hope to see you on Monday, September 20th or Tuesday, September 21st between 6:30 PM and 7:30 PM at the Health Center.

Federal Testing Information

Counseling Notes

Counseling Services maintains limited evening hours for scheduled appointments. Please contact us at ext. 271, 271 or 327 for further information.

Genesis Hotline
Genesis Hotline, the campus crisis intervention phone service, will begin limited operations on Sunday, September 19. Hours of service will be from 7 pm to 10 pm, seven days per week.

Genesis Hotline will offer training in telephone crisis intervention skills on Friday, October 9th, 7 to 9:30, and on Saturday, October 10, 9 to 4. Anyone interested in learning valuable skills while serving the campus and local community, should contact Counseling Services, ext. 271, 272, 327 or stop by Holloway Hall, Room 230.

Public Safety Notes

Parking
All faculty, staff and students, full-time and part-time are reminded that they should have their 1982-83 parking decals displayed on their vehicles by now. Parking tickets will be issued to unregistered vehicles and/or the parking lot attendants will not allow you to park on campus. Decals may be purchased Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Public Safety Office, Holloway Hall, Room 022.

Students are not allowed to park in faculty/staff spaces and faculty/staff are not allowed to park in student spaces except in evenings as posted in each lot. Evening school students who have their cars registered may park in the library lot after 4 p.m.

Mopeds
We have received many complaints from pedestrians who have almost been hit by mopeds. As a result of this, mopeds are prohibited from driving on all campus sidewalks. Mopeds may be pushed to bike racks to be locked up.

Bicycles
Many people are riding bicycles to campus. Bike racks are provided in convenient locations around campus. Please use the bike racks and use a good lock to prevent theft. The Book Rack has very good bike locks for sale at cost, or the College Center Information Desk has these locks for rent for a modest fee. For more information about bicycle security, contact the Public Safety Office.

Bicycles are not to be taken inside buildings or locked to step railings, trees and light poles, fences, chains, or places other than bike racks. This is for safety reasons as well as for esthetic reasons.

Join MAHE—See Hal Schaffer

All new members of the faculty and administration are invited to join a unique group, the Maryland Association for Higher Education. What is unique about another organization in higher education, you might ask?

MAHE is the only organization within the state which draws members and participants from all segments of higher education. Its active members are individuals from all campuses of the University of Maryland, the state's public colleges and universities, the community colleges, the private colleges and universities and all the state agencies and boards which govern, coordinate and serve these institutions. Its members range from instructors to professors, from counselors to presidents, and last year had 29 institutional members from the above mentioned segments of higher education in the state.

For more information about this group, see Hal Schaffer, director of continuing education.

Senior Portraits

Senior Portraits will be taken October 25th through the 29th. Staggered times will be arranged in order to accommodate rigid schedules and other conflicts. All portraits will be taken in the Nanticoke Room of the College Center.

Evergreen Seeks Staff

There is a search for an Editor-in-Chief (paid position) for the 1982 yearbook. Anyone interested in this position or any other staff positions should contact Bryan Benson (SGA president) or leave name in the SGA Office, Tawes Hall.

Health Center Notes

Flu vaccination time is here again. Vaccination is recommended for all persons (adults and children) who are considered to be at increased risk from infections of the lower respiratory tract, those with chronic health problems such as diabetes, heart disease, lung or kidney disease or severe anemia.

Flu clinics will be held in the William C. Fritz Health Center at 300 West Carroll St. from 1:30 pm to 3:30 pm on October 1st, 8th, 15th and 22nd. There is a $5.00 fee to cover cost of the vaccine, syringe and other administrative costs.

The Salisbury State College Health Center will not be administering flu vaccine this year due to the increased cost of the vaccine.

Parents and Spouses Day

Salisbury State College's 9th Annual Parents and Spouses Day is scheduled for October 16. The Planning Committee has put together an exciting program which includes participation by the administration, faculty, ROTC, Dance Company and the Theater Department, just to name a few.

Full Time Clerical Employees Note

The Clerical Training Institute of the Department of Personnel will hold a course in the Salisbury area this fall. The course, "Time Management and Organization for Clerical Personnel" will be on Friday, November 19, 1982. The cost is $12. Registration deadline is October 29.

Applications are available in the Personnel Office, Holloway Hall, Room 205.

Singing Workshop Set

Persons of all ages who enjoy singing are invited to participate in a six-week workshop, "Folk Singing for Fun," offered by the Office of Continuing Education.

Participants will develop a repertoire of folk songs and learn how to use them in working with groups of all ages such as youth groups, students in the classroom, nursing home residents and senior citizens. The history of folk music in the U.S. and other countries will be discussed.

The class will be taught by Connie Bell, a music educator and former Girl Scout executor. Miss Bell is the compiler of the national Girl Scout song book Sing Together which contains a wide variety of folk songs.

For further information, contact Countinuing Education, ext. 321.

Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

It's time to plant bulbs! Bulb planting is one of my favorite gardening chores. While others love to look through vegetable seed catalogs and imagine their summer harvest, I personally prefer thumbing through the bulb catalogs and imagining my spring daffodils, crocus, etc. Maybe it's because my flowers come out looking more like the pictures than my vegetables do, or maybe it's the comforting thought that those innocuous little brown bulbs are snug in the ground just waiting for the first hint of spring. Few things bring more joy to the heart than the first crocus blooming after the long winter.

Tulips, daffodils, crocus, hyacinths, windflowers and snowdrops can all be planted now. As a general rule, bulbs should be planted twice as deep as they are wide. Light, organic soil is ideal for bulbs. Heavy or compacted soils may be improved by mixing with peat moss or compost. Dig a hole deeper than necessary and backfill with some of the loosened soil before planting. This enables the young roots to penetrate more easily. A little fertilizer in the bottom will give your flowers an extra boost.

SSC's bulb plantings this fall will include tulips, daffodils and grape hyacinths in the Holloway Hall courtyard, tulips and windflowers in the library planters, and crocus in the mall area outside of the Public Safety Office.

Education Department Students

If you plan to student teach in the Spring of 1983, you must take the Education Department Competency Tests. These tests will be given during September and October in Education 300, 304, 305, and 306 classes. If you are not enrolled in one of these classes this semester, please plan to take the tests in General Sessions in the Education Department.

General Sessions for these tests will be held as follows:

Sept. 23, 3:30 - 5:30 p.m - Reading and Writing, Part I - CH-122

Sept. 28, 3:30 - 5:30 p.m. - Reading and Writing, Part I and II - CH-122

Sept. 30, 3:30 - 5:30 p.m. - Writing, Part I and Writing, Part II - CH-122

Communication Services News

by Daniel Gladding

Mail and Distribution (Campus Post Office)

The new academic year has brought on a new student manager in the Campus Post Office. David Zeigler, a history major and one-year veteran of the SSC ranks, assumed this responsibility September 6. He replaces a three and a half year veteran Nick Chamberlain. Nick recently graduated with a business administration degree and is managing Pier 13 (his family's business) in Pocomoke City.

Bulk mailing requirements and guidelines have changed over the summer. We are in the process of preparing a new guidelines sheet. Until it is received, please call in advance of preparing a bulk mailing or arrange for the Service Pool to complete it for you. Call ext. 350 and ask Dave for details and instructions.

Telephone and Telegraph (Switchboard)

Wendy Peters continues as the student switchboard manager chalking up two years of management experience and four years overall service to the college. Working closely with Sara Schoofield, our full-time operator, Wendy schedules the complement of the 24-hour coverage of the PBX and radio communications system. She plans to graduate this December with a degree in business administration. The new Fall 1982 edition of the Campus Telephone Directory was distributed last week. A few minor corrections have been noted thus far. Please notify me if there are any further corrections to be made. A new dirctory will be published in December.

The employees in both the Switchboard and Post Office have new uniforms. Effective this week all employees will be identified by various colored shirts. Green represents the switchboard staff, while red represents the postal clerks and manager and blue represents postal carriers.

Duplication Services

The overload of work has passed and the staff are relatively caught up. The intention of this department is to provide a one-day turnaround on most small jobs. It is important though, that scheduled work including offset jobs such as brochures, stationery, etc. be received on time! The department is staffed with only two full-time employees and a few students with varying schedules. Please try to adhere to the production schedule as outlined by the Public Relations Department.

Special Projects

The auditorium of Holloway Hall is shaping up more every day. The floor of the stage has been entirely sanded down and refinished. New stage lighting has been installed and the two new dressing rooms have been added. The major project remaining is the new window draperies and stage curtains. They will be blue velour with gold fringe attached. They are due sometime in late October. Aloha!

Energy Thoughts to Ponder

by Mark Wilkerson

In his book, Entropy, A New World View, Jeremy Rifkin describes America's energy habit in one word—addiction! This college is no different. Every day I hear complaints about hot water, air conditioning, etc., etc.

Consider this. According to Rifkin, the United States uses more energy per year than all the countries of Western Europe combined, even though their population exceeds ours by 75%. The United States alone produces more electricity per year than the Soviet Union, Japan, West Germany and Great Britain.

The average Haitian uses the equivalent of 68 pounds of coal per year while his American counterpart uses 23,000 pounds per year.

Our energy habits are reprehensible and border immorality.

Most foreign relations experts are predicting another major oil interruption from the Mideast as early as 1985. To those of you who feel you are unduly burdened now—just wait! Unless we change our habits soon, by choice, there may be no choice in the very near future!

I realize the serious nature of my innuendoes. However, I feel that a complete energy program should include a plan by which we can somehow immunize the campus from worldwide energy flow disruptions.

Self-sufficiency should be the ultimate goal for us all, both individually and collectively. I sincerely need some good, sound thoughts as to how we can avoid the impending collision between our unlimited energy wants and the earth's finite energy resources.

Single Sea Gull Club Membership

For those inquiring about single Sea Gull Club Memberships, it is possible for either men or women faculty members to join the club for an annual $50 fee.

SSC/UMES Cooperative Arrangement

In furthering the effectiveness of the SSC/UMES cooperative agreement, Dr. Bellavance and Dr. Hytche have agreed to the creation of a joint human relations/affirmative action committee to hear concerns of students taking course work at other than their own campus. The committee will consist of faculty members from each campus as well as students and the affirmative action officer on each campus. The committee will serve as a hearing board but will entertain a student's request only after normal channels of recourse have been exhausted. Final resolutions of potential problems will remain the responsibility of the chief executive officer of the host campus.

Valid Campus ID

Effective Friday, October 1, valid I.D.'s will be requested of students and staff at designated events and places. Students and staff still needing a valid I.D. may have pictures taken, I.D.'s validated, or cards replaced according to the schedule below:

Public Safety Notes

by Officer Jenny Johnson

For the last several years, student traffic control attendants have been employed by the Department of Public Safety and are posted in each of the lots, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. to control access so that those people who have registered their vehicles can park in assigned areas.

In addition to controlling access to the lots, the traffic control attendants are there to give directions, information and provide assistance to motorists. Since they have been working in the lots, parking complaints have diminished significantly and services have been made more readily available. Traffic control attendants maintain radio contact with the Public Safety office in order to report headlights left on, dead batteries, accident damage, unsafe conditions in the lots, and any other problems.

If you should need assistance, directions or information, the Traffic Control Attendants are there to help.

Luncheon

Secretarial/Clerical Luncheon will be held Thursday, October 7 at Bonanza.

Calendars Available

A limited supply of the Pepsi Cola calendars is now available. Faculty or staff members who need them may pick them up at the Switchboard.

Grad Aide Needed

The Career Planning and Placement Office needs a graduate student to work for approximately 10 hours per week. General responsibilities would include conducting seminars for small groups of undergraduate students, assisting the director and associate director with special projects, assisting undergraduates with basic knowledge in reference to resume preparation and interview skills.

This opportunity is for the entire academic year. Desire to accept responsibility and utilize personal initiative is most helpful. We will train the individual on specific requirements.

For more information, contact the Career Planning and Placement Office, HH 270, or call ext. 389 and ask for Jim Mallory.

Vets Note

Just a reminder that if you were a member of any branch of the Armed Services you may qualify for extra retirement credit. If you have not already been to the Personnel Office to process the necessary paper work, you should consider doing so in the near future. You will need a copy of your military discharge paper—DD 214.

Remember, you must have 10 or more years as an employee of the State of Maryland before you can apply for military credit.

Convention Speaker

Dr. K.E. Wilkerson, associate professor and chairman of communication arts, will present an article on sophistic rhetoric at the annual convention of the Speech Communication Association in Louisville, Ky. in early November.

The essay, "Rhetoric as Diversion: Sophists and Athenian Society," was entered in a competition sponsored by the Rhetorical and Communication Theory Division of the SCA.

"From Hero to Citizen: Persuasion in Early Greece," an essay on Homeric speaking by Dr. Wilkerson, appeared in the spring 1982 issue of Philosophy and Rhetoric.

"Media Ludentia," a critique of William Stephenson's play theory of mass media communication, will appear in either the fall or winter issue of Operant subjectivity, a political science journal published at Kent State University. Dr. Stephenson, professor emeritus and former director of the school of Journalism at the University of Missouri, has written a commentary on the essay which will appear in the same issue.

Annual Competition For Overseas Study To Close Soon

The 1983-84 competition for grants for gradaute study abroad, offered under the Fulbright Program and by foreign governments, universities and private donors, will close on October 31, 1982. Only a few more weeks remain in which qualified graduate students may apply for one of the approximately 500 awards which are available to 50 countries.

Most of the grants offered provide round-trip transportation, tuition and maintenance for one academic year; a few provide international travel only or a stipend intended as a partial grant-in-aid.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens at the time of application, and must generally hold a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before the beginning date of the grant and, in most cases, should be proficient in the language of the host country. Except for certain specific awards, candidates may not hold the Ph.D. at the time of application. Candidates for 1983-84 are ineligible for a grant to a country if they have been doing graduate work or conducting research in that country for six months or more during the academic year 1982-83.

Creative and performing artists are not required to have a bachelor's degree, but they must have four years of professional study or equivalent experience. Social work applicants must have at least two years of professional experience after the Master of Social Work degree. Call Dr. Fusaro, ext. 392 (DSH 302) for information.

Pre-Nursing Students

The application deadline for enrollment in the nursing major for Spring semester, 1983, is October 1, 1982. This applies to those pre-nursing students anticipating registering for Nursing 300 Professional Nursing Concepts, for Spring 1983 as well as other students interested in the major. The application form may be obtained from the Department of Nursing and submitted no later than October 1, 1982. The next application deadline is March 1, 1983.

THANKS FOR HELPING PEOPLE...

When you give to the United Way, you're helping children, teenagers, adults with problems, the sick elderly and handicapped. Give to the United Way...it means so much to so many.

Faculty Openings

We expect three openings for January '83 and Fall '83. Applicants must be able to teach introductory and middle level courses in at least one of the following areas: mathematics; statistics; computer science (with emphasis in structured design). Rank and salary depend on qualifications—good teaching is essential.

Send resume to: Dr. D.C. Cathcart, Department of Mathematical Sciences.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

Medical Technology Students

Juniors who wish to apply for admission to the senior year clinical practicum in the Medical Technology program are urged to attend an informational meeting on Thursday, September 30th at 3:30 p.m. in DSH 110. Application procedures and allied health aptitude test evaluations will be discussed.

Marathoner Here

Rob Sweetgall, lecturer and marathoner, will give a lecture/slide presentation on cardiovascular health on Monday evening, October 4, at 7:00 p.m. in Caruthers Auditorium. He will discuss personal exercise training programs, nutrition's role in athletic performance and "risk factors" associated with cardiovascular disease.

The Foundation for the Development of Cardiovascular Health (FDCH) is sponsoring the lecture.

Sweetgall will present daily lectures to approximately 300,000 junior and senior high school students while traveling 10,000 miles on foot (40 miles per day, "run-walk" style) along the perimeter of the United States.

"Run for American Youth" has already been successfully demonstrated in a Delaware pilot program in March 1982. This program, entitled Delaware "R A Y," included a 600-mile "run-walk" tour (40 miles per day) during which Rob Sweetgall visited 36 schools to speak to 18,000 students.

Campus Vacancy

An opening exists for a housekeeper. The person must be able to pass physical examination prior to hiring. Duties include cleaning floors and restrooms and moving furniture. Deadline for receipt of applications is October 7, 1982. Applications must be submitted to the Personnel Office, room 205, Holloway Hall.

Energy Insight

by Mark W. Wilkerson

At Work. . .
According to the most recent statistics available from the Department of General Services, Plant Management Division, Salisbury State College is faring quite well with regard to energy consumption compared to all other state college and universities. The only real way to compare similar physical complexes such as colleges is to look at BTU's per square foot of building space. This is the most common and equitable yardstick for energy usage data. Following is a list of state colleges and their respective consumptions, showing SSC with least amount of energy per square foot of building:

Institution	BTU/ft. 2
Morgan State	247,626
Bowie State	176,607
Towson State	152,136
Frostburg State	130,682
Univ. of Baltimore	106,987
St. Mary's	106,841
Coppin State	93,817
Salisbury State	93,691

Our September electric bill which covers the period of August 4 through September 3, 1982 was $43,066 for 737,956 KWH's. During this period we realized 260.5 cooling degree days. Last year, during the same period, we were billed $49,438 for 784,865 KWH's at a time when we only had 248.5 cooling degree days.

In short, we used less, it cost less, yet it was hotter by 12 degree days!

At home. . .Energy tip of the week. . .
INSULATE, INSULATE, INSULATE! Not only should your roof, ceiling and walls be well insulated but you should investigate the feasibility of insulating your first story floors and crawl space. You would be surprised at the amount of cold air that can infiltrate through these areas.

Also, consider insulating those windows on the north and west sides of the house. I recommend using 3/4 inch stryofoam which is easy to work with and comes in 2 x 8 foot sheets costing about $4.00 per sheet. Even with storm windows you can greatly reduce your overall heat loss by blocking just the upper portion of your windows.

For additional energy tips, plan to attend Energy Expo '82 this weekend, October 1, 2 and 3 at the Wicomico Youth and Civic Center.

Pre-Business Orientation

All new pre-business majors, or persons considering pre-business as a major, should attend one of the following orientation meetings in Devilbiss Science Hall, Room 149: 1) September 28th, Tuesday, 3:30 p.m.; or 2) October 1st, Friday, 2:30 p.m. If you are unable to attend one of these orientation sessions, report to Holloway Hall, room 302, by October 1st, and give the BUAD/ECON secretary your name and receive appropriate materials.

PARENTS SATISFIED WITH FACILITIES

A questionnaire, distributed to all parents who accompanied incoming students moving into the dormitories last month, has indicated satisfaction with residence facilities. Bob Lovely, housing department director, and his staff conducted the survey to gauge the overall impressions of families on the dorms, furnishings and the staff itself.

Questions pertaining to the cleanliness and condition of the residence halls received an overwhelming positive response. Eighty-seven percent of the families graded the facilities either good or very good.

The physical condition of the individual rooms and furnishings did not fare quite as well. While 56 percent thought they were acceptable, 44 percent rated them fair or poor. The Housing Department is already in the process of developing specs for new furniture for the dorms. Furniture is the top priority item in regard to upgrading the residence halls over the next four years.

Queries about the housing staff, including area directors and resident assistants, earned an excellent rating of 95 percent in the good and very good categories. Families also expressed their appreciation of the Pac Man unloading crew provided by the SSC football team.

Opinions on the variety of life styles in the dormitories provided the expected feedback. Eighty-six percent of the responses indicated that the open visitation and limited visitation options were adequate; 4 percent said they were inadequate and 10 percent did not respond.

PART-TIME MANAGEMENT TRAINEE POSITION

Dresser-Wayne has an opening for a junior or senior, with or without business experience, to work during the day. The student will be trained for a management position. Interested students should contact Mr. Jim Travatello 546-6624.

HILLEL GROUP MEETS

Hal Schaffer, director of the Office of Continuing Education and advisor to the SSC HIllel group, announced the first meeting of the chapter will take place Monday, October 11, at 7 p.m. in room 223 of Holloway Hall.

All members and other interested students are invited. Those who are unable to attend, but who desire to become active, should contact Dr. Schaffer in Holloway Hall, room 140 or call ext. 321.

PHILOSOPHY DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCES

The Philosophy Department announces that Susan Cabral has completed all her degree requirements and will be awarded her Ph.D. in January. Susan's dissertation, "The Role of the Body in Husserl's Transendental Idealism" received "departmental distinction" when she successfully defended it this June. She will also travel to SUNY at Binghamton (the degree granting institution) in October to moderate a discussion at the seventh annual Merleau Ponty Circle.

SIDEWALK SALE

The Athletic Department will hold a sidewalk sale on October 14. Tables will be set up in front of Maggs from 1 to 5 p.m. Many of the articles for sale are new shoes, tennis shorts, jackets, while used items including varsity sports uniforms can also be purchased for a very low price. Stop by and help us clear our shelves of these many unique items.

GRADUATION APPLICATION DEADLINE

Students who intend to complete degree requirements in May 1983, must complete an Application for Diploma in the Registrar's Office by Monday, October 11, 1982. Faculty who are currently teaching upper level courses (300-400 level) are asked to please announce this deadline in their classes.

IRP MEETING

The Institute for Retired Persons (IRP) invites students and faculty to meet for an informal dialogue on issues of mutual concern on Tuesday, October 19, at noon in the Chesapeake Room at the College Center. The forums, held on the third Thursday of each month, are intended to be for an intergenerational exchange of ideas.

OUTDOOR CLUB TO HARPERS FERRY

The next trip of the Outdoor Club will be to Harpers Ferry, West Virginia on October 15, 16, and 17. Activities will include a six or seven mile hike on the Appalachian Trail and/or elementary climbing and rappelling (qualified instruction provided). Interested students, faculty, and staff should attend regular club meetings on Thursdays at 7 p.m. in Tawes 118. For further information, contact club president, Misty Knight, ext. 489.

ORNITHOLOGY ANYONE?

Dr. Robert A. Hedeen, professor of biological sciences, will present the program at the October 20th regular meeting of the Talbot County Bird Club.

Dr. Hedeen's address will deal primarily with the ornithological aspects of his recent book, Naturalist on the Nanticoke, The Natural History of a River on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

The meeting will be held in the Maryland Room of the Loyola Federal Savings & Loan Association in Easton and will start at 7:30 p.m.

Energy Insight

by Mark W. Wilkerson

Your home space heating and cooling systems account for 40 to 50 percent of your total personal energy consumption. After insulating, this is the next logical place to begin when asking yourself what you can do to reduce your own energy costs. You might consider some of the following low to no cost steps by which you can reduce your contributions to the local oil and electric companies.

1. Try to avoid frequent thermostat adjustments. Maintain a constant setting changing it only to lower the night setting and increase the day setting. Never overset your thermostat in hopes that it will work faster. Your system will only overheat and waste energy.

2. During the winter, set your thermostat at the lowest comfortable setting. Consolidate your family activities to a few rooms. Turn the thermostats in those unused rooms down to 45° or 50° and keep these areas isolated.

3. You may save quite a bit by using a kerosene heater in those rooms which are used only for one or two hours a day. These heaters are over 99 percent efficient and offer a clean, safe alternative to the neighborhood monopolies.

4. When expecting a large number of guests, turn your thermostat down and everyone will be more comfortable while you are saving energy.

5. Make sure your thermostat is calibrated and cleaned once a year to assure proper control.

6. Make sure your burner is operating properly. I know of at least one person who saved 50 percent on oil costs by replacing an old oil burner with a new, more efficient burner.

Faculty Openings

We expect three openings for January '83 and Fall '83. Applicants must be able to teach introductory and middle level courses in at least one of the following areas: mathematics; statistics; computer science (with emphasis in structured design). Rank and salary depend on qualifications—good teaching is essential.

Send resume to: Dr. D.C. Cathcart, Department of Mathematical Sciences.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

UMES VACANCY

UMES is seeking applicants for the position of Laboratory Scientist III. Salary $16,599-$23,316 (maximum salary after six years). Qualifications include a bachelor's degree in the biological or chemical sciences plus three years experience in the area of nutritional biochemistry. A master's degree may be substituted for two years of the required experience. For more details contact Linda Ross, Affirmative Action Office, HH-275, ext. 207.

Staff Luncheon

Chicken Noodle Soup
Chili with Rice
Oven Baked Pork Chops with Gravy
Cut Green Beans
Tossed Green Garden Salad
Assorted Dressings
Breads
Assorted Desserts
Fresh Fruit

Hours for the luncheon are from 11:30 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. and the cost is $2.95 per person.

UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN

Pledge cards for contributions to the United Way Campaign were included in all paychecks for full-time employees on Wednesday, October 6, 1982. If you are able to make a donation this year, please return the card to Mrs. Shirley King, Personnel Office, HH 205, before October 29.

Your generosity will be appreciated by all who benefit from United Way agencies.

HOW LAW ENFORCEMENT CAN HELP YOU

by Jim Phillips

The Public Safety and Law Enforcement Department has as one it its objectives presentation of crime prevention programs on campus.

One such example of the cooperative efforts to reduce crime on campus is bicycle theft prevention. Two years ago the Citadel Bike Lock was introduced on campus. With the cooperation of the Book Rack, these bike locks are sold at cost and with cooperation from the College Center, these locks can be rented from the Information Center. Bicycle theft is still a problem on campus, but the students with Citadel locks or other similar products are preventing this crime.

Another service provided by Public Safety is the availability of officers to give talks to students in the residence halls regarding protection of property and personal protection. Any student, faculty, staff member or visitor of college who would like to can request our services at any time.

With the help of the Salisbury State Program Board, a rape prevention program was held last year in Holloway Hall Auditorium. This program was very well received by the campus community. We are hopeful that a similar program can be presented this year.

With the continued support and interest of the different departments on campus, we feel our crime prevention efforts are very worthwhile.

We hope that you will take advantage of these services. I am confident that they can help you.

Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

Chrysanthemums seem to be appearing everywhere this week. Bright spots of yellow, maroon, lavender and white are dressing up many front yards.

The prettiest plants you see were probably purchased from a garden center this year. They generally sell for two to three dollars. Potted chrysanthemums are often treated by florists with a chemical that shortens their height without reducing their blossom size. Often gardeners are surprised to see the full, bushy plant they bought last year come up leggy and spindly. To keep this from happening, young plants should be pinched back in the spring when they become six inches tall and again every couple of weeks. In late August the pinching should be stopped to allow the flower buds to develop.

Chrysanthemums lose their vigor after a few years so the old plants must be replaced. A few spring cuttings, fall divisions, or new plants every year will usually fill in the gaps without costing too much.

The college has new chrysanthemums scattered around the campus. We hope to continue adding a few more every year.

YOU'RE A RARE PERSON...

If you never use United Way services. There are very few families that are not touched by boy scouting, girl scouting, swimming lessons at the Y or the need for the Red Cross Blood Center during surgery. In the good times and the bad, United Way is the place to turn for help.

Black Student Union Sponsors Concert

The University of Maryland-Eastern Shore Stage, Jazz and Show Band will present a concert in Holloway Auditorium on Thursday, October 14, at 8 p.m. Sponsor is the SSC's Black Student Union.

The program is under the direction of Rev. Kenneth A. Martin, Sr., who has developed a fine organization since his arrival on the campus at UMES in August 1976.

Hailed as a "Soul Explosion" Show Band, it is an outgrowth of the jazz and stage band era and provides music from the top forties to the present, including music from the contemporary rock, punk, punk rock and the country themes.

The UMES Band has made numerous appearances at colleges, universities and high schools in Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania and D.C. It played for the National 4-H Convention and the Regional Meeting of the Hotel and Restaurant Management Association.

Solidarity Member to Speak Here

Anna Olszewska of Warsaw, Poland, who is a member of the Communist Party and was a member of the recent labor union, Solidarity, will speak in the Nanticoke Room of the College Center, on Thursday, October 21, at 7:30 p.m. The program is sponsored by the Sociology/Anthropology and Leisure Studies Department of the college.

The speaker will discuss the origins of Solidarity, the problems it has encountered and its future.

Mrs. Olszewska is also a sociologist of leisure and work. She will visit classes on SSC's campus.She is currently president of the International Sociological Association's Research Committee on Sociology. She was invited to Salisbury State by Dr. Philip Bosserman, professor of sociology, who has known her on the committee for ten years.

Dr. Bellavance Moderates Series

Dr. Thomas Bellavance will moderate the second annual Friday Night Lecture Series, October 15 from 7-9 p.m. in Caruthers Hall, room 118. The subject is: "The Future of Public Education in the United States."

Presenters will be Dr. Harold Fulton, superintendent of schools for Wicomico County, and Franklin Lynch, headmaster at Worcester Country School in Berlin. Md. A discussion period will follow.

Computer Center Sunday Hours

The Computer Center will be open for Sunday hours, starting October 10, 1982 from 12 Noon to 8:00 p.m. throughout the fall semester.

Counseling Holds Four Workshops

There will be a workshop on Weight Control with Kathy Grout. It is a one hour session to help you calculate how many calories you burn up in a 24 hour period—even while sleeping and studying. In a fun, relaxed setting, join Kathy on Tuesday, October 19, at 3:00 p.m. in the College Center, Chesapeake Room.

Another will be a workshop on Time Mangement with Terry Martin. Do you feel: "pressed for time?"; "time running out?"; are you "spinning your wheels?" If so, consider attending this one-session workshop. Topics: How to schedule effectively; prioritizing tasks; avoiding the paper shuffle; saying "no"; creating more leisure time; making the most of life—timewise. It will be held on Tuesday, October 19, at 3:00 p.m. in the College Center, Nanticoke Room.

Still another workshop will be Progressive Relaxation with Bob McBrien. Deep muscle relaxation is a skill that can be learned by most persons. Studies show that this meditative-like experience can be beneficial in stress situations, for coping with anxieties and fears, for lowering pain and to improve concentration. Participants are encouraged to dress comfortably and tape recorders are permitted. The program will begin at 4:00 p.m. on Wednesday, October 20 in the College Center, Manokin Room.

A final workshop will be Stress Management Workshop with Bob McBrien. This workshop is designed to help students undertand and cope with stress. During the workshop, participants will: 1) Learn what stress is and how the body responds to it; 2) Identify sources of stress; 3) Identify ineffective coping methods; and 4) Learn effective methods including time budgeting and relaxation techniques. Participants are encouraged to dress comfortably for this workshop on Monday, October 25 at 4:00 p.m. in the College Center, Manokin Room.

Weather Station

Salisbury State College now has an official weather station on campus. The station belongs to the Geography Department and was installed by the SSC carpenters. It is located on the west side of the maintenance building and at first glance looks like a white box on stilts.

The instruments in the station can measure temperature, relative humidity, rainfall, atmospheric pressure and solar radiation. Information gathered can be used for climatic research, irrigation planning, storm data and official records.

If you would like more information about our weather station contact Dr. Rosing at ext. 361, or Dr. Block at ext. 391.

Business Faculty

The Department of Business Administration and Economics has three tenure-track positions open for Spring 1983 and Fall 1983. The positions involve undergraduate and MBA instruction. Seeking qualified applicants for accounting, management science/marketing, and finance/economics. Ph.D. or DBA or appropriate terminal degree desired for assistant/associate professor ranks. Applicants should have strong teaching, student oriented interests. Send letter of application and vita to Dr. J.G. To: Faculty, Staff & Administration

A weekly Christian Fellowship led by Dr. Jerome Lake, will be held every Thursday during the fall semester beginning October 14, 1982, from 12:30 to 1:30 in Manokin Room 101 of the College Center except on December 2, 1982, at which time they will meet in Nanticoke Room 102 of the College Center.

Keene Concert

The Music Department will present Penelope Keene, soprano, accompanied by Dr. Arthur L. Delpaz, chairman of the music department, in recital, at the First Presbyterian Church of Milford, Del. on Sunday, October 17th at 4:00 p.m.

Mrs. Keene holds a master's degree in voice from Radford University. Currently living in Seaford, Del., she teaches voice there and is director of the Chancel Choir of Seaford's St. John's Methodist Church.

A graduate student of Norma Heyde here at SSC, she will be singing the recital on the campus and at other places, on later dates in the year.

RA Positions Available

Students interested in applying for a Resident Assistant position for either next spring semester or Fall 1983, may pick up application forms at the Housing Office, room 131 Holloway Hall beginning Friday, October 15. Candidates must attend a one-day training program on Saturday, November 6 and an interview on November 7.

Successful candidates must have a strong commitment to their own personal growth and development and be willing to work to enrich the educational environment in the residence halls. Applicants must also be in good academic standing. RA candidate training may not be offered next spring semester. Deadline for submitting applications is Friday, October 29.

Club Sponsors Lecture

"What is the Role of the U.S. in the Arab-Israeli Conflict" is the subject of discussion by a visiting lecturer at Salisbury State College on Friday, October 15 at 7:30 p.m. in room 122, Caruthers Hall.

Dr. Edmund R. Hanauer, founder of the peace organization, "Search for Justice and Equality in Palestine," will speak to the SSC audience under sponsorship of the HIstory and Political Science Club.

Dr. Hanauer received his Ph.D. in political science from American University and through his organization, "Search," has lectured and been involved in educational work directed at journalists, church organizations and policy makers for 10 years. "Search believes that justice for Palestinian Arabs and security for Israeli Jews are interdependent and not mutually exclusive."

Seniors Invited to Seek Rhodes Honors

Salisbury State seniors have been invited by the Rhodes Scholarship Trust to make application for the famous Rhodes scholarships, it was announced recently.

Dr. Charles B. Clark, chairman of the History and Political Science Department, has been named to serve as the SSC representative for Rhodes Scholarship competition, by Dr. Joel Rodney, vice president for academic affairs.

Dr. Clark says that these scholarships provide two (sometimes three) years of study at Oxford University. Thirty-two outstanding American students are chosen for this high honor each December on the basis of intellectual achievement, physical vigor, leadership, and devotion to the public good. Each of the fifty state selection committees chooses two finalists to compete in eight geographically determined districts. Maryland and the District of Columbia are grouped with New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, and West Virginia.

Dr. Clark will have the assistance of a committee including Dr. A. Nayland Page, professor of history and former vice president for academic affairs and acting president at SSC; Professor William E. Palmer, chairman of modern languages; Dr. John Molenda, chiarman of biology; and Dr. Edward G. Senkbeil of the Chemistry/Physical Science Department faculty.

Trip to Philadelphia on Schedule

For the fall semester, the sole English Department/College Center theater trip will be on Thursday, November 11th to the Annenberg Center in Philadelphia to see Wycherley's The Country Wife. Produced by The Acting Company of John Houseman, Wycherley's Restoration sex comedy centers on the exploits of a rake appropriately named Horner. Horner has it falsely reported that he is impotent so that he may gain access to the respectable ladies of the town. While the husbands smirk at Horner's supposed incapacity, he freely entertains their wives in his apartment, under the pretext of showing them his china collection. To discover how far Horner's debauchery carries him in a world of hypocrites and fops, go see this famous satiric comedy.

Tickets at $10.00 each for students go on sale at the Information Desk in the College Center on October 18th. Faculty and staff may purchase tickets at $12.00 each beginning November 3rd. Ticket price includes bus transportation to and from the Annenberg Center. For further information, call the Information Desk (ext. 395) or Bill Horne (ext. 482).

Staff Luncheon

Tuesday, October 19

Rhodes Scholarships Applicants

Seniors interested in learning more about Rhodes Scholarships should consult with their department heads or with Charles B. Clark (History/Political Science Department), SSC's representative for Rhodes Scholarship competition. This should be accomplished at once, since applications are due November 1.

Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

At this time of year I find myself looking more and more into the treetops. The fall change of colors is a long, slow show and I don't want to miss any of it.

The show is triggered by days that are becoming shorter and nights that are getting cooler. These clues cause the trees to start forming a layer of thick cells at the base of the petiole. These cells halt the flow of nutrients from the tree to the leaf. Without these nutrients green chlorophyll cannot be produced, and slowly the underlying yellow pigments are revealed.

One beauty of the show is that if is different every year. An early frost may kill the leaves while a warm cloudy autumn may dull the colors. Ideal fall weather is cool nights followed by warm, sunny days. Such conditions cause the leaves to transform leftover sugar in the leaves into red pigment.

Already on campus one can see the dogwood leaves turning scarlet, the walnuts turning yellow, and the sugar maples with their breathtaking combinations of red, yellow, green and orange. Enjoy!

Homecoming!

Saturday (October 23) climaxes SSC's week-long celebration of Homecoming '82 with the football game, two dances and the parade in the spotlight.

Students will vie for prizes by wearing the appropriate attire on Wednesday with Hat & Sunglasses Day, on Thursday with T-Shirt Day and on Friday with Maroon & Gold Day. Student-made banners will also be on display throughout the campus.

Friday will also feature the Loco-Motion Vaudeville group, a theatrical production of circus artistry, acrobatic movements, characters and comic situations reminiscent of the vaudeville era, at 1 p.m. on the campus mall. That evening, the SSC Theatre Department will present its initial production of the semester, Ken Kesey's One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest at 8:30 p.m. in Caruthers Auditorium.

Also, a pep rally and bonfire are scheduled at 8 p.m. next to Tawes Hall.

The Homecoming Parade starts at 10:30 a.m., beginning in Caruthers Hall parking lot and ending in the parking lot next to Devilbiss Hall. The parade route will be entirely on campus this year and features as the theme, "Love Your Fantasy." The winning floats will be announced at halftime of the football game.

Following the Homecoming Luncheon, two traditional events are featured: the football game at Sea Gull Stadium at 1:30 p.m. and the Anniversary Tea in the Social Room at 2 p.m.

The football team faces Kean College, seeking its third consecutive Homecoming victory. At halftime, the Homecoming Queen will be crowned and the float and banner winners will be annoucned.

Four separate events dot that evening's calendar. One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest continues at 8:30 p.m., again in Caruthers Hall. The Eastern Shore Opera Society presents the Eastern Opera Theatre of New York's production of Puccini's La Boheme in Holloway Hall. Call 546-0205 for details.

The annual student Homecoming Dance will be held in Maggs Physical Activities Center beginning at 9 p.m. and featuring the Top 40 group New Diablos.

Also at 9 p.m., the SSC Alumni Association will sponsor an informal jam session in the Campus Pub.

Fields Named Assistant Dean

John H. Fields, who has been associated with the SSC student placement and student services for five years, has been appointed assistant dean of students.

Fields spent his undergraduate college days at Salisbury State, where is 1976 he received his bachelor of art degree and he was a star running back on the SSC football team.

He and Leon Burks, now assistant director of admissions and financial aid, were star players on the Sea Gull team and helped the college begin its successful football program.

Fields started his career as a counselor on the Wicomico County Board of Education and for one year was a counselor at the University of Maryland-Eastern Shore.

Among his duties as assistant dean of SSC will be assisting with administration of student life, serving as campus judicial administrator, co-advisory student organizations, directing minority affairs, and organizing special events.

SSC Art Cooperative Programs

An agreement between Salisbury State College and six U.S. design studios for art cooperative programs has just been approved by the Board of Trustees of the State Universities and Colleges. They are: Art Institute of Atlanta, Art Institute of Fort Lauderdale, Art Insitute of Houston, Art Institute of Philadelphia, Art Insitute of Pittsburgh and Colorado Institute of Art.

Students completing their two year course of study at the various design schools may transfer into SSC to continue work toward a bachelor of art degree. Students from SSC will be able to attend for one or more quarters in any of those schools for more specialized program in areas of interior design, fashion illustration or additional work in commercial art and photography.

The SSC Art Department presently has approximately one hundred art majors in four areas of concentration: visual communications, two-dimensional design studio, three-dimensional design studio and art history. Since the art major approval by the State Board for Higher Education in January 1982, the art curriculum has developed more specialized courses to give added depth in the core requirements and areas of concentration. The SSC program offers forty-one undergraduate courses.

For more information pertaining to the art program contact the Art Department chairman, James L. Burgess at ext. 215.

Theatre to Present One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest opens SSC Theatre's 1982-83 season Friday at 8:30 p.m. in Caruthers Auditorium.

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest concerns Randall McMurphy, a prisoner who is committed to a mental hospital. The ward in which he finds himself is dominated by the authoritarian Nurse Ratched. How McMurphy challenges her dominance and changes the lives of the other patients in the ward makes up the bulk of the story.

Cuckoo's Nest will be performed on October 22, 23, 28, 29 and 30 at 8:30 p.m., with a special Sunday matinee at 2:30 p.m. on October 24.

For ticket information call ext. 498.

Enrollment Figures Out

SSC's official Fall 1982 enrollment figures just released, indicate a slight increase over last year.

Linda Ross, director of institutional research, indicated in a report that the number of full-time undergraduates for 1982 was 2,877, an increase of 75 over last year's total of 2,802.

The FTE total (full-time equivalent) was up 51. Last year's total was 3,426, while the new tally was 3,477. Total enrollment on campus—undergraduates, graduates and special students—was virtually the same. It showed 4,349 in 1981 and 4,341 in 1982.

Faculty Openings

We expect three openings for January '83 and Fall '83. Applicants must be able to teach introductory and middle level courses in at least one of the following areas: mathematics; statistics; computer science (with emphasis in structured design). Rank and salary depend on qualifications—good teaching is essential.

Send resume to: Dr. D.C. Cathcart, Department of Mathematical Sciences.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

Trip to Philadelphia on Schedule

For the fall semester, the sole English Department/College Center theater trip will be on Thursday, November 11th to the Annenberg Center in Philadelphia to see Wycherley's The Country Wife. Produced by The Acting Company of John Houseman, Wycherley's Restoration sex comedy centers on the exploits of a rake appropriately named Horner. Horner has it falsely reported that he is impotent so that he may gain access to the respectable ladies of the town. While the husbands smirk at Horner's supposed incapacity, he freely entertains their wives in his apartment, under the pretext of showing them his china collection. To discover how far Horner's debauchery carries him in a world of hypocrites and fops, go see this famous satiric comedy.

Tickets at $10.00 each for students go on sale at the Information Desk in the College Center on October 18th. Faculty and staff may purchase tickets at $12.00 each beginning on November 3rd. Ticket price includes bus transportation to and from the Annenberg Center. Departure will be at 2:15 p.m. on November 11th from the Maggs circle. For further information, call the Information Desk (ext. 395) or Bill Horne (ext. 482).

History Archives to be Located Here

Two SSC professors have been awarded a grant by the Salisbury State College Foundation to establish a Delmarva Peninsula history archives on the college campus.

Mrs. Sylvia Bradley, assistant professor, and Dr. G. Ray Thompson, professor, have already started collecting different materials for the Delmarva repository. The campus location for this special Eastern Shore "museum" will be announced later.

The project is part of a Public History Program recently announced by the college. It is anticipated that in the near future eight history courses will be incorporated into the transcriptions, diaries, letters and other records. It will be possible for the public to research regional and family history.

Dr. Thompson and Mrs. Bradley welcome any contributions of materials and information about records or materials and urge interested parties to direct inquiries to them at the college.

program and many of the students taking these courses will be involved in collecting these history archives.

Many local records will be copied and housed under "one roof" at Salisbury State. Also included will be microfilm, xeroxed documents,

Training Session to be Held

Public Safety is hosting a training session on the use of the Petition for Emergency Evaluation, on Tuesday, October 25 from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the Chesapeake Room of the College Center.

The Petition for Emergency Evaluation is used in situations of psychological emergencies when an individual is in immediate need of psychological evaluation and is involuntarily involved in this evaluation.

The session will be taught by Officer Richard Hann, Baltimore County Police Department, Psychological Services Section, under the direction of Dr. Paul McClelland, director of psychiatric services, Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems.

Participants in the session will be the SSC health center nurses, housing area directors, dean of students office, counselors from the counseling center, campus police officers, and other members of the college crisis team.

Phi Alpha Theta to Meet

Phi Alpha Theta, the international history honorary society, will hold a meeting on October 26, at 3:30 p.m., in the Third Floor Lounge of Holloway Hall.

The officers this year are: Debra Wahl, president; Larry Smith, vice president; Karen Benson, secretary; Ms; Clara Small, treasurer; and Gloria Horner, historian.

Any student with twelve hours of history (B average) and a B average in 2/3 or other college course work is eligible to be considered for membership in the honor society. Fall initiation will be held November 7, at 6:30 p.m. in the Social Room of Holloway Hall. Anyone interested in becoming a member should contact Dr. Ray Thompson (HH 372, ext. 479) or Ms. Clara Small (HH 363, ext. 476) by October 26.

Secretary Needed

A full time secretary position is presently available in the Administrative Services Department. Interested persons should apply to the Personnel Department as soon as possible.

RA Positions Available

Students interested in applying for a Resident Assistant position for either next spring semester or Fall 1983, may pick up application forms at the Housing Office, room 131 Holloway Hall beginning Friday, October 15. Candidates must attend a one-day training program on Saturday, November 6 and an interview on November 7.

Successful candidates must have a strong commitment to their own personal growth and development and be willing to work to enrich the educational environment in the residence halls. Applicants must also be in good academic standing. RA candidate training may not be offered next spring semester. Deadline for submitting applications is Friday, October 29.

Higher Education Topic Next Friday Night Lecture

Dr. George Funaro, duputy commissioner of the Maryland State Board for Higher Education will be the presenter in the second Friday Night Lecture Series of the fall, October 22.

His topic will be "The Future of Higher Education in the U.S. in General and in Maryland in Particular" and the moderator will be Dr. Joel Rodney, vice president for academic affairs.

The presentation will be held in Caruthers Hall, room 118, and all members of the SSC campus community and the public are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Pre-Business Session Held on Campus

Salisbury State's business administration professional staff held a two-day Pre-Business Course Orientation for all freshman and sophomore pre-business majors recently in SSC's Devilbiss Hall.

Purpose of the orientation was to offer highlights of SSC'S four-year program, introduce professors, expose those attending to career opportunities and prepare for spring pre-registration.

Present for the session were the Business and Economics Society, Delta Mu Delta and Sigma Beta Lambda, honorary societies and the student chapters of the National Association of Accountants.

Any area persons interested who did not attend the pre-business orientation should contact the SSC Business and Administration Office.

Price Waterhouse Holds Seminar

Chip Voneiff and Rick Santa from the Recruiting Office of Price, Waterhouse and Company will conduct a seminar on campus in room 118 Caruthers Hall, on Thursday, October 21, at 3:30 p.m. Sponsor is the Delmarva chapters of the National Association of Accountants.

The program topic will be "How to Land a Job in Accounting." The representatives will talk and a "question-and-answer" period will follow.

Price, Waterhouse and Company is among the "Big Eight" accounting firms in the country.

Open Invitation to all Faculty

The first alumni art exhibition will be held in the College Center, Saturday, October 23rd, 9 a.m. - 12 noon. Everyone is welcome to attend this casual SSC Homecoming event.

Unique features will be a "jam session" and a cash bar.

Outdoor Club

The next Outdoor Club trip will be on November 12th, 13th, and 14th to Caledonia State Park in Pennsylvania. Activities will include caving and/or backpacking. This trip and other club activities will be discussed at regular club meetings on Thursdays at 7 p.m. in Tawes 118.

Present Program at Washington

At the invitation of the National Council of Teachers of English, four area teachers, their county supervisor, and an SSC professor will go to Washington, D.C. in November to explain Wicomico County's new Speaking/Listening curriculum for grades 7-12.

Teachers Lynn McDade and Rebecca Rayne of Wicomico Jr. High School and Charlene Mills and Anna Carey of Bennett Sr. High will speak about their work in planning and teaching from the new curriculum on Saturday, Nov. 20 at the Washington Hilton. Supervisor Sandra Prillaman, who will moderate the session, says the new curriculum is a significant addition to the county language arts program.

Dr. Dick Walker, associate professor of Education at SSC, assisted in the design and assessment of the Speaking and Listening curriculum. Walker, who will evaluate the session for NCTE, says the new curriculum has effected a number of positive changes in students' speaking and listening performance. According to Walker, test results show increased achievement in both the speaking and listening of students involved in the curriculums' activities.

Wicomico County's new speaking and listening curriculum is the first of its kind in the state. A product of collaborative effort involving a school district, a college, and the state department, the curriculum is now published by the Maryland State Dept. of Education. Several counties in Maryland are presently considering adoption of the curriculum in the near future.

Supply Clinic Set

Halloween Concert

Ghosts, goblins, skeletons, vampires—you name it—will be in evidence on the stage of Holloway Hall this coming Halloween evening at 6 p.m. when the Salisbury State College Concert Band presents a program of music frequently associated with this seasonal celebration.

Final selections after intermission will include an arrangement of the toccato section of Johann Sebastian Bach's "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" for organ, a contemporary composition by Norman Della Joio entitled "Satiric Dances," and the Moussorgsky favorite, "Night on Bald Mountain."

The Salisbury community is encouraged to attend this special program beginning at 6 p.m. on Sunday, evening, October 31. Please note that this is a change from the original publicized time of 4:00. Admission is free.

Bach's Toccata has long been used to enhance media events which deal with suspense, horror, monsters, etc. While many music purists have objected to assigning such extra-musical connotations to a great work of art, there is no evidence as yet to substantiate any disagreement on the part of the composer, however, his spirit might appear during the program as a form of protest. "Night on Bald Mountain" is based on Russian mythology, particularly the story which depicts a Witches Sabbath and Black Mass on June 24th, the date of St. John's Eve, an annual event which is said to occur on Mount Triglav near the city of Kiev. The myth closely parallels the celebration of Halloween and the cessation of the night's revelry with the rising of the sun and the tolling of the church bell that signals the holy day known as All Saints Day.

To make the band's presentation more meaninful and somewhat out of the ordinary, the members of the band will wear appropriate costumes for this portion of the program and the stage will be adorned with special lighting and scenery.

The first half of the concert will feature a traditional fare of compositions written for or transcribed for band performance. The opener is the patriotic march by Clifton Williams, "The Patriots," followed by Howard Hanson's "Chorale and Alleuia." "On the Mall" march represents the selection written by Edwin Franko Goldman for the dedication of the Central Park Bandstand in New York in 1923. Another Russian composer, Nicholas Rimsky-Korsakov, composed the triumphal march "Procession of the Nobles" as part of a suite taken from his opera Mlada. To close the first portion of the concert, the brass and percussion will remain on stage for Aaron Copland's exciting "Fanfare for the Common man."

Wiessmann to Speak on West Germany

Mr. Hans Wiessmann, the Deputy Director of the German Information Center in New York, will speak in CH 118 on Monday, November 1, at 3:30 p.m. His lecture on "West Germany Today" is sponsored by the History and Political Science Club and is open to the public.

Mr. Wiessmann will discuss recent developments in West Germany and will examine his nation's relationship to East Germany.

From 1974-78 Mr. Wiessmann was a member of the special section for East German relations of the German Chancellery in Bonn. From 1978-81 he was the special assistant to the government spokesman (press secretary) for Chancellor Helmut Schmidt, and since then he has served as Deputy Director of the German Information Center in New York, the only facility of this type maintained by the West German government.

Mr. Wiessmann is uniquely qualified to comment on the contemporary German scene. All faculty and students are invited to attend his lecture.

Korean Exhibition On Now

Salisbury State College is showing from now until November 14 in its Gallery in Blackwell Library "Korean Drawing Now," the first exhibition of contemporary drawings from that century to be held in the U.S.

The exhibition of 94 drawings by 47 of Korea's leading young artists were selected by Brooklyn Museum Curator Gene Baro from hundreds of drawings assembled in Korea by Yoon Tak, director of the National Museum of Morern Art, Seoul.

This 1982-84 tour was organized by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service and coincides with the centennial of diplomatic relations between Korea and the U.S.

Bev Newnam Named to Board

Ms. Beverly Newnam, Salisbury State College director of Financial Aid, has been appointed by Governor Harry Hughes to the Maryland State Scholarship Board.

On the state board, Newnam and other members will administer and select virtually all of the state funded scholarship programs.

Other members of the board include a state college or university president, president of a private college and president of a community college or their nominees. They also include representative of a public high school and four residents of the state who have an interest in higher education. Ms. Newnam is the only college or university financial aid officer on the board.

Elinor Haas Departs

Elinor Haas, Administrative Services Dept., left the college on October 26 to join her recently transferred husband in Rochester, New York.

During her SSC employment she served as a temporary clerical employee in the Maintenance Department and Public Relations before being hired full time in the Department of Business and Finance. Last year she accepted the position of secretary for Administrative Services.

Trip to Philadelphia on Schedule

For the fall semester, the sole English Department/College Center theater trip will be on Thursday, November 11th to the Annenberg Center in Philadelphia to see Wycherley's The Country Wife. Produced by The Acting Company of John Houseman, Wycherley's Restoration sex comedy centers on the exploits of a rake appropriately named Horner. Horner has it falsely reported that he is impotent so that he may gain access to the respectable ladies of the town. While the husbands smirk at Horner's supposed incapacity, he freely entertains their wives in his apartment, under the pretext of showing them his china collection. To discover how far Horner's debauchery carries him in a world of hypocrites and fops, go see this famous satiric comedy.

Tickets at $10.00 each for students go on sale at the Information Desk in the College Center on October 18th. Faculty and staff may purchase tickets at $12.00 each beginning on November 3rd. Ticket price includes bus transportation to and from the Annenberg Center. Departure will be at 2:15 p.m. on November 11th from the Maggs circle. For further information, call the Information Desk (ext. 395) or Bill Horne (ext. 482).

You are invited to attend the Phy. Science Dept. Seminar being held Friday, Oct. 20, at 1:30 p.m. in DSH 322. Sandy Robbins will be talking on, "Photovoltaics."

Outdoor Club

The next Outdoor Club trip will be on November 12th, 13th, and 14th to Caledonia State Park in Pennsylvania. Activities will include caving and/or backpacking. This trip and other club activities will be discussed at regular club meetings on Thursdays at 7 p.m. in Tawes 118.

Attention Clerical Staff!

The monthly luncheon will be on Thursday, November 4, from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Bonanza. Hope to see you there.

Gives Program to Library

Dr. Florence F. Pritchard, assistant professor of education, has donated a program of test-taking skills to Blackwell Library for the benefit of students in grades four through nine.

Dr. Pritchard said that program contains student booklets for each of 15 skills, with reproduceable materials and a teacher's guide for teachers to work with.

Winter Term Dates Changed

The third annual winter term at Salisbury State College has been rescheduled. The new dates are Monday, January 3, to Friday, January 28. It was originally scheduled to begin the last week in December. Announcement was made by Hal Schaffer, director of Continuing Education.

The change was based upon the following: The continuing effort on the part of the college to conserve energy and fuel bills; a colder winter than usual has been forecast; the new dates will enable those students and faculty who will participate to have a brief vacation period following the fall semester which ends December 23; and it will enable those administrative offices which are constantly under pressure of deadlines and work volume to take advantage of a brief vacation period during the Christmas Holidays.

Despite its intensity, the winter term will still enable those students who desire to accelerate their degree programs to maintain their academic standing and to pick up courses they are closed out of during the regular fall and spring semesters. Also newly admitted freshman and transfer students may enroll in courses which are generally difficult to register for during the regular semesters.

Most of the 21 courses scheduled during the morning and early afternoon hours will meet in two hour blocks, for 20 class meetings. The nine courses scheduled for late afternoon and evening hours will meet in two and one-half hour blocks, four evenings per week.

SSC students are advised to meet with their faculty advisors prior to registering for the winter term. Students are also advised to consider the intensity of this schedule if they desire to register for two courses.

Courses scheduled during morning and early afternoon hours are: Art 104, Art Appreciation; Biology 105, Biology and Society; Biology 216, Human Anatomy and Physiology; Biology 217, Nutrition; Business Administration 203, Orientation to Business Management; Communication Arts 110, Introduction to Mass Media; Communication 350, Studies in Communication: Masks for Theatre-history, design and performance; Computer Science 280, Job Control Language; CoSci 284, programming: Fortran; Economics 201, Macro-Economic Principles; English 102, Principles of Literature; English 210, The Short Story; English 322, Literature and Film; Geography and Regional Planning 110, Introduction to Geography; History 101, World Civilization; Mathematical Sciences 150, Algebra and Calculus; Physical Education 490, Selected Topics in P.E. (Intermediate Scuba Diving); Political Science 110, American National Government; Psychology 210, General Psychology; Psych 300, Developmental Psychology; Phychology 405, Abnormal Psychology; and Social Work 271, Introduction to Social Work.

"The late afternoon and evening program has been expanded to afford those persons who work full time an opportunity to continue their education," said Dr. Schaffer.

The following courses will be offered during the late afternoon and evening hours: Business Administration 213, Personal Finance; Communication Arts 160, Communication to Business; Computer Science 184, Survey of Data Processing; Education 407, Audio-Visual Methods in Teaching; Geography and Regional Planning 201, Physical Geography (Weather and Climate); History 490, Special Topics in History; History 504, Seminar in European History (The Ancient World); and Political Science 210, Introduction to International Relations.

Two sections of Intermediate Scuba Diving will be offered in the Bahamas, the first from January 6 to 10 and the second from January 11 to 15.

Winter term bulletins and registration materials will be available during registration week, from Monday, November 15, to Wednesday, November 24. Students are urged to register early. Registration is on a first come, first served basis.

State regulations require the winter term to be self-supporting. The college reserves the right to cancel any class and to close any facility for which there is insufficient demand.

For further information about the winter term and other continuing education programs, contact the Office of Continuing Education, at 546-3261, ext. 321.

Energy Insight

by Mark W. Wilkerson

Quite a few people have jokeingly asked "why not install a couple dozen windmills on campus and declare our independence from our beloved power company?" I sincerely wish I could prescribe such an "answer" for both the campus and your personal uses, however there are problems which render the windmill cost *in*effective for our area.

If you happened to visit the Energy Expo '82 that was held at the Civic Center the first weekend in October you probably noticed the working windmill. I was quite excited by the fact that such a little breeze could turn the windmill as fast as it was turning. Upon investigation I was disheartened to find a motor driving this windmill for demonstration purposes. Furthermore, there was a map of the Delmarva Peninsula showing where windmills are in fact, cost effective.

Unfortunately, Salisbury is not a "windmill feasible" area. However, if you do live either on the bay or the ocean, you may want to seriously consider generating your own electricity in this manner. You need an average windspeed of 14-15 mph year round to make a windmill practical. The average windspeed inland, on the peninsula, varies between 10-12 mph.

Wind is a splendid idea! In certain places I'm sure it will prove to be a valuable energy source. However, around here we'll need an alternative other than wind to help us win the energy war.

Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

There are many different ways to deal with the leaves which find their way to your lawn every fall, but some methods are better than others.

First there's the "let sleeping leaves lie" method. This is the favorite of many folks and while it does conserve valuable human energy unfortunately it is not very good for the lawn. The leaves tend to stay damp and increase the growth of fungi, which means an increased chance of turf diseases. Worst of all the leaves block sunlight to the grass plants during their most critical growth times, late fall and early spring.

The method used at SSC is the "chop-them-in-little pieces-and-hope-the-wind-blows" method. This works very well provided that you have the two necessary things. First you need a mulching screen, which is an attachment you put on a mower that chops the leaves into little pieces. The second thing you need is a windy day.

The last method is the "rake them all into a big pile" method. This method is the most fun, especially for children. Unfortunately, for adults, the fun usually wears off after four hours. There are three variations on this method. First there are the "burners" who light their leaves on fire. This smells great but it is illegal so I wouldn't advise it. Second are the "baggers." While this method seems to be the neatest, I find something distasteful about seeing six bags of natural, degradable leaves wrapped in $1.50 worth of plastic, nondegradable bags waiting to be taken to the dump in a gas guzzling truck. The third variation on the "one big pile" method is the "composter." This way is natural, cheap, and good for your plants. Simply rake all the leaves into one out of the way corner of your yard. Wetting the pile down prevents the leaves from blowing away and/or being jumped on by children. These wet leaves will form a natural mulch which can be used instead of store bought products. Plants like roses and azaleas, with surface roots, appreciate a mulch over their roots to protect them from the cold winter weather.

The mulch should be removed early in the spring to give the ground a chance to be warmed by the sun. If you plant a vegetable garden roto-till the leaves into the soil. This will add organic matter and improve the texture of the soil. You tend to look at your fall leaves a little differently if you know they mean better broccoli and prettier flowers.

Happy Raking!

You Can Join National Safety Group

Students interested in occupational safety and health or driver and traffic safety are eligible for a special membership in the National Safety Council, the Council says.

The Council is offering student membership rates for persons enrolled for academic credit in a post-secondary educational institution. The cost is $20.

Student members will receive information from one of two areas of their choice: occupational safety and health or driver and traffic safety. Members during the year will receive three publications dealing with subject matters from either of these two areas.

In addition, special benefits and privileges are available for students who become members. Safety specialists are available to answer questions and assist with safety-related problems. Student members also can place a free job placement advertisement in NATIONAL SAFETY NEWS, the Council's monthly publication.

Another benefit is access to the world's largest safety library located at the Council. A computer is used to retrieve data for members' requests for general and technical information.

Student members also may purchase single copies of Council materials and services. Thousands of materials are offered at discounted prices.

For an application form and more information, write to the School and College Department, National Safety Council, 444 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Openings Faculty

We expect three openings for January '83 and Fall '83. Applicants must be able to teach introductory and middle level courses in at least one of the following areas: mathematics; statistics; computer science (with emphasis in structured design). Rank and salary depend on qualifications—good teaching is essential.

Send resume to: Dr. D.C. Cathcart, Department of Mathematical Sciences.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

Communication Services

by Daniel H. Gladding

Mail and Distribution (Campus Post Office)
Bulk mailings have been numerous (which is good), and have been completed rapidly and efficiently by the Post Office staff. For those departments that wish to complete their own, please check with the Campus Post Office Manager first before proceeding. Guidelines and procedures for preparing a bulk mailing have changed recently and it is imperative to follow the newly established procedures. Several bulk mailings have been returned to the Campus Post Office labeled unacceptable. This will help avoid any delays in the mailing process. Call Dave at Ext. 350 for information or assistance.

Telephone and Telegraph (Switchboard)
Computer lines that are accessed by the operator for faculty and staff have been abused according to the Data Processing Center. Effective immediately, it will be necessary to receive written approval from Ray Shingler or Brad Taylor before any lines can be authorized or connected through the switchboard. Please obtain written approval in advance so that the various operators will be able to properly handle the request.

CENTREX assignments have been completed and distributed to the campus community. A moratorium on telephone equipment and instrument moves has been initiated since the telephone company has begun the equipment conversion. All equipment, with the exception of Developmental Studies and the Education Departments cannot be moved or adjusted until after February 1, 1983. I am pleased with the progress that C & P has made on the new CENTREX system. The distribution cables and equipment room have all the new equipment in place which should, hopefully, insure the January 10, 1983 deadline. I'll keep you posted.

Finally, take a few minutes and review the dialing instructions printed on page 1 of the Campus Telephone Directory. These are updated each semester and contain valuable information. Specifically, a list of all area codes available through WATS lines are listed. Please note the addition of New York to our WATS listing. Use WATS and MARCOM as much as possible and note this on your monthly log sheets.

Duplication Services
Now that the new CENTREX assignments have been distributed, a reminder once again about stationery/printing orders. Advance planning is essential for this department to meet all new stationery requests. Please plan to place your order as soon as possible, so that the new stationery bearing the new telephone numbers can be printed prior to the changeover. Also, the spring semester is not that far away. By planning ahead for syllabi and other work, you can avoid the last minute bottleneck.

Special Projects
Two new dressing rooms have been added to the basement area of Holloway Hall bringing the total to four. Other minor carpentry projects have been completed. The draperies have been delayed until Thanksgiving according to the contractor in a recent telephone conversation. We are pushing him for an earlier deadline if at all possible.

Supply Clinic Set

Mime Expert at SSC, Nov. 16

The Salisbury State Program Board is pleased to present TRENT ARTERBERRY in a "magical tour of the mine,"on Tuesday, November 16, in Holloway Hall Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Arterberry began his career in mime in 1970 and after a two year apprenticeship in mime and dance, he moved to Boston to perform with the National Mime Theatre.

In 1976 he began appearing as an opening act for major rock and jazz concerts, and since then his performance has developed into a full-length production which has played to audiences across the country, including a critically-acclaimed month-long engagement at Boston's Music Theatre.

Often referred to as a "maverick" by members of his own profession, Arterberry's mime lies beyond the traditional barriers of his art form. With a vivid imagination, he will take you into a world of fantasy which constantly challenges your perception of what is and what could be. He holds great appeal for both popular music audiences and for more traditional theater audiences. . . audiences have been charmed by his wit, and mesmerized by his sensitive interpretations.

In "Silent Moves," he will dance to a Vivaldi Concerto and the rock of Flash and the Pan; serenade a lonely bass fiddle named Betty, and become one with nature by simultaneously portraying a wild stallion and the man compelled to tame him.

Tickets are free to SSC students at the College Center Information Desk.

Physical Science Seminar

The Physical Science Department Seminar, originally scheduled for Friday, October 29, at 1:30 p.m. in DSH 322, has been rescheduled for Friday, November 5 at the same time and place. Sandy Robbins will be talking on "Photovoltaic Cells—An Alternate Energy Source."

Celebrate National Hospice Week at SSC

The campus community is cordially invited to take time out with another soup n'shore in the President's House on Tuesday, November 9 between noon and 1 p.m. The hospice concept as a way to approach death—and life—will be the fare, along with soup and coffee. Bring your questions, and a bag lunch if you so desire.

Dean Named to State Group

The American Council on Education Office of Women in Higher Education has just announced the appointment of Dr. Carol Williamson, dean of students, to membership on the Maryland State Planning Committee for the Advancement of Women in Higher Education Administration.

The planning committee is composed of representatives of all systems of higher education in the state. It works with the state coordinator, the ACE Office of Women in Higher Education, and the state panel of leaders in education to construct effective strategies for identifying and promoting the advancement of women qualified by experience, education, and interest for major administrative positions in higher education.

Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

You may have noticed many trenches being dug across the lawn areas on campus. These trenches are for the installation of our new underground irrigation system.

The system will be designed, installed and maintained by the SSC plumbers, electricians and groundskeepers. Areas to be serviced by the new irrigation system include the central campus, quad circle, Dining Hall, College Center and various sports fields.

The benefits of this project should be evident this summer when the campus will look greener than ever.

Thanks!

Thanks are extended to Mrs. Gilbert for the beautiful plants she raised and donated to decorate the President's and Vice President's offices and reception rooms.

We also appreciate the shrubs donated by the Outing Club from their woodsy homecoming float. They have already been planted in various areas of campus.

Reminder

This is the final week for United Way Campaign. Bring contributions and pledge cards to the Personnel Office, Room 205, Holloway Hall.

Senior Recital

The Music Department will present Paula Bell, soprano, accompanied by pianist Sarah Shafer in recital, on Monday evening, November 8th at 8:00 p.m., in Caruther's Auditorium.

The recitial will be in partial fulfillment of the Bachelor's Degree, Liberal Studies Music Concentration major.

The program will consist of songs and arias by Handel, Mozart, Poulenc, John Duke and George Gershwin, and will include a duet from Saint Saen's "Christmas Oratorio," in which Mrs. Bell will be joined by baritone, Robert Thompson.

European Tour Set for July 1983

The American Institute of Foreign Study will provide another European tour July 1-14, 1983. Community people, high school and college students are invited to join a guided tour of Madrid, Paris, Amsterdam and London.

The program fee includes air and land transportation, lodging, most entrance fees, breakfast and dinner.

For a copy of the itinerary and cost information contact Annette Burgess, Parkside High School representative at 749-9369 or James Burgess, Salisbury State College, Art Department Chairman, 546-3261, ext. 215.

Trip to Philadelphia on Schedule

For the fall semester, the sole English Department/College Center theater trip will be on Thursday, November 11th to the Annenberg Center in Philadelphia to see Wycherley's The Country Wife. Produced by The Acting Company of John Houseman, Wycherley's Restoration sex comedy centers on the exploits of a rake appropriately named Horner. Horner has it falsely reported that he is impotent so that he may gain access to the respectable ladies of the town. While the husbands smirk at Horner's supposed incapacity, he freely entertains their wives in his apartment, under the pretext of showing them his china collection. To discover how far Horner's debauchery carries him in a world of hypocrites and fops, go see this famous satiric comedy.

Tickets at $10.00 each for students go on sale at the Information Desk in the College Center on October 18th. Faculty and staff may purchase tickets at $12.00 each beginning on November 3rd. Ticket price includes bus transportation to and from the Annenberg Center. Departure will be at 2:15 p.m. on November 11th from the Maggs circle. For further information, call the Information Desk (ext. 395) or Bill Horne (ext. 482).

Faculty Openings

We expect three openings for January '83 and Fall '83. Applicants must be able to teach introductory and middle level courses in at least one of the following areas: mathematics; statistics; computer science (with emphasis in structured design). Rank and salary depend on qualifications—good teaching is essential.

Send resume to: Dr. D.C. Cathcart, Department of Mathematical Sciences.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

RA Positions Available

Students interested in applying for a Resident Assistant position for either next spring semester or Fall 1983, may pick up application forms at the Housing Office, room 131 Holloway Hall beginning Friday, October 15. Candidates must attend a one-day training program on Saturday, November 6 and an interview on November 7.

Successful candidates must have a strong commitment to their own personal growth and development and be willing to work to enrich the educational environment in the residence halls. Applicants must also be in good academic standing. RA candidate training may not be offered next spring semester. Deadline for submitting applications is Friday, October 29.

Post-Mortem On the Election

"Post-mortem on the Election" will be the topic of this week's Friday Night Lecture, sponsored by the Office of Continuing Education on November 5 from 7:30 - 9:00 p.m. in Caruthers Hall, room 118.

The moderator will be Dr. Harry Basehart, associate professor in the department of political science. The presenter will be Dr. Jeff Fishel, professor in the School of Government and Public Administration at The American University in Washington, D.C.

Included in this presentation will be an interpretation of how the outcome of the election will affect President Reagan's relations with Congress; and a discussion of key leaders leaving Congress and who will replace them.

All members of the SSC campus community and the public are invited. Refreshments will be served.

A SOUND INVESTMENT...

When you support the United Way, you're making a sound investment in our community. United Way agencies run the gamut from health and social services to recreational and character-building programs. Help provide these comprehensive services by giving to the United Way through payroll deduction.

Outdoor Club

The next Outdoor Club trip will be on November 12th, 13th, and 14th to Caledonia State Park in Pennsylvania. Activities will include caving and/or backpacking. This trip and other club activities will be discussed at regular club meetings on Thursdays at 7 p.m. in Tawes 118.

Black Ministerial Alliance Meet

The Office of Continuing Education will co-sponsor a workshop with the Black Ministerial Alliance of Wicomico County entitled "Family Intra/Inter Relationships" on Monday, November 22. The workshop will be held at Wesley Temple United Methodist Church on West Road from 7 - 9 p.m.

There will be three presenters for the evening event. Ms. Renee Morris, associate professor and chairman for the college's social work department will discuss understanding family conflicts, maintaining individuality, single parenting, step parenting, two parenting and marriage/family counseling.

Harry Alrich, associate professor and director of field instruction for the social work department at the college, will focus on child/family community relations, sibling rivalry, child abuse and delinquency.

James P. Mallory, the third presenter, will discuss some of the problems/concerns with alcoholism within the family unit and possible coping mechanisms. Mallory serves as associate director of the Office of Career Planning and Placement at the college.

Korean Exhibition On Now

Salisbury State College is showing from now until November 14 in its Gallery in Blackwell Library "Korean Drawing Now," the first exhibition of contemporary drawings from that century to be held in the U.S.

The exhibition of 94 drawings by 47 of Korea's leading young artists were selected by Brooklyn Museum Curator Gene Baro from hundreds of drawings assembled in Korea by Yoon Tak, director of the National Museum of Morern Art, Seoul.

This 1982-84 tour was organized by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service and coincides with the centennial of diplomatic relations between Korea and the U.S.

November Workshops

A must for every senior! This one session workshop is designed to assist in preparing you for the professional job interview. Action-oriented through role-playing, and videotaping. A review of such topics as: non-verbal behavior, dress, questions, interview phases, and preparation. Handouts provided.

Graduate Schools - Dec. 2, (Thur.) 12:30 - 2 p.m. (Brown Bag Lunch, bring your sandwich and soda)

A workshop designed to help you learn the ins-n-outs of the grad school maze. Information on: financial aid, picking a program, locating a school, required tests and study guide information.

Due to limitations imposed by room sizes, all workshops require a reservation. To make your reservation, and find out the room number, call ext. 286 or 389 or stop by Career Planning and Placement, Holloway Hall 273 (above the Health Center).

Communication Services

Mail & Distribution (Campus PO)

The U.S. Postal Service has been experiencing more delays on the "Zip + 4" program. The administration of the college has decided to delay implementation on this project until it is known whether or not it will ever become a reality. The "Zip + 4" concept claims to speed up delivery, however, the initial outlay will cost the U.S. Postal Service billions of dollars. Reganomics are taking its toll on the program so we will just have to wait and see what will happen to "Zip +4".

When sending mail to the campus Post Office to be postmarked, be sure to "flap" all envelopes that need to be sealed. Also, please sort all mail between campus and off campus locations. These few tips will greatly aid your campus Post Office staff. Call Dave at Ext. 350 for more information or assistance.

Telephone & Telegraph (Switchboard)

CENTREX installation continues on schedule. Holloway Hall offices and areas will be getting their new telephone sets and equipment in the next few weeks. These sets will not be activated until the campus changeover in the middle of January. As the new instruments are installed, please take care of the equipment since replacement costs are extremely high.

Lynn Marie Gubisch, a former Salisbury State College student and switchboard operator will begin employment in the White House as a PBX operator. Lynn was employed at our switchboard from January 1982 until June of 1982. Lynn decided to leave Salisbury State College to pursue a marriage and job around the Washington area.

Don't forget to mail me the monthly telephone log sheets that are kept in each department. These are used to verify changes on the monthly bills. Please be prompt, and mail them to me on the first day of each month.

Duplication Services

Next week we will publish our Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday production schedule. It is absolutely essential that these deadlines be met! Mary and Joan will be off periodically between now and the end of the year, so last minute "crisis requests" for jobs may not get completed.

Make sure the departmental code appears on all work orders submitted to Duplication Services. The code should contain all 12 digits of the current code. (Example: A-DA-8731-00-152). The "152" subobject code refers to printing and reproduction and should be used on ALL work orders.

Tutors Needed

The Writing Center is taking applications for student tutors, one to begin immediately and one to begin in the spring. Candidates for tutor positions must meet these requirements. They must be a sophomore or junior, have a 2.75 overall grade average, demonstrate competence in grammar, punctuation, and writing, and, secure recommendations from at least 2 professors familiar with the candidate's writing.

Applicants need not be English or English Education majors but should have a strong background in writing. Interested persons should contact Mrs. Buchert, director of the Writing Center, CH A212, ext. 230.

Dr. Bellavance Guest Speaker at MCEA Meeting

MCEA, Chapter 72, will meet Tuesday, November 9 at 7 p.m. in the Chesapeake Room, College Center. Guest speakers for the evening are Dr. Bellavance and Richard Tawes.

SALISBURY STATE COLLEGE

news

NOVEMBER 11, 1982 VOL. XII NO. 11

Mime Expert at SSC, Nov. 16

The Salisbury State Program Board is pleased to present TRENT ARTER-BERRY in a "magical tour of the mine,"on Tuesday, November 16, in Holloway Hall Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Arterberry began his career in mime in 1970 and after a two year apprenticeship in mime and dance, he moved to Boston to perform with the National Mime Theatre.

In 1976 he began appearing as an opening act for major rock and jazz concerts, and since then his performance has developed into a full-length production which has played to audiences across the country, including a critically-acclaimed month-long engagement at Boston's Music Theatre.

Often referred to as a "maverick" by members of his own profession, Arterberry's mime lies beyond the traditional barriers of his art form. With a vivid imagination, he will take you into a world of fantasy which constantly challenges your perception of what is and what could be. He holds great appeal for both popular music audiences and for more traditional theater audiences. . . audiences have been charmed by his wit, and mesmerized by his sensitive interpretations.

In "Silent Moves," he will dance to a Vivaldi Concerto and the rock of Flash and the Pan; serenade a lonely bass fiddle named Betty, and become one with nature by simultaneously portraying a wild stallion and the man compelled to tame him.

Tickets are free to SSC students at the College Center Information Desk.

Taylor Dance Show on Theatre Trip

On Thursday, December 2, 1982 the College Center is sponsoring a bus trip, to the Kennedy Center, Eisenhower Theatre, to see the Paul Taylor Dance Company. It is co-sponsored by the English and Physical Education Depts.

The bus departs Maggs Gym at 2:30 p.m. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. The cost of this trip is $10.00 for full-time SSC students; and $12.00 for Fac./Staff/Alumni/Guests/Part-time SSC Students.

Sign up at the College Center Information Desk. Sign-up begins: November 8th for Full-time SSC Students; November 24th for Fac/Staff/Alumni/Guests/Part-time SSC Students. Prices include round trip Transportation and Admission. The full trip fee must be paid at the time of sign-up. Fees may be refunded ONLY in the event that the seat can be filled.

Supply Clinic Set

The Salisbury Planned Parenthood Clinic announces the addition of a supply clinic, available Tuesday's, 3-6 PM in the Health Center, NO appointment necessary.

Canned Food Drive

The Residence Hall Association would like to announce that it is sponsoring a canned food drive November 8-12. Collection boxes will be posted in the rooms of local dorm officers. There will also be collection boxes posted in; Chesapeake's lounge, and in the Housing Office, 131 Holloway Hall. All collected items will be donated to the charity, "Little Sisters of the Poor." Donations of money will also be gladly accepted for those unable to donate food. Support for this local charity in this season of Thanksgiving will be greatly appreciated.

New Members Welcomed

Phi Alpha Theta, the international history honorary society, held its fall initiation on Sunday evening, November 7, at 6:30 p.m. in the Social Room of Holloway Hall. On behalf of the History Department, Dr. Charles B. Clark welcomed the new members into fellowship. Phi Alpha Theta representatives and family members were on hand to welcome the honorees. Phi Alpha Theta advisors, Ms. Clara Small and Dr. G. Ray Thompson presented the following individuals for membership into the prestigeous honor society: Lauren Statum, Federalsburg, Md.; Sue Parker, Salisbury, Mark Lambert, Willards, Md., Dr. H. Harry Basehart, Associate Professor of Political Science at SSC, Brenda Evans, Snow Hill; Cheryl Alcorn, Salisbury; Norma Llewellyn, Salisbury, and Julie Pryor, Salisbury, Md.

Following the initiation a reception was held for the new initiates and members of their families.

Tour Art Gallery

Dr. and Mrs. G. Ray Thompson of the history and modern languages departments at SSC were guests of the Director and Board of Trustees of the Walters Art Gallery at the Baltimore premiere of "Egypt's Golden Age: the Art of Living in the New Kingdom". The gala was held Tuesday evening, October 26, 1982. The exhibition was dedicated by His Excellency, Ashraf A. Ghorbal, ambassador of the Arab Republic of Egypt.

Students in Dr. Thompson's Egyptian history class will tour the travelling exhibit and will attend a series of lectures and special events scheduled for November 14.

Visit New York

On October 19, Dr. G. Ray Thompson and thirty-eight students toured the newly opened galleries of the Egyptian collection at the Metropolitan Museum in New York. While there, students were also afforded the opportunity of viewing the travelling exhibit "In Search of Alexander" which was to be officially opened the following day. The Rodin exhibit, "The Gates of Hell," was another favorite among the students.

Phi Kappa Phi to Meet

Phi Kappa Phi, the interdisciplinary honor society, will hold its first meeting of the year on Thursday afternoon, November 18 at 3:30 p.m. in room 118 of Caruthers Hall. All members are encouraged to attend. For further information please contact Dr. G. Ray Thompson, president of the local chapter.

DR. LAKE DELIVERS SPEECH

Dr. Jerry Lake, chairman of the Business Administration and Economics Department, spoke to a Small Business Administration meeting held November 2 at the Chamber of Commerce Offices in Salisbury.

Attending the session were members of the Service Core for Retired Executives and Associated Core for Retired Executives.

Lake described the efforts SSC's Business Administration Department makes to equip graduates to face the challenges of the era between the 1990's and 2015. "These are the productive years for the 1986 graduates," Lake decalred. "They must cope with the changes and management of that period," he added.

Lake pointed out that the SCORE and ACE audience members are "ambassadors who can publicize the SSC programs." He noted also that they are the retired executives whose experience can be valuable as they talk to class members at SSC.

Mail and Distribution (Campus Post Office)

Mail is picked up at the Salisbury Main Post Office at 7:30 a.m. Monday thru Friday and at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday. A second pick-up is also scheduled at 12:00 noon on Monday thru Friday. Mail is collected by the Salisbury Main Post Office at 1:30 p.m. and again at 4:15 p.m. It is therefore imperative that all mail collected or delivered to be processed for mailing at the above mentioned times be in the Campus Post Office at least one (1) hour before the scheduled collection times. Several steps must be followed before the mail actually leaves SSC. Please follow these guidelines.

Telephone and Telegraph (Switchboard)

A recent problem has been called to my attention regarding telephone "run around" by the Counseling Services Office. To resolve any potential conflict related to student inquiries, the following guidelines should be followed by the campus community.

Duplication Services

The department will close for the Thanksgiving holidays at 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday, November 24 and reopen at 8:30 a.m. on Monday, November 29.

The following is the schedule of deadlines for the Christmas holidays and winter term.

Monday, November 15: Lab manuals, books printed to be sold in the Book Rack, major reproduction jobs, etc. for the winter term.

Monday, December 6: Syllabi and course information for the winter term.

Monday, December 14: Final exams for the fall semester, course evaluations, end of semester reproduction, etc.

Monday, December 20: Class handouts, general reproduction to cover at least the first two weeks of the winter term.

Thursday, December 23: Closed at 4:30 p.m. until 8:30 a.m. on Monday, January 3, 1983. There will be no one working during the entire break period. Also, during this time the machines will be overhauled and out-of-service for the entire break period.

Call me immediately if any special exceptions are requested. Though guarantees cannot be made, every possible request will be weighed accordingly and worked towards a satisfactory or compromising end.

Two More Courses Added to Terms

Two undergraduate courses were added to 82/83 winter term recently, it has been announced by Hal Schaffer, director of Continuing Education.

The courses are: Sociology 211, Principles of Sociology; and Cultural Anthropology 212. The principles course will be offered during the early afternoon hours and the cultural anthropology course will be offered during the evening hours.

This increases the total course offerings to 35, seven of which will be offered in the evening. The evening offerings will enable those persons who work full-time to enroll in courses and maintain their academic progress.

The winter term will begin Monday, January 3, and end Friday, January 28. Registration begins Monday, November 8.

Courses will be offered both on and off campus. There will be a special course, "Management of Sports Injuries," specifically planned for teachers/coaches in Talbot County as well as for the Tri-County Area. There will be two sections of this course, one on campus and one in Easton.

Another highlight of the winter term will be two sections of Intermediate Scuba Diving in the Bahamas, January 6 to 10, and January 11 to 15.

Registration begins November 8. For more information, contact the Office of Continuing Education at (301) 546-3261, ext. 321.

Energy Insight

by Mark W. Wilkerson

As most of you "pool goers" have probably noticed by now we have a new addition to the pool facility in Maggs Physical Activities Center. This summer we purchased a pool cover from Keiffer Pool Equipment, Northfield, Illinois. Their low bid for the cover and reel was $6,050.00

We began using the cover regularly during the last two weeks of September. Results have been immediate! We used over 1,100 gallons of fuel oil less this October than October 1981 in Maggs PAC alone. Most of this savings is directly attributable to use of the pool cover. Furthermore, we have used $300.00 less in chemicals thus far this academic year. This is due to a decreased evaporation rate from the pool which is also helpful in the overall maintenance of the pool area.

I realize we have had some delays in removing the cover on some mornings. For this I apologize and ask you to bear with us during these times of inconvenience. However, at the rate we are going the cover will pay for itself in four months and is well worth the added, small burden.

Thanks Extended

On behalf of the United Way Campaign committee we'd like to extend our thanks to those employees who contributed to the United Fund this year. One hundred fifteen employees gave a total of $5,122.25.

Faculty Show Starts Dec. 20

The Tenth Annual Salisbury State College Faculty Art Exhibition opens November 20 in the College Gallery, located on the second floor of Blackwell Library, it was announced today. The opening night hours are from 7 to 9 p.m. and the general public is invited to attend to meet the artists.

The show continues until December 1 and for gallery hours, call the Art Department at SSC, 546-3261, ext. 215. Tours of the show for organized groups can be arranged by calling Nancy Turner at 546-3261, ext. 441.

James Burgess, chairman of the Art Department, calls the show "unique."

"Each year the Art Department faculty combine their most recent works in their respective areas of art to create a unique contemporary exhibition. This annual show is always rich in diversity as each faculty member brings to the show the fruits of their individual talent which distinguishes them as fine artists as well as respected teachers. Works submitted by the faculty are in a variety of media, including photographs, sculpture and stained glass," he said.

Mr. Burgess continued: "This tenth anniversary of the faculty show not only showcases the work of the Art Department faculty but also serves as a reflection of the growth and diversity of the department as a whole. Since the first faculty exhibition in 1972, the number of full and part-time faculty members involved in the show has doubled. This reflects the numerous positive changes in department structure and course offerings achieved through the hiring of new teachers and the expansion of all areas of concentration in the department.

"This year Salsibury State acquired an art major program offering a bachelors degree in studio art, an achievement that is the culmination of four long years of waiting after much hard work and planning by Art department faculty members. The new program offers art majors a concentration of study in one of four areas—art history, two-dimensional design studio, three-dimensional design studio, and visual communications (advertising, photography and illustration)—thus giving students the necessary depth of study in their area of interest to pursue their work in graduate school and prepare them for entering the job market.

"To support this new major, each full time faculty member has been actively working to expand their particular area of concentration, and a number of variety of courses available to students each semester. New courses are continually being created and taught in areas of the arts which most interest the community. These courses are usually offered in the evenings as a public service and are determined by public response.

"Also recently, Salsibury State received a charter as a chapter of Kappa Pi, the international art fraternity, and the art department is actively building up the Colleges permanent art collection through recent acquisitions of works by well-known area artists. Another exciting achievement by the department is a recent cooperation agreement with the Design Schools of America, six two-year art institutions whose students will be accepted at SSC for the completion of a four-year degree. Similarly, SSC sudents will be accepted by these schools to obtain an even greater depth of study in their area of interest."

Poetry Reading Set for Nov. 30

Poet Michael Ryan will give a reading in the Writers-On-The-Shore series on Tuesday, November 30, at 8:30 p.m. in Caruthers Hall Room 122.

Ryan was chosen as the Yale Younger Poet in 1973 by Stanley Kunitz. His manuscript, THREATS INSTEAD OF TREES, was published by Yale University Press in 1974 and was subsequently nominated for the National Book Award. His second book, IN WINTER, was a winner in the National Poetry Series & was published by Holt, Rinehart & Winston in 1981.

Ryan received his Ph.D. from the University of Iowa. He has since taught in the Writers Workshop at the University of Iowa, and at Southern Methodist University, the M.F.A. Writing Program at Goddard, Princeton University, and Warren Wilson College. Last year he was the recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship.

His poems and criticism have been appearing frequently in The New Yorker, The Nation, The Atlantic, Harpers, The New Republic, Poetry, Antaeus, Ploughshares, & other journals. His article on Wallace Stevens is featured in the current issue of The American Poetry Review.

This will be the only reading sponsored by the Department of English this semester.

Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

If you have broad-leaved evergreens such as hollies or rhododrendrons which often suffer from winter kill or leaf burn, you may want to consider using an anti-dessicant this year.

Winter damage is caused by moisture evaporating from leaves on windy and/or sunny days when the ground is frozen. Under these conditions, the roots cannot replace the moisture lost by the leaves and eventually tissue damage will result.

Anti-dessicants are applied as sprays which form a thin plastic-type coating over each leaf. This coating reduces evaporation from the leaf and consequently reduces winter damage.

"Vapor Guard" and "Wilt-Pruf" are two of the popular brands which can be purchased at most garden centers. In general, these products should be used while the outside temperature is above 40° F so don't delay too long. One application will last all winter.

This is our first year for using anti-dessicants on the SSC campus. All of the hollies have been treated and we hope to reduce or eliminate some of the leaf burn we experienced last year.

Faculty Openings

We expect three openings for January '83 and Fall '83. Applicants must be able to teach introductory and middle level courses in at least one of the following areas: mathematics; statistics; computer science (with emphasis in structured design). Rank and salary depend on qualifications—good teaching is essential.

Send resume to: Dr. D.C. Cathcart, Department of Mathematical Sciences.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

Attends Conference

Joan Maloof has recently returned from the National Institute on Park and Grounds Management in Chicago, Illinois. At this conference, attended by grounds administrators from all over the country, there were discussions on contract maintenance, scheduling, beautification, management, and turf irrigation among many others.

Optimist Speaker

Dean Burroughs, associate professor of physical education at Salisbury State College was the guest speaker at the November 16 meeting of the Salisbury Optimist Club. The meeting, held at Sheraton Salisbury Inn, was in observance of the annual celebration of Youth Appreciation Week. This week is sponsored by Optimist Clubs throughout North America the second week of November each year in order to recognize the positive contributions of today's youth.

Mr. Burroughs' speech "Success—It's All In The State of Mind", was delivered to Optimist Club members and youths representing the local High and Jr. High schools. The youths were presented certificates of appreciation following the dinner.

Communication Services

by Daniel H. Gladding

Mail and Distribution (Campus Post Office)

Here are some important guidelines that need to be followed in addressing correspondence for both on campus and off campus destinations: On campus - Include the department/ office of addressee on the first line and the name of addressee on the second line. Example College Center, Dave Ganoe.

Off campus - Names, titles, divisions, rooms should always be listed first. The street address must always preceed the city and state line. Example, Mr. Lawrence Mitchell, Telecommunications Coordinator, Department of General Services, Room 3104, 401 East Preston Street Baltimore, Maryland 21202. A brochure entitled, "Guide to Addressing" is available from my office. It was also included in the Secretarial/Clerical handbook.

Telephone and Telegraph (Switchboard)

The switchboard will close at 6:00 p.m. on Wednesday, November 24, for the Thanksgiving holidays, and re-open at 9:00 a.m. on Friday, November 26. An answering service will be available for emergency messages and alarm systems will be monitored through special remote annunciation equipment. Public Safety will be providing periodic checks on the answering service and alarm systems. A direct line to the Public Safety office will be established during the closed period. The number is 546-3268. Call me immediately if any other special situations are requested. A complete schedule of closings for Christmas holiday and winter break will be published next week.

Duplication Services

The newsletter was a day late last week because of a series of problems, primarily the 9200 Xerox machine. The machine was out of order for three days and caused some hardships. Along with the 9200, several other satellite machines were down as well. The problem was uncanny in the number of machines down at one time, but hopefully will not occur again. Please excuse any inconvenience that may have been experienced. A complete schedule of deadlines for the spring semester will be published next week. A reminder that the Christmas holiday and winter break schedule was included in last week's edition. Call me if you did not receive a copy or have any questions or problems with the deadlines.

Two More Courses Added to Terms

Two undergraduate courses were added to 82/83 winter term recently, it has been announced by Hal Schaffer, director of Continuing Education.

The courses are: Sociology 211, Principles of Sociology; and Cultural Anthropology 212. The principles course will be offered during the early afternoon hours and the cultural anthropology course will be offered during the evening hours.

British Film to be Shown

The Office of Continuing Education at Salisbury State College announces the eighth in a series of Friday Night Lectures/Film Series, "A Discussion of the Controversial British anti-nuclear film, The War Game," on Friday, November 19 from 7:30 - 9:00 p.m., Caruthers Hall, room 118. The moderator will be James M. Welsh, assistant professor in the department of English at SSC.

This film was believed to be too graphic for viewing by the British Broadcasting Corporation. It has since been viewed all over the world by persons interested in and concerned with the possibility of a nuclear war. The setting is England during the late '60s prior to, during and shortly after a nuclear attack.

The film may be viewed from the standpoint of "film as literature" as well as the basis of a discussion on the issues. Can we allow a nuclear war to begin, first strike, retaliatory strikes and the consequences a modern western society must face when such weapons are used.

On December 10, "The Middle East Crisis," will be discussed. The moderator will be Dr. Robert Berry, an assistant professor in the department of history at SSC. The topic will be discussed by Benjamin Abileah, Consul General from the Israeli Embassy in Washington, D.C.

The classic film, "The Grand Illusion" which was to be shown on that date, and to have been moderated by Dr. Thomas Erskine, chairman of the SSC English department, will have to be postponed for the spring or fall '83 series.

SALISBURY STATE COLLEGE

news

DECEMBER 2, 1982 VOL. XII NO. 13

Tax Seminar on Campus

Taxes will be in focus next week as the first of a series of five seminars for the area community will start on Salisbury State College's campus.

Sponsored by the Salisbury Area Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Salisbury Committee and the College, the first seminar will be at 3 p.m. on Thursday, December 2, in Caruthers Hall, Room 122.

Gregory E. Krahl, tax manager of Main Hurdman, Salisbury, and Lester A. Simpson, JD, tax partner of James Digg & Company, Salisbury, will be on the panel. Discussion will center on "Tax Plannning and Tax Equity and the Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982."

Moderator will be Regina B. Haffner, assistant professor of Business Administration and Economics at SSC.

Ms. Haffner commented on the seminar: "Just one year after the largest tax cut in history was passed, Congress voted in the largest revenue raising bill in history. Both individuals and businesses will be affected by these provisions, most of which won't become effective until 1983.

"Tax planning is critical in the final months of 1982. Many deductions will be curtailed in 1983 and transactions should be structured to take advantage of benefits available only in 1982."

Combined Music Theatre Show Set

The music and communication arts departments at Salisbury State College will be collaborating this week on a production for the Christmas season, A Day for Dancing. Under the direction of T. Paul Pfeiffer and Ray Zeigler, the evening's entertainment will feature the Salisbury State College Chamber Choir and members of the theatre.

The choral portion of the program consists of Medieval and Renaissance texts set by the Twentieth-Century composer, Lloyd Pfautch. The pieces are accompanied by flute, oboe, bassoon, and percussion. Incorporated between and within the musical sections, Mr. Pfeiffer has staged a variety of scenes and dances interpreting the Christmas story. The choir will also sing Heinrich Schutz's motet, "Ach Herr, du Schopfer aller Ding" (O Lord, Thou creator of all things).

Featured soloists will include Beth Ward, Karin Pusey, Kenneth Johnson, Kevin LesCallette, John Andrews, and Jan Wright. Instrumental accompaniment will be provided by Carol Miller, Ronald Reed, William Davis, and Sarah Schaffer.

There will be just two performances which will be free to the public. A Day for Dancing will be performed in Holloway Hall Auditorium at the College on Friday and Saturday, December 3 and 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Special Physical Education Course Planned

The Office of Continuing Education at Salisbury State College will offer Physical Education 490, "Selected Topics in Physical Education: Management of Sports Injuries," a one semester hour credit course dring the forthcoming winter term '82/83.

There will be two sections, one in Talbot County at Easton High School on January 15 from 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. to meet the certification requirements needs of the teachers and coaches of that area. The second will meet on the SSC campus January 22 in the Physical Activities Center from 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. to meet the certification requirements needs of teachers and coaches in Wicomico, Worcester and Somerset Counties.

Registration for the winter term began November 8 and ends December 22. For more information about winter term '82/83 and the 35 undergraduate and graduate courses offered, contact the Office of Continuing Education at (301) 546-3261, ext. 321.

From the Dean of Student's Office

Staff members are currently undertaking a comprehensive study of Greek organization development at SSC. The study will explore historical development, comparison with Greek systems at like institutions, operating policies and procedures, institutional commitment and other more specific issues. The study will result in a report and recommendations for the future course of Greek organizations.

Members of all 10 Greek organizations on campus are participating in data collection and reporting. Any staff interested in being involved or desiring more information should contact the Dean of Student's office, ext. 211.

Justin Shen Dies Suddenly

Dr. Justin Y. Shen, retired professor of political science, died November 29 in Peninsula General Hospital, following a heart attack.

He taught at SSC for 15 years and was a former special assistant to the Chinese embassy. He helped frame the United Nations Charter at the 1945 San Francisco Conference.

Shen spent nine years in Columbia prior to his service to the Chinese embassy and he also was chairman of the history and political science department at Brenau College in Georgia.

The entire college community expresses sympathy to the family of Dr. Shen, including his widow, Grace, his son Irving, a Salisbury dentist, and two grandchildren.

Film Historian Dedicates Book to James Welsh

James M. Welsh, assistant professor of English and co-editor of Literature/Film Quarterly, was honored by the recent announcement that noted film historian Gene D. Phillips dedicated his latest book to him.

That book, entitled George Cukor (Twayne Publishers, 1982), chronicles the career of the director of numerous film classics featuring many of Hollywood's biggest box office attractions.

Cukor's credits include such distinguished films as Dinner at Eight (1933), Little Women ('33), David Copperfield ('35), Camille ('37), Holiday ('38), Philadelphia Story ('40), Adam's Rib ('49), Born Yesterday ('50), A Star is Born ('55), My Fair Lady ('64) and Rich and Famous ('81).

During his career he has directed such notables as John and Lionel Barrymore, Jean Harlow, Katherine Hepburn, W.C. Fields, Basil Rathbone, Greta Garbo, Cary Grant, James Stewart, Spencer Tracy, Judy Holiday, William Holden, Jane Fonda and many others.

Band, Chorus Yule Concert on December 5

The Salisbury State College Concert Band and Chorus will present a joint concert of music for the Christmas Season on Sunday, December 5 at 4 p.m. in Holloway Hall Auditorium.

The Chorus, under the direction of Dr. Ray Zeigler, will include several selections for the Advent season. They will perform Dale Wood's Advent Carol and Paul Manz's E'n So Lord Jesus Quickly Come. The Chorus will also sing the opening chorus and chorale from Johann Sebastian Bach's Cantata No. 140, Sleepers Wake.

For the Christmas Season, the group will sing an Appalachian Folk Carol, Jesus the Christ is Born arranged by John Jacob Niles. Two carol medleys will be offered, each containing several familiar carols. The first will be Christmas Day arranged by Gustav Holst. The second will combine the band and Chorus in A Festival of Carols arranged by Warren Barker. Accompanist for the chorus will Sarah Schafer.

The musical program of the Concert Band for December 5, under the direction of Charles Smith, assistant professor of music, will include a broad spectrum of musical styles representative of the many ways mankind celebrates this season. Two ballets of the Romantic Era utilized similar texts as background. Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite" is one of the most beloved stories ever choreographed and the music is delightful, expressive of the events surrounding a young German girl's Christmas party.

A less familiar ballet was found among the unpublished manuscripts of Gioacchino Rossini. The scene of this story is a doll shop in which all the customers are caricatures of tourists.

One of the most powerful works ever composed for band dealing with the celebration of Christmas is Alfred Reed's "Russian Christmas Music," which utilizes an ancient children's carol as the basis for the work combined with some motifs derived from the liturgical music of the Eastern Orthodox Chruch and much original input from the composer. The "Children's Carol" is followed by the "antiphonal Chant," "Village Song," and the closing "Cathedral Chorus." Of special interest is the use of the English Horn as one of the solo instruments. The instrument is heard infrequently in the whole of instrumental music repertoire, especially in the band medium.

Army Band, Chorus Program on Dec 16

The United States Army Field Band and Soldiers' Chorus will present a Christmas Concert at Salisbury State College's Holloway Hall on Thursday, December 16, at 8 p.m., it was announced today on the campus.

The unit from Washington, D.C. will present a seasonal show under sponsorship of Salisbury State College, WSBY and WQHQ.

Tickets are free-of-charge and may be picked up at SSC's College Center, WSBY, or at the Armed Forces Center at Twilley Shopping Center.

The famous "Musical Ambassadors of the Army," the official touring musical representatives of the United States Army, have performed concerts in all 50 states, Canada, Mexico, the United Kingdom, Europe, the Far East and Central America. Since 1946, the Field Band has toured communities throughout the nation in two major tours annually and covered some 40,000 miles.

Their music appeals to all age groups and spans the music spectrum from the classics to pop. Few musical ensembles present as varied a program as the Army Field Band and Soldiers' Chorus. Their versatility has been praised by music critics and audiences around the world.

Class Recital

The Music Department of Salisbury State College will present students of Voice Class I in recitals on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, December 7th and 8th at 8:00 p.m. The recitals will be performed in the Musical Arts Center.

Mrs. Anne Smith will be the accompanist and the program will consist of 17th Century Italian songs, English folk and art songs, and Christmas songs.

The public is invited without charge.

Israeli Diplomat Here on December 10

"The Middle East Crisis" is the topic of the Salisbury State College Office of Continuing Education's final Friday Night Lecture series on December 10 from 7:30 - 9 p.m. in room 118 of Caruthers Hall.

The moderator will be Dr. Robert Berry, an associate professor in the department of history at SSC, while the topic will be discussed by Benjamin Abileah, consul general from the Israeli Embassy in Washington, D.C.

Abileah is a native of Israel and a career diplomat of his country. He joined the Israeli foreign service in 1962 and since has filled various diplomatic posts, first in Israel's embassies in Cyprus and the Philippines and then in the U.S. where he was consul for information in Los Angeles, deputy consul general in New York and, most recently, counselor of congressional affairs at the Israeli Embassy in Washington.

From 1974 until 1978, Abileah was deputy spokesman of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Jerusalem, and as briefing officer for the press was closely associated particularly in the peace-making process which developed in those years.

In the summer of 1982, he was selected to fill the new post of consul general in Washington, with an area jurisdiction including the District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina.

Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

Do you have many small weeds left in your planting beds, but neither the time nor the inclination to remove them all now? If so, then you should consider spreading a mulch over the garden.

Mulching is probably the single most valuable technique for the low maintenance gardener. By shielding the soil from the summer sun a mulch will reduce water loss and prevent many of the weed seeds from sprouting. A mulch applied at this time of year will protect plant roots from injury by keeping the soil temperature constant. It will also prevent damage to plants in the early spring when alternate freezing and thawing can heave small plants from the ground. At all times of the year a mulch will improve your garden's appearance by covering small weeds and creating a background of uniform color and texture.

Each type of mulch has its pros and cons. Some factors to consider when choosing a mulch are its resistance to movement by the wind, appearance when fresh, appearance when aged, odor, insect populations, effect on soil fertility and acidity. For example, grass clippings make a good mulch but if applied too thickly they will pack into a dense mildewy mat that heats up and gives off an odor of decay. Pine needles make an attractive, long lasting mulch but they will also increase the acidity of the soil. This is fine for acid loving plants like azaleas and rhododendrons but other plants may show a gradual yellowing of the leaves. Wood chips and clippings from dead trees can be obtained free from the power compnay, but the many twigs must be removed if you like an even looking surface, and there is always the possibility of bringing termites and wood boring insects to your property.

Here on the SSC ground, we use shredded pine bark mulch which can be purchased in bags from garden centers or in bulk, as we do, from Forest Products in Parsonsburg. The shredded bark resists being blown about by the wind more than the bark chips do and we're pleased by the uniform appearance. Like any wood-based mulch, it will draw nitrogen fixing bacteria from the soil as it decomposes, so we must be sure to add a high-nitrogen fertilizer to our plants each year.

If you've never mulched, give it a try, you may find yourself among the ranks of those that swear by it for attractive, low-maintenance gardens.

Event Dates Needed

It is time to select dates for dances (or other events where a Retail Beer License is needed) for next semester. Any organization wishing to schedule an event should submit a request to Mrs. Karen M. Griffin, Facilities Reservation Clerk, ext. 233, not later than Thursday, December 16, 1982.

Confirmation of these dates in accordance with the College Alcoholic Beverage Policy will be made by this office prior to the end of the Fall '82 semester.

At College Gallery Kent English Featured

Coming to the Art Gallery in Blackwell Library December 4 through 18 is an exhibition of recent works in a variety of media by Salisbury artist Kent English. Owner and operator of Atlantis Sign company in Salisbury, Mr. English displays in this one-man show his talent as a studio artist which is the basis for his career as a commercial sign painter and graphic designer.

Included in the show are large acrylic paintings, acrylic wash drawings, mixed media pieces and a collection of photographs, all done recently by the artist and some especially for this exhibition. His work reflects a style which has developed over the past fifteen years since receiving his Bachelor of Fine Arts in Commercial Art from the Richmond Professional Institute, now Virginia Commonwealth University.

The greatest influence on his elyptical abstract paintings were the years he spent at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro where he received his Master of Fine Arts in painting. While working on his Masters, Mr. English entered a special program of study at the Whitney Museum of American Art in New York City where he spent a year working with New York artists, exhibiting his work in student group shows and acting as an assistant instructor in the Whitney program. He feels this year of exposure to artists working in the center of the modern art world brought exciting new elements to his painting and exploration of mixed media.

An opening reception for Mr. English will be held Saturday, December 4, 7-9 p.m. Nancy Turner, gallery docent, will be conducting tours of the show for organized groups. These can be arranged by contacting her at 546-3261, extension 441.

Free Transportation Set for Christmas Shopping

Do you need transportation to do Christmas shopping?

The Downtown Salisbury Revitalization group is sponsoring a special trolley-buss to run from the college to the downtown shopping center.

The route will include stops at the downtown Plaza, outlet shops on East Main Street, and Salisbury Mall (tentative).

Following is the schedule of dates: Thursday, Friday, Saturday - December 2, 3, 4, 9, 10, 11, 16, 17, 18; Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday - December 20, 21, 22, 23.

The time schedule is as follows: The trolley will leave SSC at 45 minutes past the hour (11:45, 12:45, 1:45, 2:45, 3:45, and 4:45) for a non-stop direct run to the Downtown Plaza. It will leave the Plaza for a non-stop direct run back to SSC at half-past the hour (11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30). In between those two direct runs the trolley will continue on to the outlet shops and the Mall.

The pick-up, drop-off spot on campus will be at the entrance to the parking area behind Blackwell Library nearest to Holloway Hall.

The ride will be free. However, there will be a box on board the trolley to help defray the cost of leasing the vehicle from Ocean City.

Dance Concert Planned December 11-13

The Salisbury State College Dance Company will present its 1982 Fall Concert from December 11-13 in Holloway Hall Auditorium, it was announced today by the College. Denay Trykowski, instructor of Physical Education and Health, will direct the program.

Tickets for the concert may be purchased at the door. General admission is $2, SSC students $1 and Senior Citizens and children under 12 years of age $.25.

In addition to its usual array of performance styles, the Dance Company will feature a suite of traditional German dances in its December 1982 Fall Concert. A live German band, directed by Paul Oltman, an SSC student, will accompany the dances.

Mr. Larry Becker, German language teacher and folk dance teacher from Virginia Beach, served as guest dance consultant to the Dance Company during a September residency on campus.

The SSC Dance Company peformances give student choreographers and performers opportunities to explore dance as an art form, a folk form and a form of entertainment.

This fall's concert, in addition to the German suite, will present two pieces also accompanied by live musicians. A ballet solo by Ann LeBaron will feature violinist Linda May. "If Toys Could Tap. . .," a character tap dance by Randa Collins, will be played by Gravelly Run band members Steve Quillen and Steve Lester. Trudy Stevenson has choreographed a modern piece with a spiritual theme entitled "The Well Will Never Run Dry." "Made to Order," a contemporary work choreographed by John Lee, has a ritualistic theme dealing with the soul within, and hints of death. "At the Hop," a suite of "50's" character dances restaged by Karen Woodsum with permission of the original choreographer, Beth Lauridsen, concludes the performance.

Energy Insight

by Mark W. Wilkerson

Two weeks ago, Georgetown University sponsored a two-day seminar entitled "The Business of Cogeneration." The upbeat tempo of this conference projected a very positive outlook regarding our nation's achieving energy independence.

Cogeneration is the simultaneous production of usable heat and electricity. This definition has recently been expanded to include any power source capable of providing the user with all or part of his electrical needs as well as putting some of this energy back into the electric supply grid. Law, established under the Public Utilities Regulatory Policy Act (PURPA) mandates the utility to "buy back" this electricity for 100% of the utility's avoided cost of producing this marginal amount. Cogeneration has exciting potential for producing heat and electricity from sources such as garbage and the sun.

There is a remote possibility that cogeneration on a small scale may be feasible in Holloway Hall and the new college center. This prospect will be investigated thoroughly.

Attends Conference

Bob Long, assistant professor of social work, attended the National Conference on Clinical Social Work in Washington, D.C., November 21. He served as a presider over a session dealing with the problems of the rural aged.

Energy Insight

by Mark W. Wilkerson

The most recent statistics available from the Department of General Services show that Salisbury State College has lower energy consumption per square foot of building than: Bowie, Coppin, Frostburg, Morgan, Towson, University of Baltimore at Charles Street, and St. Mary's College. This information covers the current fiscal year through September.

Conservation efforts and the weather joined forces in November to cut our consumption from 28,219 gallons (November 1981) to 18,462 gallons last month. This represents a cost avoidance of $10,000.

There is no excuse for any area on campus being too hot Thanks to those of you who have reported such problems. Every effort will be made to prevent this situation from occurring in the future.

Training Awards Program Announced by Soroptimists

The availability of a $400 scholarship for training or retraining mature women has been announced by Becky Johnson, President of Soroptimist International of Salisbury.

The training awards program for women is intended to assist mature women in upward mobility and in their efforts toward training and entry or reentry into the labor market.

An applicant must indicate the specific educational training necessary and how it will enable her to move to a higher-level skilled job. Financial need must be demonstrated. Preferably candidates would be heads of household completing undergraduate programs or entering vocational or technical training.

The deadline for completed applications is December 15. Applicants may obtain applications by contacting Henrietta Moore at Henrietta's Attic, 205 Maryland Ave., Salisbury, telephone 546-3700.

Food Service Given High Rating

Salisbury State College's Food Service Department was given a superior rating recently following a visit by the state health inspector.

The State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene issued an inspection report showing SSC with a 98-point rating out of a possible 100.

Among the objects inspected were food protection, cleanliness of personnel, food equipment and utensils, water source, sewage, plumbing, toilet facilities, garbage and refuse disposal, insect control, lighting, ventilation, dressing rooms and other operations.

Monte Bradley, director of food service, was pleased following the inspection. "We would have scored a perfect 100 if we had had more walk-in refrigerator space. That was our only mark-down and I hope we can correct that when we get a proposed new College Center. The College Snack Bar was also included in the inspection and it also scored high, missing only in the area of crowded facilities.

SALISBURY STATE COLLEGE

news

FEBRUARY 3, 1983 VOL. 12 NO. 15

Winter Term Called Successful

The recently concluded third annual Salisbury State College winter term was termed a success by Dr. Hal Schaffer, director of the college's Office of Continuing Education.

Five hundred and thirty-four students registered for 649 sections for the 32 courses offered.

Fifty students desired on campus housing and were housed in Manokin Dormitory.

This program, which is similar to the summer session, is completely self-supporting. The budget for the program is raised by the tuition and fees of the students who are enrolled.

Outdoor Club Meets

The Outdoor Club will hold its first meeting on Thursday, February 3rd at 7:00 p.m. in Tawes 118. This is a general organizational meeting, and all interested students are encouraged to attend. A list of upcoming events including our first trip, a ski weekend in Garrett County, Maryland, may be found on various bulletin boards around campus. The list will also be posted at the College Center Information Desk. Come on by Tawes 118 any Thursday evening to get information about our many exciting trips.

Attention Seniors

The State of Maryland Professional Career Test is now being scheduled. Applications are available through the Career Planning and Placement Center, HH 273. Deadline is April 13, 1983.

All seniors and graduate students planning to complete their degrees in 1982-83 should register with Career Planning and Placement at their earliest opportunity.

The final year is critical in the job/Grad. School campaign and an early start is a must. After registration, you will attend a one-hour Senior Placement Briefing. This briefing will outline the steps you should be taking to insure your Grad. School placement.

Valid I.D.'s Needed

Effective Friday, February 11 a valid Spring Semester I.D. will be requested of students and staff at designated events and places. Students and staff needing a valid I.D. may have pictures taken, I.D.s validated, or cards replaced ($2.00 fee) according to the schedule below:

Until February 4 8:30 am - 6:00 pm
Until February 11 8:30 am - 4:30 pm
After February 11 Every Tuesday & Wednesday from 1 - 2 pm

Location: Public Safety Office

Christian Fellowship

A weekly Christian Fellowship led by Dr. Jerome Lake, will be held every Wednesday during the spring semester beginning February 2, 1983, from 12:30 to 1:30 in Manokin Room 101 of the College Center.

Change in Withdrawal Procedures

Effective immediately the Dean of Students Office, in cooperation with other related staff, will assume the responsibility of handling all student requests for withdrawal from Salisbury State College. The intent of the new procedure is to provide a more formal means by which a student may withdraw from the college and simultaneously receive the proper guidance and pertinent information relative to the withdrawal process. Prior to the change all requests for withdrawal were handled in the Registrar's Office.

If thre are any questions concerning this change please feel free to contact the Dean of Students Office.

Rights and Privacy Act

SSC will assume the right, under the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, to provide student directory information without prior consent of the student.

Directory information is defined as a student's name, local address (if listed), date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of an athletic team member, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, most recent previous educational agency or institution attended, listing of officers of student organizations (including names and addresses).

In the event a student wants more or less directory information released, please notify the Office of Dean of Students ext. 6080 or stop by Room 243, Holloway Hall.

Insurance Available

Student Health Insurance information is available from the College Health Center or the Dean of Students Office.

To register your vehicle you must have your vehicle registration, drivers' license, and the $10.00 fee.

GARDENING NOTES

by Joan Maloof

Old man winter really has us in his grip and the gardening chores are over. It is the perfect time of year to sit in a warm building, look out your window and critique your grounds. Are they just as you'd like them to be? If not, where do they fall short? Finally, how much money can you afford to spend to improve them?

Perhaps there is an area of lawn you'd like to renovate, or a favorite flower or tree you've always admired in other gardens. Why not put one in your own garden?

When you've decided what you're lacking, the fun begins. Sit down with your nursery catalogs and/or your telephone book to find someone who supplies the plants you need. The next thing you know the winter blahs are gone and it seems like spring is just around the corner.

The City of Salisbury is going to have its first annual Dogwood Festival this spring. Wouldn't it be beautiful if every yard had a flowering dogwood?

The Salisbury State College grounds crew has plans for reland-scaping the front of Holloway Hall early this spring, in addition to planting many more flowers. Look for more details in future aritcles.

ENERGY INSIGHT

by Mark Wilkerson

On Campus: December energy consumption data indicates that our conservation efforts are steadily increasing in effectiveness. Although mild weather enabled the college to use 23,000 less gallons of fuel oil and 3,000 less kilowatt hours of electricity (i.e. less than December '81) our gallon per heating degree day consumption has decreased from 78 to 48. This is significant progress! Woldwide: The International Energy Agency is warning nations such as the United States not to idle conservation efforts or curtail investments in energy research and development. The latest World Energy Outlook is predicting that falling oil production in North America, the Soviet Union and the North Sea will strengthen O.P.E.C. This, coupled with an economic recovery with small progress being made in substituting renewable fuels for oil, could easily force us into another "energy crisis." Under such conditions you could again expect erratic pricing which would negatively affect us at home and at work.

Congratulations

Congratulations to Phyllis and Jim Phillips, director of pubiic safety, on the birth of a son, Evan Tomas, born on 12/23/82 at P.G.H. Evan weighed in at 9 lbs. 9 ozs.

Officers Jim Pusey and Jacob Hubbard, Public Safety Department, have recently graduated from the Eastern Shore Police Training Academy. They attended the Minimum Standards Course for Police Officers as mandated by the Maryland Police Training Commission.

The training these officers received is part of the Department of Public Safety's on going traning program to keep all officers up to date to current laws and procedures so that better service and protection can be offered to the community.

Officer Hubbard was recently promoted from Building Guard to Special Police Officer I.

Phi Kappa Phi Selections to be Made

The Salisbury State College chapter of the national academic honor society of Phi Kappa Phi is preparing for its annual initiation of new members. The society is interdisciplinary, thus drawing from all departments within the college.

The purpose of Phi Kappa Phi is to recognize and encourage superior scholarship in all academic disciplines. The society hopes that in recognizing and honoring those persons who have excelled in scholarship, in whatever field, it will stimulate others to expose excellence.

Membership is elected from the top five percent of the senior class, with all candidates having substantially higher than a 3.5 grade point average of a 4.0 scale. Juniors, whose academic performance so merits, are also eligible for consideration by the society.

Those students interested in being considered for membership in Phi Kappa Phi should contact Dr. G. Ray Thompson, HH 372, 543-6251 or 543-6245, by February 17.

WSSC Meeting

WSSC Radio will have its first club meeting on February 3 at 3:30 p.m. in the station in Tawes Hall. Everyone is welcome. Stop by and see the new WSSC.

Spring Theatre Trip

The English Department/College Center spring theatre trip on Thursday, March 1 is to Washington, D.C.'s Arena Stage for the exuberant revival of Moliere's The Imaginary Invalid.

In the title role of Argan the hypochondriac, actor Richard Bauer goes to physical excesses. According to David Richards in the Washington Post, this makes Bauer a perfect choice for his part: "For what is Argan, the first of the truly great pill-poppers, if not a man acutely in touch with every palpitation, shudder, burp, twitch and gas pain in his body. . . . Bauer, who can collapse like a deck chair, talk with or without teeth, emit a wheeze that sounds like wind off the Sahara, run at the nose (and after the maid), and seemingly touch his shoulders to his ears, has all the proper skills for the role."

Moliere's last comedy depicts a man so deeply ill he is "ready to marry his daughter to a perfect boob of a doctor in order to have free medical advice around the house."

Tickets are $10 each for full-time students and go on sale at the information desk in the College Center on February 15. Faculty and staff may purchase tickets for $12 each beginning February 22.

Departure time on March 1 will be 2:30 p.m. from Maggs circle. The ticket price includes bus transporation to and from Arena Stage's Kreeger Theater. For further information, call the information desk (ext. 6090) or Bill Horne (ext. 6442).

Beautiful Speaker

William W. Warner, much heralded author of Beautiful Swimmers, will speak to members and guests of the Dorchester County Historical Society at its annual banquet on Friday, March 11. His topic will be, "Writing About the Bay . . . The Power of Local History."

Warner's second book, Distant Waters: The Fate of the North Atlantic Fisherman is to be published in April.

Beautiful Swimmers, the story of the Chesapeake Bay blue crab and the men who catch them, received the Phi Beta Kappa Science Award, the Christopher Medal and the Pulitzer Prize for general non-fiction.

The March 11 banquet will be held at the Minnette M. Dick Hall on Hambrooks Boulevard. The public is invited. There will be a cash bar and social hour at 6 p.m. and dinner starting at 7 p.m. The cost is $12.50 per person.

All seats will be reserved and tickets will not be sold at the door. For more Information, contact Mrs. Raymond J. Curran Sr. at (301) 228-2616 or the Dorchester County Historical Society at 228-7953 on Fridays from 9 to 3 p.m.

Reservations Now Required

Because of the increase in demand for Food Service and room space for special events, it has become imperative to make "Reservations" before planning an event.

Presently there are only a few dates available until after graduation 1983.

Tentative dates cannot be held for more than two weeks after the initial reservations call without express approval from the Food Service Department.

Please make plans and arrangements as far in advance as possible.

Contact: "Reservations" Mrs. Karen Griffin, College Center Office, ext. 6100.

R. B. Kitaj Exhibition

An exhibition of the works of R.B. Kitaj will be on view at the College through March 7.

Kitaj has become a major force in figural painting. Many of his concerns and interests are illustrated by the 27 prints in the exhibition, organized by Malcolm Daniel, coordinator of Gallery Interpretation for the Baltimore Museum of Art.

Among the subjects touched on are art history, the American folk hero, baseball, cinema, Jewish history and Nazism, poetry, revolution and sexual intrigue.

For gallery hours, contact the Art Department at ext. 6270. Guided presentations are available for interested groups.

Nursing Major Deadline

The application deadline for enrollment in the Nursing major for the fall semester is March 1. That deadline applies to those pre-nursing students anticipating registering for Nursing 300 Professional Nursing Concepts for fall '83 as well as other students interested in the major. The application form may be obtained from the Department of Nursing and must be submitted no later than March 1. The next application deadline is October 1.

AUGUST, DECEMBER GRADS NOTE

Students who plan to complete degree requirements in August or December must make application in the Registrar's Office by March 4. Students should apply by this date to ensure adequate time for a preliminary audit of their records and appropriate advisement by their faculty advisors. August and December graduates may participate in the May 1984 commencement ceremony.

To Russia for Fun

A non-credit course entitled "Russia for Fun and Profit" will be taught by Dr. Dagmar Berry during Salisbury State College's spring continuing education program. The course will be offered Tuesdays from 7 - 9 p.m., February 15 - May 24, in Caruthers Hall, room 108. The cost for the course includes fees of $30 for tuition and $6 for registration.

The course is designed to acquaint businessmen and businesswomen, tourists or students with everyday life in the Soviet Union. The course will focus on everyday situations in Russia and how to survive in hotels and restaurants. Topics such as culture, history, geography, customs and language will be discussed in a manner to enable participants to get more out of a possible visit to the country. Some elementary language instruction such as how to order a meal and how to say please and thank you will be covered.

For more information, contact the Office of Continuing Education, ext. 6170.

Dr. Nayland Page, professor of History and Political Science, has just returned from Puerto Rico where he has been serving as a consultant to a local college there.

Dr. Page was appointed by the Middle States Association several years ago to assist Christian University College of the Americas to prepare for an accreditation. He assisted the college with curriculum development, financial arrangements, personnel, library development and other matters.

This was Dr. Page's third visit to the Puerto Rico college and he anticipates approximately two visits per year over the next four years to complete the assignment.

A year ago Dr. Page visited Spain as a consultant to assist four American universities with overseas programs.

New Withdrawal Policy

Effective immediately, the Dean of Students Office, in cooperation with other related staff, will assume the responsibility of handling all student requests for withdrawal from Salisbury State College. The intent of the new procedure is to provide a more formal means by which a student may withdraw from the college and simultaneously receive the proper guidance and pertinent information relative to the withdrawal process. Prior to the change all requests for withdrawal were handled in the Registrar's Office.

If there are any questions concerning this change please feel free to contact the Dean of Students Office.

Outdoor Club Meeting

The featured speaker at the Outdoor Club meeting on Thursday, February 10, at 7 p.m., will be Joe Gilbert.

His topic, a timely one because of the upcoming ski trip on February 18, 19 and 20, will be "Hypothermia: Prevention, Identification, Treatment." The $2 deposits for the ski trip will be required at that time. This week's meeting will be in the Manokin Room of the College Center. After that, weekly club meetings will be in the Tawes Hall, room 118.

Barye's Animals'

"Barye's Animals," an exhibition of bronzes by sculptor Antoine-Louis Barye, will open on February 7 at the college and continue through March 7. Organized by The Baltimore Museum of Art, the traveling exhibition is made possible through grants from the Maryland Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington, D.C.

Barye, one of the major Romantic artists of the 19th century, is best-known for his work which featured as its subject matter a wide range of animals, both wild and domestic. Often he chose to portray violent scenes—tigers, jaguars and other carnivores in the act of devouring other animals and even human beings. Barye obviously favored members of the feline family and more than 50 bronzes exist which depict various species of cats engaged in diverse activities. In addition to animals, Barye also drew both classical myths and historical subjects for representation; however, animals, by far, comprise the largest portion of his production.

For gallery hours, contact the Art Department at ext. 6270. Guided presentations are available for interested groups.

Jazz Ambassadors

The Jazz Ambassadors of the U.S. Army Field Band will return to for a Holloway Hall Auditorium performance on Thursday, February 17, at 8 p.m.

Since its creation in the fall of 1969, this elite Big Band ensemble has earned widespread acclaim with its distinctive musical styling. The musicians of the Jazz Ambassadors show versatility in their handling of tunes ranging from Big Band sounds of the '30s to the popular hits of today.

Free tickets for the concert may be obtained at the College Center director's office Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at WSBY and WQHQ radio stations and the Army Recruiting Station in the Twilley Shopping Center.

For more information, call ext. 6090.

Lecture on Herpes

Herpes will be the topic of a lecture presented by the Salisbury State Program Board to the campus and community on Thursday, February 10 at 8 p.m. in Holloway Hall Auditorium. Dr. Kevin Murphy, a widely published and respected scientist of Herpes research, will deliver the lecture, Herpes: the Simplex Complex.

Said Dr. Murphy in a Time Magazine interview," If you are going to have sex, you are going to have to take the risk of getting herpes."

Save Trees, Feed Them

GARDEN NOTES

by Joan E. Maloof

Most gardeners lavish care and fertilizer on their flowers and lawns, but all too many believe that trees can get along on their own. They point out healthy forest trees as an example. Certainly no one fertilizes forest trees, but they do get plenty of nutrients from decaying leaves and other organic matter on the forest's floor.

Suburban trees do not benefit from this natural fertilization. Most leaves are raked up to prevent the lawn from suffocation and to keep the yard looking neat. Another detriment to trees grown around the home or campus is sidewalks and roadways. Besides restricting water and air from the roots, they are also a target for salt in the winter. Over a period of time this salt can build up to toxic concentrations. Living under such unnatural conditions, these trees can only attain their full beauty if they are properly fertilized.

The fertilizer spread on the lawn is usually absorbed by the grass plants long before it can get down to the deeper zone of the tree roots. For this reason holes 17 inches to 24 inches deep must be made in the soil to get the fertilizer down where it will do your tree the most good. These holes should be made under the "drop line" of the branches. You will need about 10 holes for each inch of the tree's diameter. Any tool, such as a crowbar, which can dig a long narrow hole is suitable. The Salisbury State College grounds crew speeds their job up with a heavy duty electric drill and a large bit.

A good rule of thumb for the proper amount of fertilizer is two pounds per inch of trunk diameter. Thus a four-inch diameter tree should have eight pounds of fertilizer distributed to 40 holes. Lawn fertilizer is fine as long as it contains no weed killer.

The SSC grounds crew does not attempt to fertilize every tree every year. We target different areas each year. This year all of the young trees which have been planted within the past three years will be fertilized.

Spring is the ideal time to fertilize since the tree roots are just beginning to absorb water and nutrients more rapidly. But here on campus there are so many extra gound care duties in the spring that we cannot take the time to fertilize trees then. By fertilizing now the nutrients will be in the soil and ready for the first flush of growth in the spring and the grounds crew will be planting flowers, lining fields and cutting grass.

UMES VACANCY

UMES has a vacancy for the assistant director of the Research and Grants Office. Qualifications are: Ph.D.; background in natural/physical or behavioral sciences; experience with proposal writing; and grant/contract administration.

For more information, contact Linda Ross at ext. 6024 or HH 275.

Readings by Waters

Michael Waters recently gave readings from his book, Not Just Any Death (BOA Editions, 1980), at the University of Rhode Island, Roger Williams College and Case Western Reserve University. He also lectured at a conference, "Publishing in the '80s," held at Washington College.

Also, some of his recent work has been accepted for publication by The Yale Review, The Georgia Review, The Antioch Review, The Missouri Review and other journals.

Live, It's Mark Weiner!

Marc Weiner, one of America's hottest comedians, will be performing in the Holloway Hall Auditorium on Tuesday, February 15, at 8p.m. Weiner is the popular puppeteer from Saturday Night Live and has appeared on HBO, Real People and many of the top comedy clubs around the country.

He will be bringing his menagerie of papier mache puppets (the Weinerettes) which include Rocko Weineretto, Weinerman, Mr. Rogers and Elvis Presley.

Admission is free to full-time SSC students and $3 to the general public. The performance is sponsored by the Salisbury State Program Board.

Long's Have a Boy

Pam Long, an account auditor I with the Cashier's Office, gave birth to Nathan Kyle on Friday, February 4, in Peninsula General at 11 a.m. Pam and husband Jerry are both SSC graduates. Nathan is their first child.

Cellist is Guest Lecturer

Dr. Keith Fleming, a cellist with the Kennedy Center Opera House Orchestra and a member of the music faculty of George Washington University, will be a guest lecturer for the voice classes of Norma Heyde in the Musical Arts Center on Monday, February 14, from 11 a.m. - 12:15 p.m., and Tuesday, February 15, from 11 a.m. - 12:15 p.m. and 2 - 3:15 p.m. He will present lectures on the different types of voices. Recorded examples of the great singers of this century will be heard.

All interested students, faculty and staff members are invited to attend any one of the lectures.

Black Drama Company Production Upcoming

The San Francisco African American Drama Company of California brings its heralded production of "Can I Speak for You Brother?" to the Holloway Hall Auditorium on Saturday, February 19, at 8 p.m. under sponsorship of the Salisbury State Program Board. The performance celebrates 1983's Black History Month.

"Can I Speak for You Brother?" is a one-man show covering the lives of nine great Black American leaders including Martin Luther King, Frederick Douglass, Malcolm X, Haki Madhubuti (Don L. Lee) and High John. It has tourned the country since 1979.

. . . Brother?" is performed by Phillip E. Walker, who has played in the NBC-TV series, "The Duke," with Robert Conrad, with John Cassavettes in the CBS-TV film, Flesh and Blood, and in the Italian feature film, Save the Last Dance for Me, in addition to several industrial films.

"Can I Speak for You Brother?" is directed by Ethel Pitts Walker, an 18 year theatre veteran. Admission for the general public is $3.

Administrative Services Workshop

Administrative Services sponsored an in-house supervisory training workshop offered through the Office of Continuing Education from January 17-22. Supervisors from Food Services, Public Safety and Maintenance attended the on-campus workshop on "Motivation and Productivity." Participants included Gwen Dennis, John Briddell, Jay Collins, Sam Crawford, Sam Stutsman, Chet Boggs, Wayne Hurley, Jack Bunting, Walt Warren, Boyd Polk, Richard Briddell, Carmen DiSylvestro and Vicki Kozlowski. A follow-up session has been scheduled for the beginning of May to determine the practical applicability of information conveyed in the workshop.

Thompson is Speaker

Dr. G. Ray Thompson, professor of History, was a recent guest speaker at the Worcester County Public Library Lecture Series. His illustrated topic was "Nineteeth Century German Eccentrics?: The Wittelsbachs of Bavaria."

Self Help: Self Hypnosis

"Self-Hypnosis for Self-Improvement" offered by Dr. R.J. McBrien is open to full-time SSC students free of charge. The course meets four consecutive Mondays from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. beginning February 14.

Resource Disrespect

ENERGY INSIGHT

by Mark Wilkerson

Water and energy are admittedly separate topics. However, there has developed in this country an all too similar disrespect for each of these life sustaining resources. Water, like oil or coal, is not found in infinite supply yet it is treated with the same selfish overindulgence which led us to the energy "crises" of the '70s. Lack of intelligent water management has led many "resource-watchers" to warn that a water crisis could very well be our next bumbling experience along our road to individual "prosperity."

Christian Fellowship

A weekly Christian Fellowship led by Dr. Jerome Lake will be held each Wednesday during the spring semester from noon to 1 p.m. in Manokin Room 101 of the College Center.

Clio Clips on View

The annual Clio Award Films, sponsored by the Art, Business Administration and Communication Arts Departments, will be shown on February 14 and 15 in Holloway Hall Auditorium.

Showings will be at 7 p.m. on February 14 and 10 a.m. on February 15. Admission is free.

These films feature the television commercials selected best in their categories and include foreign commercials as well as domestic. Many U.S. commericals are not seen locally and will be new to many viewers.

This year not only will the Clio Award winners be shown, but also the Clio Award winners of 1972. Compare what a difference a decade makes.

Genesis Meeting Thursday

Genesis will hold an important organizational meeting, Thursday, February 10, at 3:30 p.m. in Holloway Hall, room 230. All volunteers from last semester are urged to attend. Anyone interested in volunteering for Genesis is invited to attend. Contact Tina Savet, Chester 5C-2, or Counseling Services for further information.

Student Health Insurance

Student Health Insurance information is available from the Dean of Students Office.

Income Tax Seminars

The Salisbury State student chapter of the National Association of Accountants is holding an income tax preparation seminar, free-of-charge, on Wednesday, February 16, at 7:30 p.m. in Holloway Hall Auditorium. Co-sponsor is the Business Administration and Economics Department.

The seminar is designed to help students, senior citizens and the general public with simple tax problems. Persons desiring assistance should bring their tax forms to the seminar for specific help.

NAA officers note that anyone with complex questions concerning income tax should consult a tax professional.

Spring Theatre Trip

The English Department/College Center spring theatre trip on Tuesday, March 1 is to Washington, D.C.'s Arena Stage for the exuberant revival of Moliere's The Imaginary Invalid.

In the title role of Argan the hypochondriac, actor Richard Bauer goes to physical excesses. According to David Richards in the Washington Post, this makes Bauer a perfect choice for his part: "For what is Argan, the first of the truly great pill-poppers, if not a man acutely in touch with every palpitation, shudder, burp, twitch and gas pain in his body. . . . Bauer, who can collapse like a deck chair, talk with or without teeth, emit a wheeze that sounds like wind off the Sahara, run at the nose (and after the maid), and seemingly touch his shoulders to his ears, has all the proper skills for the role."

Moliere's last comedy depicts a man so deeply ill he is "ready to marry his daughter to a perfect boob of a doctor in order to have free medical advice around the house."

Tickets are $10 each for full-time students and go on sale at the information desk in the College Center on February 15. Faculty and staff may purchase tickets for $12 each beginning February 22.

Departure time on March 1 will be 2:30 p.m. from Maggs circle. The ticket price includes bus transporation to and from Arena Stage's Kreeger Theater. For further information, call the information desk (ext. 6090) or Bill Horne (ext. 6442).

Beautiful Speaker

William W. Warner, much heralded author of Beautiful Swimmers, will speak to members and guests of the Dorchester County Historical Society at its annual banquet on Friday, March 11. His topic will be, "Writing About the Bay . . . The Power of Local History."

Warner's second book, Distant Waters: The Fate of the North Atlantic Fisherman is to be published in April.

Beautiful Swimmers, the story of the Chesapeake Bay blue crab and the men who catch them, received the Phi Beta Kappa Science Award, the Christopher Medal and the Pulitzer Prize for general non-fiction.

The March 11 banquet will be held at the Minnette M. Dick Hall on Hambrooks Boulevard. The public is invited. There will be a cash bar and social hour at 6 p.m. and dinner starting at 7 p.m. The cost is $12.50 per person.

All seats will be reserved and tickets will not be sold at the door. For more Information, contact Mrs. Raymond J. Curran Sr. at (301) 228-2616 or the Dorchester County Historical Society at 228-7953 on Fridays from 9 to 3 p.m.

Reservations Now Required

Because of the increase in demand for Food Service and room space for special events, it has become imperative to make "Reservations" before planning an event.

Presently there are only a few dates available until after graduation 1983.

Tentative dates cannot be held for more than two weeks after the initial reservations call without express approval from the Food Service Department.

Please make plans and arrangements as far in advance as possible.

Contact: "Reservations" Mrs. Karen Griffin, College Center Office, ext. 6100.

R. B. Kitaj Exhibition

An exhibition of the works of R.B. Kitaj will be on view at the College through March 7.

Kitaj has become a major force in figural painting. Many of his concerns and interests are illustrated by the 27 prints in the exhibition, organized by Malcolm Daniel, coordinator of Gallery Interpretation for the Baltimore Museum of Art.

Among the subjects touched on are art history, the American folk hero, baseball, cinema, Jewish history and Nazism, poetry, revolution and sexual intrigue.

For gallery hours, contact the Art Department at ext. 6270. Guided presentations are available for interested groups.

Christian Fellowship

A weekly Christian Fellowship led by Dr. Jerome Lake will be held each Wednesday during the spring semester from noon to 1 p.m. in Manokin Room 101 of the College Center.

Barye's Animals'

"Barye's Animals," an exhibition of bronzes by sculptor Antoine-Louis Barye, will open on February 7 at the college and continue through March 7. Organized by The Baltimore Museum of Art, the traveling exhibition is made possible through grants from the Maryland Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington, D.C.

Barye, one of the major Romantic artists of the 19th century, is best-known for his work which featured as its subject matter a wide range of animals, both wild and domestic. Often he chose to portray violent scenes—tigers, jaguars and other carnivores in the act of devouring other animals and even human beings. Barye obviously favored members of the feline family and more than 50 bronzes exist which depict various species of cats engaged in diverse activities. In addition to animals, Barye also drew both classical myths and historical subjects for representation; however, animals, by far, comprise the largest portion of his production.

For gallery hours, contact the Art Department at ext. 6270. Guided presentations are available for interested groups.

Martin Gains New Post

Terry Martin has been named director of counseling for the Foundation Workshops sponsored by the National Forum for Death Education and Counseling.

Spring Early Signs Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

Flowers already?!?! Believe it or not, you may see some shrubs, trees and bulbs in bloom already if you look around. The most striking flowers are those of the quince shrub. Quinces bear pink to orange-red flowers. Here on campus we have a quince shrub in the woods area which is in full bloom. This bush is no exception; most of the quince shrubs in Salisbury are in bloom now. A few sprigs cut and brought indoors make a cheerful reminder that spring is just around the corner.

Other flowers you may see now are forsythia, which are growing in sunny sheltered locations, snowdrops, crocus and even the small flowers of the maple tree.

This exceptionally early flowering will not kill the plants, but of course they cannot flower again later in the spring. The only detrimental effect will be a less glorious show from these plants when spring finally does arrive.

Free Market Equals Fair Price Energy Insight

by Mark W. Wilkerson

Natural gas decontrol is a hot topic on Capitol Hill these days. Those groups strongly opposing such legislative action say that already burdened families, dependent on natural gas for heat, cooking, etc. will not be able to absorb the unavoidable increases should decontrol take place. One such "anti-decontrol" group is the Citizens Labor Energy Coalition. They are predicting skyrocketing prices to the tune of 80 percent increases.

However, members of the Federal Energy Regulation Commission, as well as gas suppliers, are insisting gas decontrol will force artificially inflated prices down. The FERC also cites that oil decontrol in 1981 has played a major role in the declining costs of gasoline.

I happen to be a fiscal conservative and therefore agree with President Reagan's point of view. Lack of well head regulations should allow the free market to decide the fair market price of natural gas. As it stands right now, high gas prices have forced gas suppliers out of many heavy industrial markets. Industries' growing ability to switch easily from gas to oil, combined with a slow economic recovery, is already causing a domestic natural gas "glut." I agree with the suppliers who say such decontrol will allow them to be more competitive with the oil industry. It has to or the gas industry will suffocate in its own abundance.

Spring Theatre Trip

The English Department/College Center spring theatre trip on Tuesday, March 1 is to Washington, D.C.'s Arena Stage for the exuberant revival of Moliere's The Imaginary Invalid.

Tickets are $10 each for full-time students and go on sale at the information desk in the College Center on February 15. Faculty and staff may purchase tickets for $12 each beginning February 22.

Departure time on March 1 will be 2:30 p.m. from Maggs circle. The ticket price includes bus transporation to and from Arena Stage's Kreeger Theater. For further information, call the information desk (ext. 6090) or Bill Horne (ext. 6442).

Mankiewicz Here Monday

Frank Mankiewicz, former press secretary to Senator Robert F. Kennedy and now president of National Public Radio, will speak at Holloway Hall on Monday, February 28.

Mankiewicz has been head of the nationwide radio system since 1977. It includes 260 interconnected non-commercial radio stations serving communities in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia.

An attorney and journalist, Mankiewicz served as press secretary to Senator Kennedy from 1966 to 1968; in 1972 he was campaign director for the presidential campaign of George McGovern. Earlier in his career, he served with the Peace Corps as country director in Lima, Peru and as regional director for Latin America.

Hedeen Guest Author

Dr. Robert Hedeen, professor of Biology and Eastern Shore author, will be a guest author at the annual Maryland Book and Author Luncheon on April 30 here. The event is sponsored by the Maryland Magazine and the Maryland Center for Public Broadcasting.

The purpose of the luncheon is to honor those Marylanders who have had books published within the last two years. Dr. Hedeen will be hosted by a representative of the Salisbury Chapter of the American Association of University Women.

Dr. Hedeen's book, Naturalist on the Nanticoke, was published last year and has been lauded in a number of newspapers, including the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The book describes the natural history and ecology of the Nanticoke River, flowing from a point near Seaford, Del. to the Chesapeake Bay.

Gala Tix on Sale

Tickets are on sale for the Salisbury State College Foundation's fourth annual gala, scheduled for April 9 in the Ruth Powell Dining Hall.

Anyone desiring tickets ($100 per couple) may call the Foundation Office at ext. 6030. Donations for the gala are deductible for income tax purposes.

This year the gala will feature cocktails and entertainment by the Crabtown Stompers from Annapolis. As a special feature, everyone attending will receive autographed John Moll prints.

Valet service will be provided at the dining hall.

Martha Graham, general chairperson for the gala, said, "Purchasing gala tickets will not only provide an outstanding social evening for the donor and his or her guest but will contribute to the enrichment of programs at Salisbury State.

"More and more, publicly funded colleges are finding it necessary to rely on private support for programs which contribute greatly to educational experiences of students but cannot be funded by the institutions themselves because of tightened budgets," she said.

"The foundation can accept special purpose gifts as well as general donations. Special gifts are, of course, used as specified by donors while general donations may be used for enrichment programs selected by the board of directors. Cultural activities have been recipients of Foundation grants along with academically oriented programs such as writing competitions," Mrs. Graham said.

Other activities include: awards to the English Department for creative writing efforts; funds to science professors for a Delmarva solar energy project; funds to student interns in Biology to conduct research at the Horn Point laboratory; support of lecturers; grants for production of a kinetic cell; sponsorship of field trips to Kennedy Center, the National Museum of Art, Congress and the Philadelphia Museum of Art; and development of an oral history section of Blackwell Library, involving interviews recorded on tape to perpetuate memories of prominent citizens of the Eastern Shore.

Garden Notes

by Joan Maloof

COLORFUL PLANTS FOR SHADY SPOTS

Do you have a shady garden area which you have never found just the right plant for? Why not try tuberous begonias or caladiums this year? Tuberous begonias are among the most colorful of shade-tolerant plants. Their delicate rose-like flowers come in shades of reds, pinks, yellows and oranges. Caladiums are grown for their decorative leaves rather than their flowers but they are no less colorful than the begonias. The caladium leaf resembles an elephant ear to many people and it comes in various patterns of white, green, pink and red. The white patterned leaves are particularly striking in an otherwise dark corner.

To get the maximum enjoyment from these plants, start them indoors now. The lumpy brown tubers may be planted in peat pots and placed on a sunny window sill or in a heated sun porch. Keep the potting soil damp and in a few weeks you will see little green shoots breaking the soil surface. In another few weeks your plants should have three to five small leaves. By this time, it should be warm enough to plant your caladiums and tuberous begonias outside.

A little water during dry spells is the only care your plants will need until the last days of fall. Neither the caladium nor the tuberous begonia is winter hardy so after the first frost they must be dug and stored for the winter.

Here on campus we will be planting 100 caladiums this spring. They will be planted in the gardens outside of the highrise dormitories, Chester and Choptank, where they should be visible from Camden Avenue. Other shady spots on campus, to be brightened by the caladiums, are the planters near the Dining Hall windows and the entrance to Devilbiss Hall. Look for them anytime between late April and September.

Quality Circles Seminar

A "Quality Circles" seminar, sponsored by the Salisbury Area Chamber of Commerce, Greater Salisbury Committee and the SSC Business Administration and Economics Department, will be held on campus today from 3-4:30 p.m. in Caruthers Hall, room 122.

Dr. Bob Stark, Business Administration professor, and Robert Fairbanks, director of quality control at Waverly Press, will serve on a panel.

Regina B. Haffner, assistant professor of Business Administration and Economics, arranged the conference. Reservations can be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce at 749-0144.

Delaney is Speaker

Dr. Edmund T. Delaney, professor and chairman of the Department of Psychology, was a recent guest speaker at Temple Beth Israel. He spoke to the adult education class on the topic of "Stress Related to Public School Elementary and Secondary Teacher Burn-Out." Dr. Delaney and his family attended breakfast which preceded the talk.

Energy Insight

ENERGY PARK: A BETTER IDEA?

by Mark W. Wilkerson

Ever heard of an energy park? The idea surfaced in the early 70s when the nation was first rocked by the oil shortage. The basic concept of an energy park involves situating business, industry, schools, and residences, etc. together in a strategically organized community. The purpose of such an arrangement would be to minimize waste while maximizing the efficient consumption of resources (e.g. land, water, energy and garbage).

For example: Anytime electricity is produced, heat is a major necessary by-product. A large manufacturer or utility could supply heat to a number of small businesses and homes. All of that steam being dumped into the atmosphere at the Vienna Operating Plant could probably heat most of the town if a transmission system were available.

The idea has been slow to materialize but is evolving into an accepted design of new suburban growth. An energy park exists in St. Paul, Minn. Another is being designed near Fall River, Mass. The energy park will undoubedly become more popular as resources become more precious.

Hampton Institute President Is Speaker Here February 24

Dr. William R. Harvey, president of Hampton Institute, will address a SSC audience in Holloway Hall Auditorium on Thursday, February 24, at 8 p.m. The public is invited; there is no admission charge.

Dr. Harvey was elected president of Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., in July 1978. Founded in 1868, Hampton Institute currently enrolls some 3,800 students in 26 fields of undergraduate study and 11 areas of graduate work.

Honors and awards of Dr. Harvey include: Woodrow Wilson "Martin Luther King Fellowship" (1966-70); Harvard University Higher Education Administrative Fellowship (1969); and Woodrow Wilson Administrative Intern Fellowship (1970). Active on many national fronts, he is a board member of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and Presidential Scholars Commission Alumni Council at Harvard University and the University of Virginia.

Also on the program with Dr. Harvey will be: Dr. Bellavance; Rev. Jerry Smith, pastor of United House of Prayer, Salisbury; Harry Handy, representing the NAACP; W. Paul Martin, Jr., mayor of Salisbury; and Rita Washington.

Film Previews Scheduled

Two films have been rented to evaluate for possible purchase and will be available for previewing by faculty and staff who are interested in using them for instructional purposes.

Managing Stress is some 35 minutes. Stress in moderation is a healthy and energizing force for most people. But it can also build into unhealthy tension. This film presents important research-based information on work-related stress. It is designed to help the viewer recognize common sources of stress, assess his or her own capacity to tolerate stress and become more aware of alternative means for coping with stress. Screenings are in the Communications Center in Caruthers Hall on Tuesday, March 1, at 9 a.m., Wednesday, March 2, at 3 p.m., and Thursday, March 3, at 1 p.m.

Decisions is some 35 minutes. This film examines the decision making process from both a practical and psychological point of view and analyzes why decisions are so difficult for many people. The film deals with the problems faced in making a choice: the feelings of anxiety, the self-doubt, the fear of being wrong. Awareness of these feelings may enable people to overcome some of their anxiety and begin to have the self-confidence necessary for effective decision making. Screenings are in the Communications Center on Tuesday, March 8, at 9 a.m.; Wednesday, March 9, at 3 p.m.; and Thursday, March 10, at 1 p.m.

Detective Film Series

Some of history's greatest detective films are being shown free on campus through April 26.

The films are being shown as a companion film series to "Studies in English: The Mystery Novel." Film showings are 7 p.m. on Monday and 12:30 p.m. on Tuesday.

Films in the series include: Alfred Hitchcock's Suspicion (1941) with Cary Grant and Joan Fontaine, February 28 and March 1; The Garden Murder Case (1936) featuring Philo Vance, March 7-8; Charlie Chan in the Secret Service (1944) featuring Sidney Toler, March 14-15; The Thin Man (1934) with William Powell and Myrna Loy, March 28-29; The Big Sleep (1946) featuring Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall, April 4-5; Laura (1944), which Otto Preminger considers his best film, April 11-12; Murder She Said (1962), adapted from Agatha Christie's 1957 novel with Margaret Rutherford, April 18-19; and In the Heat of the Night (1967) with Sidney Poitier and Rod Steiger, April 25-26.

'Weather: How to Read It'

The Outdoor Club meeting at 7 p.m. on Thursday, February 24, will feature David Block of the Geography faculty on the topic "Weather: How to Read It." For this week only, the meeting will not be in Tawes 118 but in DSH 223. Upcoming Outdoor Club acitivities to be discussed include the rappelling drill in Maggs Gym and the spring break trip to Montreal and/or to Florida.

Salisbury Festival - "College in the Park"

The first Salisbury Festival, a three-day combination effort of the Salisbury Wicomico Arts Council, the Newtowne Association, the Chamber of Commerce and the College, will be held April 22-24.

The Chamber of Commerce will kick off the weekend festivities with a block party in Riverwalk Park on Friday night. On Saturday, the traditional Arts Festival on the Downtown Plaza, hosted by the Downtown Salisbury Association and the Newtowne Festival, will be held simultaneously. On Sunday afternoon, SSC will present "College in the Park" in City Park.

The "College in the Park" chairperson is Mrs. Carol Bosserman. Check the SSC News, the Flyer, the Salisbury Times and the Advertiser for future details or call Mrs. Bosserman at ext. 6020.

Planning Minor Approved

SSC is now offering an interdisciplinary minor in Planning. The 21-credit hour program provides a flexible structure from which students can devise a suitable curriculum to complement their major. It is designed both to strengthen and diversify a student's undergraduate training and to enhance the range of career opportunities and professional options available upon graduation. In many cases, particular jobs may require just the combination of skills and background which can be obtained through synthesis of a major field of study and supplementary training in appropriate areas of planning.

Urban and regional planners develop policies and programs to help solve a variety of economic, environmental, social and political problems facing contemporary society. Planning recommendations may concern land use and zoning, housing, transportation, environmental, quality, economic development and the location of suitable public services (schools, libraries, water and sewer lines, etc.)

Most planners today work for city, county or regional planning agencies, although many are being employed by states and the federal government. However, it is in private businesses, research organizations and consultant firms where the number of planners is probably increasing most rapidly. Planners are being employed by industrial firms, land developers, banks, airline companies, utilities and many other firms which provide services subject to government regulation.

Planners also work for international organizations such as the Agency for International Development and the World Bank.

Each of the following departments offer at least one course whose content provides background related to an area of Planning: Biological Sciences, Business Administration, Economics, Geography and Regional Planning, Mathematical Sciences, Physical Sciences, Political Science, Social Work and Sociology. In addition, a faculty member from each of these departments has agreed to serve as departmental representative concerning matters related to the Planning minor.

Anyone interested in learning more about the program (curriculum requirements, for example), should contact a faculty member in the Department of Geography and Regional Planning or seek assistance from their major advisor or departmental Planning representative.

Cleary Work on Exhibit

Last June, a watercolor by John Cleary was accepted for the 1982 Painting, Prints and Drawing Exhibition at the Parkersburg Art Center in Parkersburg, W. Va. The jurors were Dr. J. Tasse of Marietta College, D. Roberts of Ohio University and J. Kilgore of Marshall University.

Also, this past fall two large oil paintings were accepted for juried shows in Louisiana and Arkansas. The Biennial National Exhibition at the Meadows Museum of Art in Shreveport, La. was juried by Joseph Shannon from the Hirshhorn Museum of the Smithsonian Institute. The 25th annual Delta Art Exhibition at the Arkansas Arts Center in Little Rock, Ark. was judged by Hilton Kramer, editor of the New Criterion and former chief art critic for the New York Times.

During January and February at the Summit Art Center, another watercolor by Cleary was on exhibit. This work was selected by Vivien Raynor, art critic of the New York Times. Until April 12 at the Lowe Building in Annapolis, another watercolor may be seen. The second annual General Assembly Art Show was juried by the following jurors: Howard Fox, associate curator of the Hirshhorn Museum; Clair List, associate curator of Contemporary Art, The Corcoran Gallery; and David Miller, visual grants juror from the state of Florida.

R. B. Kitaj Exhibition

An exhibition of the works of R.B. Kitaj will be on view at the College through March 7.

Kitaj has become a major force in figural painting. Many of his concerns and interests are illustrated by the 27 prints in the exhibition, organized by Malcolm Daniel, coordinator of Gallery Interpretation for the Baltimore Museum of Art.

Among the subjects touched on are art history, the American folk hero, baseball, cinema, Jewish history and Nazism, poetry, revolution and sexual intrigue.

For gallery hours, contact the Art Department at ext. 6270. Guided presentations are available for interested groups.

Special Interest Housing

The Special Interest Housing Committee wishes to remind academic departments and student organizations that the deadline for filing applications in the Housing Office is Friday, March 18. Groups interested in applying may contact Barry King, director of Residence Life, for assistance with that process.

Aug., Dec. Grads

Students who plan to complete degree requirements in August or December must make application in the Registrar's Office by March 4. Students should apply by this date to ensure adequate time for a preliminary audit of their records and appropriate advisement by their faculty advisors. August and December graduates may participate in the May 1984 commencement ceremony.

Energy Insight

Energy Import Tax

by Mark W. Wilkerson

More news from Washington is less than encouraging, depending of course on how you look at it. Senator Pete Domenici (R-NM), chairman of the Senate Budget Committee, is strongly in favor of raising the tax on imported oil by $10 per barrel. This would mean an additional 16 cents per gallon at the gas pump along with a similar effect on home heating oil.

So it seems that despite the rapid downfall of world oil prices, the proposed tax would offset any real benefit to the consumer. Gas and oil prices may decline through September but could be immediately raised to the present level or higher by October if this powerful senate committee has its way.

Why is such a tax even being considered? A recent article in Energy User News cites the immediate need to lower the federal deficit as the primary reason. It has been estimated that this tax would bring in as much as $100 billion over a three year period. The article also mentioned other, less "capitalistic" motives for such a tax. There is a growing reluctance to invest in capital intensive energy conservation projects due to uncertain economic conditions as well as longer paybacks. A tax would instill the continued need to reduce our dependence on foreign energy sources by an estimated 300,000 barrels per day. By the way, there are approximately 42 gallons of No. 2 fuel oil in a barrel of oil.

Arguments against such a tax are based on the anticipated overall effect of economic recovery. However, if an economic recovery is sparked by a short-term fall in world oil prices then how strong a recovery could it be?

Garden Notes

Hints for a Rosy Garden

by Joan E. Maloof

If you're fond of roses and want to get the healthiest, most economical, plants possible now is the time to order them.

For best results roses should be planted while they are dormant, that is before the leaves have come out in the spring. Many people wait until later in the spring and buy plants from garden centers and supermarkets which are already in leaf and some of them are even flowering. This may be reassuring to some people but is is actually very stressful for the plant. Its chances for survival are much lower than the dormant planted rose.

Mail order rose growers are digging roses right now to be sent out before they start their spring growth. If these rose plants are shipped promptly and planted promptly, and not allowed to dry out or freeze, they will suffer very little transplant shock. When the first new roots come out in the spring they will be in their permanent location. Roses ordered from a reputable mail order source are usually guaranteed to leaf out and to match their description.

A sunny spot close to a water source is the best place to plant your new shrub. The roots of the rose plant are not very competitive, so care should be taken to place them away from other plants which may rob them of water and nutrients. Even grass growing over the roots may have a detrimental effect.

Plant your roses no closer than two feet apart. Once the holes are dug return some of the loose soil, mixed with two tablespoons of fertilizer, to the bottom of the hole. Mound this loose soil into a cone shape and spread the roots out evenly around all sides of the cone. Raise or lower the plant as necessary until the knot where root meets stem is at ground level. When the root distribution and level looks correct, backfill the hole and water thoroughly. Do not stamp around the plant to pack down the soil since this may snap some of the delicate roots. A firm packing with the hands is preferable.

Once your plant has leafed out and begun to reward you with beautiful roses the care must continue. To have healthy rose plants one must almost always spray to prevent "black spot," an all too common rose disease which causes leaves to drop, thereby weakening the entire plant. Spraying once a week with an aerosol fungicide made for roses is the easiest way to take care of this problem.

Aside from regular watering and spraying, roses should also be "deadheaded" to keep them looking their best. This ominous sounding task means simply the removal of flowers which are past their prime. If a rose flower is left to die on the shrub it will produce seeds which sap the plant of considerable energy. For ornamental reasons this energy would be better utilized in leaf and flower production. The practice of cutting your flowers and bringing them indoors to enjoy benefits both you and your shrub.

Last year we planted six new rose shrubs at the President's residence. This year we will be planting a new climbing rose there as well.

Gala is April 9

Tickets are on sale for the Salisbury State College Foundation's fourth annual Gala, scheduled for April 9 in the Ruth Powell Dining Hall.

This year the Gala will feature cocktails and entertainment by the original Crabtown Stompers from Annapolis. As a special feature, everyone attending will receive autographed John Moll prints.

Valet service will be provided at the dining hall.

Tickets ($100 per couple) for the Gala may be purchased by calling July Glenn at 749-9439. Reservations for tables of 10 or 12 may be secured through Mrs. Torrey, 749-6960, or Mrs. McCarthy, 749-2716. Donations for the Gala are deductible for income tax purposes.

Buckner Voice Recital

Debra Buckner, a senior Elementary Education major, will be presented by the Music Department in a voice recital on Monday, March 7, at 8 p.m. in Caruthers Auditorium.

A voice student of Norma Heyde for the past 2½ years, she will be accompanied at the piano by Dr. Ray Zeigler. The program will consist of songs by Handel, Purcell, Debussy, Schumann and Richard Strauss. Two arias by the contemporary composer Gian-Carlo Menotti and the Barbara Streisand-Paul Williams "Evergreen" will conclude the program.

Talent Tally: Input Needed

Do you or your spouse frame pictures, cane chairs, upholster furniture or otherwise moonlight? The April Soup n' Share will be a forum for advertising such wares. Contact Sylvia Bradley at ext. 6246 to be advertised in and/or work on a roster of SSC community talents.

College in the Park

The first Salisbury Festival, a three-day combination effort of the Salisbury Wicomico Arts Council, the Newtowne Association, the Chamber of Commerce and the College, will be held April 22-24.

The Chamber of Commerce will kick off the weekend festivities with a block party in Riverwalk Park on Friday night. On Saturday, the traditional Arts Festival on the Downtown Plaza, hosted by the Downtown Salisbury Association and the Newtowne Festival, will be held simultaneously. On Sunday afternoon, SSC will present "College in the Park" in City Park.

The "College in the Park" chairperson is Mrs. Carol Bosserman. Check the SSC News, the Flyer, the Salisbury Times and the Advertiser for future details or call Mrs. Bosserman at ext. 6020.

Witnesses Sought

On Tuesday, Feb. 22, Dr. Ed Senkbeil's 1971 Oldsmobile Cutlass (light green) was hit while parked in the front row of the faculty parking lot behind Devilbiss Science Hall. The right door panel was badly damaged. If anyone saw this accident or has any information concerning the vehicle causing the damage, contact Dr. Senkbeil at ext. 6484.

Assertiveness Training

Two different assertiveness training sessions are being offered this semester as part of Counseling Services outreach. Kathy Groutt conducts the six session program at 3:30 p.m. It started March 1.

Becky Claggett, area director, and Ms. Groutt are offering a six session program for residents of Manokin and Wicomico dorms Mondays at 7:30 p.m. It began February 28. Interested students are welcome to contact Ms. Claggett at ext. 6520, Manokin apartment.

French Film Showing

Governor Harry Hughes has proclaimed March 6-12 Maryland Foreign Language Week. In order to celebrate this, the French Club and the Student Government Association will present the French film Tall Blond Man with One Black Shoe in French with English sub-titles. The film is free and will be shown Tuesday, March 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the third floor south lounge of Holloway Hall. Venez Nombreux!

Computer Conference

School Improvement through Computer Technology will be the subject of a one-day conference sponsored by the Education Department on Saturday, March 26. The conference is being presented by the National Diffusion Network and will feature six validated programs for use of computers in the schools.

The six programs are: Computer-Assisted Diagnostic Prescriptive Program in Reading and Math; Computeronics; Gifted Child Project; Project COFFEE (Cooperative Federation for Educational Experiences); Computer-Assisted Instruction Program; Project CAM (Demonstration Evaluation Center); and Calculator Math in the Electronic Age.

The conference will be held in Caruthers Hall from 8:30 a.m. - 2 p.m. For more information and registration materials, contact the Education Department, Caruthers Hall B-152, at ext. 6280.

Teacher Shortage Possible

Government statisticians, in a recent study (Projections of Education Statistics to 1990-91), suggest that an increase in the total enrollment figures for both public and private elementary and secondary schools could result in a teacher shortage later in this decade.

The National Center for Education Statistics study reported, "During the next decade, enrollment declines in elementary and secondary schools will end and a gradual increase will begin as the 5- to 17-year-old population begins to increase in 1985. The enrollment increase is expected to continue into the 1990s, resulting in an enrollment boom that may surpass the peak levels of 1970."

At present, college students are hesitant to choose teacher education as their major field of study, in response to the oversupply of teachers that existed during the 1970s and early 1980s. The percentage of new teacher graduates, for example, has dropped from 37 percent in 1970 to 17 percent in 1980. When enrollments begin increasing in the 1980s, however, the number of teachers needed will again increase.

"But unless college students respond to the improved market by increasing their enrollment in teacher preparation courses," the report forecasted, "a teacher shortage is a distinct possibility in the late 1980s."

Interested students should visit the Education Department, located in Caruthers Hall, B-152.

NO NEWS NEXT WEEK

The SSC News will not be published next week because of spring break. The publication date for the next SSC News is March 24. The deadline for that issue is Monday, March 21.

Parent Burnout Lecture

Dr. Joseph Procaccini, co-author of the Doubleday bestseller Parent Burnout, will present "Parent Burnout: How to Rekindle the Fire" on Tuesday, March 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Francis de Sales School Hall.

Dr. Procaccini, professor at Loyola College, has been featured by Phil Donahue and on local radio and television programs throughout the country. He has conducted numerous seminars and workshops for parents and professionals in education, medicine and social service agencies.

The lecture is free and open to the public.

Profit in the Wind

How to Profit From Wind, a non-credit course, will be taught by Paul Gipe, from Pennsylvania, an authority on windmills and wind machines. The course will be held Saturday, March 12, from 8:30 a.m. - 4 p.m., in Caruthers Hall, room 162.

The course will focus on information concerning wind machines available, commercial wind turbines, what to buy, how to install equipment by doing it yourself and methods for estimating payback.

For more information, contact the Office of Continuing Education at ext. 6170.

Computer Lecture

Dr. Paul Amer of the University of Delaware will give a lecture, "Computer Networks and Office Automation," on Tuesday, March 15, at 3:30 p.m. in Devilbiss Hall, room 302.

Dr. Amer will be available both before and after his lecture to talk to students who are interested in the University of Delaware's graduate program in Computer Science.

'The Lived Body' Lecture

The Departments of Philosophy, Leisure Studies and Physical Education are sponsoring a lecture on "The Lived Body" by Dr. Betsy Behnke on Tuesday, March 15, at 7:30 p.m.

A professional violinist and dancer, Dr. Behnke became interested in the study of phenomenology, particularly in the concept of the "lived body," and discovered that her playing and dancing became both more fluid and graceful. Her talk is in fact a musical-dance presentation as well as a lecture, demonstrating how philosophical concepts can be applied in real life.

The format is novel and lively. A reception with refreshments will follow.

Report All Thefts

Thefts of College property must be investigated by the Department of Public Safety. Each department is responsible for notifying public safety (Holloway Hall, room 022, phone ext. 6222).

Thefts can be reported seven days a week, 24 hours a day. If your department discovers a theft, the incident should be reported immediately so an investigation can begin in a timely manner. The investigating officer will need to know the manufacturer name, model number, serial number, SSC property number, complete description of the item, a picture of the item if it is available on a brochure and the value of the item.

The incident will be thoroughly investigated. A description of the stolen item will be entered into the National Criminal Information Computer by the Maryland State Police. If the item is recovered by any law enforcement organization, the College will be notified and the item will be returned.

The Department of Public Safety will send a confirmation of the theft report to the property control officer. A criminal investigation report must be on file before any stolen item can be removed from inventory.

Energy Insight

Solar Alternatives

by Mark W. Wilkerson

An important vulnerability of our country is our dependence on imported and non-renewable energy supplies. Similarly, the U.S. military is extremely vulnerable to this weakness. In recognizing this fact, the Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard are all actively involved in the de-emphasis of non-renewable energy resources. There is even a federally legislated requirement for the Department of Defense to use alternative energy when such is found to be cost effective. This is one piece of legislation which could very well benefit all of us by bringing about more rapid improvements in the efficiencies, availability, etc. of these relatively new crafts such as photovoltaics.

According to the latest Arco Solar News magazine, the military is already using solar energy to power remote microwave equipment, data collection systems and emergency radios. Benefits experienced to date by these military solar applications include: the elimination of terrain masking problems in communication, improvements in fire safety, law enforcement, land management and operations control. It is basically this remoteness which helps make these solar applications cost effective. Power lines are virtually unavailable and the cost of a generating station is equally prohibitive.

If it were not for the ease at which we at home are able to tap into the electrical supply grid, alternatives such as photovoltaics and possibly wind energy would be much more prevalent today.

Low Maintainance Landscaping Defined

by Joan E. Maloof

"Low maintenance landscaping" is a popular term among garden designers and landscape architects. Many laymen have heard the term, but few are familiar with what it really means.

First of all, it does not mean letting the weeds take over. It does not mean cutting the lawn only twice a month instead of twice a week, and it certainly doesn't mean a drab garden.

"Low maintenance landscaping" means eliminating as much of the time consuming hand work as possible. In most cases these changes improve the appearance of the yard while reducing the time needed to maintain it.

Since the average gardener in this area spends more time trimming grass than doing any other garden chore, let's examine ways to reduce this tedious trimming. One way to reduce trimming on lawn areas is to avoid sharp corners. Curves are easier to mow and are more pleasing to the eye. Keep paved areas flush with the lawn so you can mow right over the edge.

A great way to reduce the need for edging your lawn area is to put in divider strips. These strips may be plastic, steel, concrete or brick, but make sure your mower blades are set high enough to pass over them easily. I have seen many people use bricks stacked upon each other diagonally to create an edging. This construction will create a great deal of hand work in the long run. A more satisfactory application would be to bury the bricks three-fourths into the ground end to end, with the largest surface exposed. A lawn mower could pass right over such a divider, eliminating hand trimming while keeping grass out of the flower beds at the same time.

Mulch is the low maintenance gardner's best friend. It can reduce weeding, trimming and watering all at one time. If you have shrubs or trees grouped close together consider creating a mulched bed. This would eliminate the need for tedious trimming of the grass around each plant. Such a bed could also improve the health of your plants by preventing mechanical damage from the mower.

These are only a few of the many ways to create your own low maintenance landscape. Once you're aware of your own particular problem areas and familiar with the techniques used by other gardeners, solutions will begin to seem obvious. Now your spare time can be spent enjoying your yard rather than caring for it.

On the College grounds we are continually making changes to the landscape which will enable us to care for it more efficiently. New underground irrigation is being installed to reduce the time-consuming task of dragging hoses and sprinklers around. Another big time-saver has been the mulched beds around trees and shrubs.

Gala is April 9

Tickets are on sale for the Salisbury State College Foundation's fourth annual Gala, scheduled for April 9 in the Ruth Powell Dining Hall.

This year the Gala will feature entertainment by the original Crabtown Stompers from Annapolis. As a special feature, everyone attending will receive autographed John Moll prints.

Valet service will be provided at the dining hall.

Tickets ($100 per couple) for the Gala may be purchased by calling Judy Glenn at 749-9439. Reservations for tables of 10 or 12 may be secured through Mrs. Torrey, 749-6960, or Mrs. McCarthy, 749-2716. Donations for the Gala are deductible for income tax purposes.

Rape Prevention

Rape Prevention Workshops, taught by Janice Murphy, will be offered on campus Mondays from 7-9 p.m., March 7-March 28, and Tuesdays from 10 a.m.—noon, March 8-March 29.

Workshops will include three components: lecture and discussion on rape prevention, assertiveness/confrontation training and self-defense training.

Topics include: Introduction to Rape Prevention, Women's Vulnerability as a Class, The Politics of Rape Discussion and Ending Women's Isolation Strategies. This workshop is for women over 16 years of age. Tuition for the course is $10; the registration fee is $2.50. Contact the Office of Continuing Education for more information at ext. 6170.

Reading 'The Breaks'

Novelist Richard Price will read from his new book, The Breaks (Simon/Schuster, 1983), on Monday, March 14, at 8:30 p.m. in Caruthers Hall, room 122. The reading is sponsored by the English Department.

The Breaks is the fourth novel by Price. His previous books are: The Wanderers (Houghton Mifflin, 1974, later a major motion picture), Bloodbrothers (Houghton Mifflin, 1976, also a major motion picture) and Ladies' Man (Houghton Mifflin, 1978).

The Breaks has been reviewed favorably in recent weeks in The New York Times, The New Yorker and The Village Voice.

This reading is free and open to the public.

Magic on Monday

"The Magic of Mark Mazzarella," sponsored by the SSPB, featuring one of the nation's foremost young magicians and a student of the great Houdini, will be presented in Holloway Hall Auditorium on Monday, March 14, at 8 p.m.

Mazzarella made his professional stage debut at age 19 with the lead role in the American premiere of the circus opera "Houdini." His American television credits include the nationally syndicated program "You Asked For It," in which he presented for the first time his original water torture challenge, "P.M. Magazine," "CBS - Kids World" and numerous local and independent programs.

Tickets are on sale Monday through Friday at the College Center Information Desk from 11 a.m. - 11 p.m. Hours on Saturday are from 7 p.m. - 12:30 a.m. and Sunday from 6 p.m. - 10 p.m.

A Brighter Baby

How to Raise a Brighter Baby, a non-credit course, will begin Saturday, March 12, and run through April 23. It will meet on Saturdays, 10-noon, in Caruthers Hall, room 114.

The course is intended to assist prospective parents, parents of infants, day care personnel, grandparents and any one else involved in the care of babies to develop a variety of skills, intellectual and creative activities which will enrich the first year of life.

The course will be presented by Rosemary Heher, a former teacher of young children and a recent mother herself, who has had experience lecturing to various early childhood groups.

For more information, contact the Office of Continuing Education at ext. 6170.

Lenten Music Recital

Kenneth Edmonds will present a recital of Lenten music at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Lewes, Del. on Sunday, March 14, at 4 p.m. The recital will be sponsored by the Music Department.

A baritone and graduate voice student of Mrs. Norma Heyde, Edmonds will be accompanied at the organ by Dr. Ray Zeigler, associate professor of Music.

The program will include sacred songs by J.S. Bach, Moravian composers and Eric Themin. A contemporary group of New Testament text songs will conclude the program.

The public is invited to attend. A reception will follow the recital.

T'ai-chi Ch'uan

T'ai-chi Ch'uan, and ancient Chinese system of physical culture, will be offered Wednesday evenings, March 9-May 4, at the Oriental Studies Institute on State Road in Delmar, Del. A beginners course will be held from 7-8 p.m. and an intermediate course from 8-9 p.m.

TCC can be classified as a martial art, but a soft, inner system akin to the Japanese aikido. While the currently popular judo and karate stress focused concentrated activity with bursting power as a goal, TCC is a diffused, mediational activity with sensitivity and yielding as goals. TCC is more concerned with health and relaxation than self-defense.

The instructor, Dr. Ben Fusaro, professor of the Mathematics Department, has visited and lived in the Orient and studied martial arts for many years.

Tuition for the SSC course is $17.50 and registration is $3.50.

Out of Doors Course

Out of Doors, Fun/Challenge/Learning Activities, will be taught by Dr. John Groutt, presently project director of a Sea Grant award at the University of Maryland-Eastern Shore, training teachers in using out-of-doors activities for educational purposes.

The course will be held Mondays from 7 - 9 p.m., March 27 - May 2, in Tawes Hall, room 177.

Activities are designed for leaders of scouts, 4-H, youth groups, recreation directors, teachers and any parent who wants to share an enjoyment of the out-of-doors with children. The programs can be used with 7-14-year-old youngsters. They help them understand and appreciate important environmental issues: the food chain, adaptation, life cycle, populations and communities, energy transfer, etc.

The tuition is $30 and the registration fee is $6. For more information, contact the Office of Continuing Education at ext. 6170.

Outstanding Senior Award

Nominations are now being accepted for the 1982-83 Outstanding Senior Award. Two seniors will receive the award at the spring Honors Convocation.

To be eligible for the award, students must have senior standing and a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.80, be nominated and submit a statement of his or her qualifications. Any faculty member, administrator or student can make a nomination.

Nominations must be submitted to the SGA office in Tawes Hall by Wednesday, March 16. No late nomination will be accepted.

Nominations should include the student's name and mailing address and the name of the person submitting the nomination.

Pi Gamma Mu

The College has been awarded a chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, international honor society in Social Science.

The PGM national office approved appropriate data submitted by Salisbury State and, as a result, the chartering and initiation ceremonies will be held Wednesday, April 20, at 7 p.m. in the Social Room.

With this event, Salisbury State's chapter will be the first ever established on the Eastern Shore.

Pi Gamma Mu required the junior, senior or graduate student to have at least 20 hours in the five core areas (History, Political Science, Economics, Sociology/Anthropology, International Relations and in some other Social Science courses such as Social Psychology, Criminal Justice and Geography).

The member must have an average of B (85 percent). In addition, to be eligible a student should be in the top 35 percent of his class.

For additional information, call or contact Dr. Charles B. Clark, Ms. Clara Small or the History Department at ext. 6245.

Energy Renewal

A one-day action workshop, demonstrating routines for energy renewal for health and helping professionals and designed for individuals interested in effective methods of increasing vitality and deepening relaxation without use of special equipment or facilities, will be taught by Marylil Humphreys on Saturday, March 26, from 9:30 a.m.-4:00 p.m. in Maggs Physical Activities Center, room 207.

The fees for the workshop are $15 for tuition and $5 for registration. For more information, contact the Office of Continuing Education at ext. 6170.

Values and Higher Education

The Department of Philosophy and the College Center have organized a series of programs designed to invite an answer to the question, "Does higher education in the 80s prepare a student to make moral and ethical judgments?"

The series began February 28 with a lecture by acclaimed media expert Frank Mankiewicz speaking on the topic, "Media and Reality."

The remaining three programs in the series are:

Film: Breaker Morant,
Caruthers Hall Auditorium,
8 p.m., Thursday, March 31
Discussion to follow the film.
Panel members: Allan Pappas, Michael O'Laughlin & Fran Kane.

Barlage Voice Recital

The College will present Ms. June Barlage, soprano, in a voice recital on Tuesday, March 29, at 8 p.m. in Caruthers Auditorium. Admission is free.

A junior at SSC, Ms. Barlage is studying toward a Bachelor of Arts degree in studio art. She is in her third year of voice study with Norma Heyde, associate professor of Music, and is a soloist with the College Chorus. Sarah Shaffer will be accompanist at the piano for the recital.

Joining Ms. Barlage in singing a group of duets will be Mary Ann Fry, a Nursing major at SSC and also a voice student with Mrs. Heyde.

Student Art Show

The 14th annual Student Art Show is currently on exhibit at the College Art Gallery through March 30.

This annual event not only provides the College students with a forum for displaying their work but also allows their talents to be judged in competition with their peers. Prizes are awarded by independent judges for outstanding works in each medium and overall.

While students of all disciplines are encouraged to submit their work, traditionally most of the pieces in the show are done by art students and art majors. The number of students and variety of work exhibited in this year's show reflect the growth of the Art Department and its newly founded major. New courses now available in the two- and three-dimensional concentrations of the department offer students more in-depth instruction which is evident in the artwork exhibited in this show. Pieces involving metal casting and the use of neon tubing show the influence of visiting artists and special workshops sponsored by the Art Department in the past year.

Exact hours for the show can be obtained by calling the Art Department at ext. 6720.

Ed. Evaluators

Dr. Gerry St. Martin, assistant professor of Modern Language, and James Burgess, Art Department chairman, took part in a Maryland State Department of Education evaluation at the College of Notre Dame in Baltimore during the week of March 21.

Leisure Studies Majors

There will be a mandatory meeting of all Leisure Studies majors who intend to do their field work either during summer 1983 or fall 1983 in Maggs 202 on Thursday, March 31, at 3:30 p.m.

Faculty Pot Party

Faculty, staff and administrators are invited to attend and participate in the sixth annual Art Department faculty Pot Party at Holloway Hall Annex on Thursday, March 31, from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Ceramics I, II and III students will be on hand to assist faculty on the art of making pottery. Those who have mastered the pinch, slab and coil methods may want to try a hand at the wheel.

This year two guest artist potters will demonstrate the art of throwing on the potters wheel. Ms. Kay Ross of Ocean City and Sabie Brennan of Frankfort, Del. will present informal lecture demonstrations from noon to 2 p.m.

A final display of the pottery pieces made at the pot party will be exhibited with students' works at the final presentation day May 17.

Wear mud slinging clothes when joining the class. Munchies will be provided by the students.

If further questions, call the Art Department at ext. 6270.

Epidemiology Principles

Registration for a non-credit Principles of Epidemiology course will be accepted until April 15. The course is designed for local and state public health personnel and other health personnel interested in the investigation and surveillance of disease.

The course will be given by Dr. John Molenda, chairman of the Biology Department, who has been designated as course administrator for this area by the Communicable Disease Center.

The cost of the course is $50 tuition and $10 registration fee. This will include all course materials. Those successfully completing the course will receive 5.6 hours of Continuing Education Units (CEU) as well as a certificate of course completion from the Communicable Disease Center.

There are no prerequisites for the course but a knowledge of either microbiology or control of communicable disease would be helpful.

Participants may pick up text and study materials from Dr. Molenda. For further information and/or registration materials, contact the Office of Continuing Education at ext. 6170.

Overseas Opportunities

Some last minute Fulbright Grants have become available. They have an April 18 deadline. The countries and degree-status required are: Algeria, M.A. or Ph.D. candidate (French or Arabic); Bangladesh, M.A. or Ph.D. candidate; Morocco, B.A. to Ph.D.; Nepal, M.A. or Ph.D. candidate; Pakistan, M.A. or Ph.D. candidate; Sri Lanka, B.A. to Ph.D.; Singapore, B.A.; Sudan, Ph.D. candidate; and Thailand, B.A.

If interested, contact Dr. Ben Fusaro soon at ext. 6470 in DSH 235.

Attention Teachers

Special Education Job Fair is April 22 in Atlanta, Ga. Over 70 local school systems and agencies are expected.

MAASCUS Teacher Recruiting Consortium is April 28 and 29 at the University of Maryland College Park campus.

Information on these consortiums can be obtained from the Career Planning and Placement Office or the Education Department.

Public Speaking Course

A public speaking course taught by Paul Scovell, a Communciation Arts Department instructor, will be held on Tuesday evenings, 7-9 p.m.,from April 5-19.

This course is designed to provide the basis of how to prepare and deliver messages to various audiences with minimum anxiety.

Registration fee for the course is $2.50. For more information, contact the Office of Continuing Education at ext. 6170.

Clark to Speak

Dr. Charles B. Clark, chairman of History/Political Science Department, will address the Eastern Shore Society of Baltimore at the Engineer's Club on Thursday evening, March24.

Dr. Clark, author and editor of the two volume history of the Eastern Shore of Maryland and Virginia, will speak on the five abortive efforts of some Eastern Shoremen and some Delawareans to align the nine Eastern Shore Counties of Maryland with the state of Delaware. All of those occurred in the 19th century, although the proposition occasionally still receives some press attention.

S.W. Field Instruction

All Social Work students who plan to enter field instruction in fall 1983 should contact Harry Aldrich, field instruction coordinator, for an application and faculty team appointment. Applications should be completed by April 8 for a fall '83 semester placement. Call the Social Work Department at ext. 6308 for further information.

Cleary Drawing Selected

A recently completed pastel drawing by John Cleary was selected for the Appalachian National Drawing Competition in Boone, N.C. The juror for selection was Peter Frank, former critic for the So Ho Weekly News and the Village Voice. Frank has also been a guest curator for the EXXON National Exhibit at the Guggenheim Museum and a recipient of two NEA fellowships.

Cleary teaches drawing and painting in the Art Department and also serves as the gallery director.

Garden Notes

Facts About Day Lilies

by Joan E. Maloof

Remember last summer when you admired the clumps of orange-red day lilies growing all over our county? The proper latin name for these common day lilies is Hermerocallis fulva 'Europa' The Hemerocallis was originally from Eurasia and was imported into Europe and England. Pioneers coming to the New World from these countries brought the beautiful and hardy day lilies with them. These early settlers were too busy carving homes out of a wilderness to bother much with flower gardens, but once the day lilies were planted they cared for themselves, flowering beautifully every year, and spreading vigorously in all directions. Almost all of the wild day lilies you see today have spread from these early poineer gardens. Perhaps another reason for the popularity of the day lily is that it is almost entirely edible. The Chinese have enjoyed eating the flowers for hundreds of years. The buds, the crowns, and the roots are all edible as well.

Hemerocallis comes from the Hemerocallis comes from the Greek meaning 'beautiful for a day.' This name is appropriate because an individual day lily blossom lasts for only one day, but so many flowers are produced from each plant that it is common to have non-stop blossoms for a month or more.

Breeders have been experimenting with day lilies since the late 19th century. We now have thousands of varieties from which we can choose. They vary in color, height, flower shape and flowers per plant. The newest varieties produce hundreds of flowers per plant in colors from yellow to pink to red.

If you would like to enjoy some of these new varieties they can be planted now and you'll be rewarded year after with year with beautiful flowers. If you prefer the old fashioned appeal of Hemerocallis fulva 'Europa' the sword-like leaves are coming up now on many abandoned lots and roadsides. A few divisions will not harm these hardy plants and they can be safely transplanted at this time.

On the College campus we have many native day lilies which appear each year in the wooded area behind the President's house. Recently we have planted a mixture of some of the newer varieties near the maintenance building and along the back wall of Caruthers. We hope to add more day lilies in the years to come.

Kellam Selected

Barbara Kellam, R.N., M.S., instructor of Nursing, was selected to represent the Maryland jurisdiction for Nursing at the recent session of the National Council Licensure Examination Item Writing Workshop held in Monterey, Ca.

The purpose of the workshop was to write test items for future use in the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN).

Piano Recital

William Billingham, pianist, will give a College recital on Wednesday evening, March 30, at 8 p.m. in Caruthers Auditorium. Admission is free.

March 31, 1983 VOL.XII NO. 23

Economic Minor

Starting with the '83-'84 Catalogue, students will have the option to minor in Economics. The minor in Economics provides an in-depth introduction in the contemporary economic material well-being of society.

The emphasis on application of carefully reasoned analysis to questions of personal choice and public policy makes this program a valuable one for students seeking a professional career in education, law, research or administration as well as those seeking employment in business or government or international agencies.

To minor in economics one must have: ECON 201 and 202; either ECON 305 or ECON 306; and three courses chosen from 300 and 400 level Economics offerings (except ECON 451 and 452) and BUAD 281.

For further information contact any of the Economics faculty.

Senior Art Show

The ninth annual Senior Art Show will open Saturday, April 2, from 7 - 9 p.m. in the Gallery located on the second floor of Blackwell Library.

The opening will also feature the complete portfolio of each individual artist.

The 11 artists will be present during the opening to meet with and exchange comments. The show and sale, free to students as well as the public, will run through April 20. Categories include painting, drawing, print-making, photography, sculpture, ceramics and crafts.

The 11 artists are Peri Anest, Patrick Cardiff, Kimberly Huey, Timothy Jones, Becky Lowe, Martha Prenger, Sharon Roney, Myron Schmidt, Sandy Wallace, Debbie Warrington and Pixie Windsor.

Folklife Assn. Meeting

The College and the English Department will be host to the Middle Atlantic Folklife Association (MAFA) at its annual meeting at SSC on the weekend of April 9-10.

Coming from as far away as Binghamton, N.Y. and Greenville, N.C., folklore students and scholars will convene to share ideas and perspectives. In addition to the presentation of papers, conference goers will enjoy tours of the Ward Foundation Museum and of Pocomoke Forest sites associated with supernatural phenomena.

On Saturday night, an open house at the home of Dr. Polly Stewart, English Department associate professor, will honor the visitors. Persons who wish further information about the MAFA meeting are invited to call Dr. Stewart at ext. 6443 or 546-3860.

S.W. Field Instruction

All Social Work students who plan to enter field instruction in fall 1983 should contact Harry Aldrich, field instruction coordinator, for an application and faculty team appointment. Applications should be completed by April 8 for a fall '83 semester placement. Call the Social Work Department at ext. 6308 for further information.

Leisure Studies Majors

There will be a mandatory meeting of all Leisure Studies majors who intend to do their field work either during summer 1983 or fall 1983 in Maggs 202 on Thursday, March 31, at 3:30 p.m.

Faculty Pot Party

Faculty, staff and administrators are invited to attend and participate in the sixth annual Art Department faculty Pot Party at Holloway Hall Annex on Thursday, March 31, from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Ceramics I, II and III students will be on hand to assist faculty on the art of making pottery. Those who have mastered the pinch, slab and coil methods may want to try a hand at the wheel.

This year two guest artist potters will demonstrate the art of throwing on the potters wheel. Ms. Kay Ross of Ocean City and Sabie Brennan of Frankfort, Del. will present informal lecture demonstrations from noon to 2 p.m.

A final display of the pottery pieces made at the pot party will be exhibited with student works at the final presentation day May 17.

Wear mud slinging clothes when joining the class. Munchies will be provided by the students.

If further questions, call the Art Department at ext. 6270.

Epidemiology Principles

Registration for a non-credit Principles of Epidemiology course will be accepted until April 15. The course is designed for local and state public health personnel and other health personnel interested in the investigation and surveillance of disease.

The course will be given by Dr. John Molenda, chairman of the Biology Department, who has been designated as course administrator for this area by the Communicable Disease Center.

The cost of the course is $50 tuition and $10 registration fee. This will include all course materials. Those successfully completing the course will receive 5.6 hours of Continuing Education Units (CEU) as well as a certificate of course completion from the Communicable Disease Center.

There are no prerequisites for the course but a knowledge of either microbiology or control of communicable disease would be helpful.

Participants may pick up text and study materials from Dr. Molenda. For further information and/or registration materials, contact the Office of Continuing Education at ext. 6170.

Evening Employment

Dependable students with a good telephone voice can earn minimum wage for soliciting donations for the Kiwanis Club of Salisbury beginning April 6.

Garden Notes

A Day to Celebrate Trees

by Joan E. Maloof

Arbor Day is this Wednesday, April 6, and it seems to be the appropriate time to discuss the meaning and events of this day both past and present.

The first Arbor Day was celebrated about 100 years ago in Nebraska. It was conceived and promoted by J. Sterling Morgan, a newspaper editor and political leader. Morgan was raised in the lush woodlands of Michigan. It was after he moved to the treeless prairies of Nebraska that the idea of an Arbor Day evolved. Morgan's Arbor Day campaign and personal efforts to encourage tree planting transformed many barren acres to wooded oases.

Today Arbor Day is celebrated all over the United States and in countries around the world. Here in Maryland the Forest Service, which is a branch of the Department of Natural Resources, is the biggest promoter of Arbor Day. On Wednesday it will be presenting a Wye Oak to the new Fruitland Park. This tree was grown from a seed of the large Wye Oak in Wye Mills, our nation's largest white oak and the Maryland State Tree. These seedlings are also available to the public. Over 3,000 have been sold this year. Representatives from the Forest Service will also be visiting local schools and distributing bald cypress seedlings.

Many families plant trees to commemorate Arbor Day and other special occasions such as a marriage or a birth. When you consider the lifetime of benefits derived from the noble tree perhaps you too will make a place for trees in the special days of your life.

Trees keep our air supply fresh by absorbing the carbon dioxide we exhale and replacing it with fresh oxygen. They filter out dust, reduce noise pollution and shelter us from strong winds and sun. Trees camouflage unsightly scenes while affording privacy and cooling the air. They can prevent erosion, provide shelter for birds, and heat for our homes. Finally, and perhaps most importantly, trees are beautiful to behold.

Williamsburg Trip

College employees may take advantage of a discount on a vacation trip to Colonial Williamsburg, Va. and vicinity. Discount offers are available at nearly two dozen hotel/motels; three car rental agencies; two golf courses; a tennis facility; museums; and selected shops in the area. Membership cards for the 1983 calendar year are available in the Personnel Office, room 205, Holloway Hall.

Co-ed Volleyball

Team entry blanks and rules are available in the Intramural Office for co-ed volleyball play. Anyone not affiliated with a team may sign up on the draft list also available in the IM Office and be placed on a team.

The deadline date for entering is April 6 at 5:00 p.m. A $10 team forfeit deposit fee is required of each team upon registration.

SALISBURY STATE COLLEGE

news

APRIL 7, 1983 VOL.XII NO. 24

Super Saturday

"Super Saturday," a Salisbury State College enrichment program for Lower Shore academically talented and highly motivated junior high school students, will be offered in two sessions during the summer.

Courses, dates and times for Session I are: June 20-24 and June 27-July 1, Etymology and the Micro-computer, 9:00 a.m. - 12:15 p.m.; Energy and Man's Resources and Comparative Anatomy, 9:00 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.; and Children's Theatre, 1:00 - 3:00 p.m.

Course dates and times for Session II are: July 5-9 and July 11-15, Etymology and the Micro-computer, 9:00 a.m. - 12:15 p.m.; and Intermediate Computer Science, 9:30 - to 11:30 a.m.

"Super Saturday" began in early February and is running for 10 Saturdays for seventh and eighth graders from public and private schools in Wicomico, Somerset, Worcester and Dorchester counties.

Drs. Thomas Erskine and Tony Whall, English professors, are handling arrangements for the event. They indicated that the response for the spring offering was so successful that the decision has been made to offer a summer program.

Erskine said that over 100 students applied for the spring program, but only 20 could be taken into the initial pilot program.

"When they apply, successful candidates are selected on the basis of California Achievement Tests and teacher recommendations," Erskine said. "We try to select those identified by the State of Maryland as being gifted and also those who narrowly missed being in that category," he added.

For more information contact Dr. Erskine at 543-6444. Tuition grants are available for candidates needing financial support.

Hellman Trio

An internationally-known musical trio, Hellman's Angels, will perform in Caruthers Auditorium, Thursday, April 14, at 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the College Center Program Board, the Daphne Hellman Trio featuring harp, bass and guitar will present its program of compatible baroque, jazz and country music.

In a typical program, some of the stops on their wide-ranging program might include "Yellow Submarine" and "Hey Jude" by the Beatles, Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," "How High the Moon," "Autumn Leaves," "Strauss Waltzes" and "Boogie Woogie."

College in the Park

"College in the Park" respresents Salisbury State College's effort to be a good community neighbor and take part in the Salisbury Festival scheduled April 22-24.

The festival is an entire weekend program and the "College in the Park" will be held Sunday, April 24, beginning at 1 p.m. and continuing until 4 p.m.

Among the many activites will be: Art Department students - ceramics, sketches, painting and wood-carving exhibits; History - exhibits of army equipment and weaponary; Geography-map exhibits; Admissions - materials and information on SSC; Biology - demonstrations, exhibits and models and pathological specimen demonstrations; Physical Science - alternative energy source display; Communication Center - five TV interviewers; Communication Arts - puppet show and mime; ROTC - leadership demonstrattions and drills; The Book Rack - SSC items for sale at 10 percent discount; aerobic dance - demonstrations with audience participation; tennis - ball machine drills for all ages 7 to 70 and teaching of basic tennis strokes; French Club - making selling and demonstrating crepes of various types; Students Education Association - family games to play with the children plus sandwiches for sale; Education class - puppet shows for children; health fair - Nursing, Medical Technology and Respiratory Therapy Departments will conduct blood pressure readings, blood typing and breathing tests; sororities and fraternities - paddle boat races; Physical Education - soccer, badminton and volleyball clinics and a softball game between girls' teams and faculty; cheerleaders - clinic for school age kids with Sea Gull mascot; Student Government Association - students will serve as guides and hosts; and folk dance - SSC Dance Company will perform folk dances.

Through all the events, food will be served, including hot dogs, hamburgers, sandwiches, cake and soft drinks.

Emergency Phone Numbers

In a true emergency it may be difficult for an individual to remember the phone numbers of the Department of Public Safety and/or the fire department and ambulance. Looking up the numbers may waste precious moments.

So that these emergency phone numbers are readily available to everyone on campus, the Department of Public Safety will be placing labels on all phones on campus, Centrex phones as well as pay phones. The emergency phone number for the Department of Public Safety is ext. 6222 or 543-6222 from a pay phone. The number for the Wicomico County Fire Department for fire and ambulance is 749-4141.

TB Screening

All faculty and staff are due to be screened for tuberculosis.

The procedure for screening is a quick and relatively painless skin test. Students from the Nursing Department, in conjunction with the Health Center staff, will conduct a health screening program.

All faculty and staff (full-time, part-time and contractual employees) are encouraged to stop by the Health Center May 2 or 4 between 1:00 and 3:00 p.m. for the test.

Known positive reactors to tuberculin skin tests should stop by the Health Center to make arrangements for a chest x-ray appointment.

Please note that the scheduled TB screening has been changed from the fall semester to the spring. There will be no screening program in the fall of 1983.

In addition to tuberculin screening, optional testing including height, weight, blood pressure, pulse and vision screening will be done.

Ga. Review Editor Here

The English Club is sponsoring a lecture by Stanley W. Lindberg, editor of the distinguished journal of the humanities, The Georgia Review, on Tuesday, April 12, at 8:30 p.m. in Caruthers Hall, room 122.

Recent issues have featured interviews with Robert Penn Warren and Erskine Caldwell; poems by Robert Bly, Mary Oliver and Louis Simpson; fiction by Joyce Carol Oates and Jack Matthews; essays on such diverse topics as William Carlos Williams, the Falklands crisis (by John Fowles), cartographic symbols, Native American Literature, Shakespeare's Lear, recent American theatre, photographic vision and Apocalypse Now.

The lecture, like the journal, should be informative and entertaining.

The Georgia Review can be found in Blackwell Library.

Ulm on NCAA Committee

Dr. Ronald Ulm of the Psychology Department has been selected to serve on the NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship Committee for District 2.

The purpose of the committee is to select for graduate school scholarships those undergraduate student-athletes who are about to graduate with academic and athletic honors and who show potential for successful graduate school study.

Outdoor Club Trip

"The Pocomoke River: Its Beauty and Problems" will be the topic of guest speaker Joseph Fehrer at the next meeting of the Outdoor Club on Thursday, April 7, at 7 p.m. in the Manokin Room of the College Center.

The presentation will precede the upcoming canoeing and camping trip on the Pocomoke scheduled for April 8-10. The trip is especially recommended for new members.

Anyone interested should attend the meeting which follows Fehrer's presentation. For more information, call Misty Knight at ext. 6391 or Scott Donnelly at ext. 6502.

Health, Nutritional Care

A non-credit course, "Lifestyles: Health and Nutritional Care" on Thursday's, 7-9 p.m., begins April 7 and ends May 5. The instructor will be Dr. Joseph M. Heher, D.D.S.

Among topics discussed in this introductory course will be an awareness of stress and how it affects the health of people, nutrition, consumerism at the supermarket, exercise and stress reduction techniques including a stress reduction diet.

For more information, contact the Office of Continuing Education at ext. 6170.

Folklife Assn. Meeting

The College and the English Department will be host to the Middle Atlantic Folklife Association (MAFA) at its annual meeting at SSC on the weekend of April 9-10.

Coming from as far away as Binghamton, N.Y. and Greenville, N.C., folklore students and scholars will convene to share ideas and perspectives. In addition to the presentation of papers, conference goers will enjoy tours of the Ward Foundation Museum and of Pocomoke Forest sites associated with supernatural phenomena.

On Saturday night, an open house at the home of Dr. Polly Stewart, English Department associate professor, will honor the visitors. Persons who wish further information about the MAFA meeting are invited to call Dr. Stewart at ext. 6443 or 546-3860.

Real Estate Course

Basic Principles of Real Estate, a 45-hour course, begins Tuesday night, April 12.

The course, required by the Real Estate Commission of Maryland as preparation for the state qualifying examiniation, will meet Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 - 10 p.m., in Caruthers Hall, room 116, and will end on May 31.

After the successful completion of this course, a person will be eligible to take the state license examination. The course will be taught by George G. Strott of Ahtes and Hanna in Salisbury.

The course will be administered on a pass-fail basis on the campus. The fees are $123 for tuition and $15 for registration. There will be an additional charge of $15 for persons from out-of-state.

The textbooks used for this course are the Real Estate Examination Guide, by Henderson, Johnson, Kruse, and Ficek, and Question and Answers on Maryland Real Estate. They are available at The Book Rack and must be purchased prior to the first class meeting.

Registration is on a first-come basis. Call the Office of Continuing Education at ext. 6170 for further information.

ATTENTION FACULTY: Faculty members who wish to change the number of paychecks they will receive for the next academic year (21 to 26 or 26 to 21) should come to the Personnel Office (HH 205) and complete the necessary form prior to May 1.

Rules and Regulations for Tennis Courts Use

1. Court users will reserve court time. Tennis Center personnel encourage court users to reserve a court time 24 hours in advance. Epidemiology Principles

Registration for a non-credit Principles of Epidemiology course will be accepted until April 15. The course is designed for local and state public health personnel and other health personnel interested in the investigation and surveillance of disease.

The course will be given by Dr. John Molenda, chairman of the Biology Department, who has been designated as course administrator for this area by the Communicable Disease Center.

The cost of the course is $50 tuition and $10 registration fee. This will include all course materials. Those successfully completing the course will receive 5.6 hours of Continuing Education Units (CEU) as well as a certificate of course completion from the Communicable Disease Center.

There are no prerequisites for the course but a knowledge of either microbiology or control of communicable disease would be helpful.

Participants may pick up text and study materials from Dr. Molenda. For further information and/or registration materials, contact the Office of Continuing Education at ext. 6170.

Pre-Business, BUAD Majors

Pre-registration for fall '83 classes is scheduled for April 18-29. Business Adminsitration students must follow the procedure outlined on a special BUAD Instructions Sheet.

Look for this special pink sheet in the pre-registration packet (additional copies are racked outside HH-302). The instructions sheet will help students prepare for pre-registration and will indicate whether they should attend a special BUAD pre-registration session (TRACK A) or schedule an appointment with their faculty advisor (TRACK B).

Students must follow one of these tracks to secure the required faculty validated planning sheet.

Philosophy Minor

The Department of Philosophy announces that a minor in Philosophy has been introduced.

The minor in Philosophy can be used to complement a variety of different majors and a good deal of flexibility has been built into the program. The minor requires 18 hours of C or better in Philosophy. The 18 hours must include one course from the "Classical Core," one "problem-oriented" course, and one course related to the history of Philosophy.

See a department faculty member for details and advice.

Summer Archaeology

Applicants are being sought for a 10 week program in historical archaelogy this summer at St. Mary's City, Md. The program carries six semester credits from St. Mary's College of Maryland, and is intended for students with a serious interest and desire to gain experience in 17th century archaelogy.

Each student selected will be given a $125 scholarship; costs for tuition, housing and supplies will be approximately $400, making the actual cost (after scholarship deduction) $275.

This is an excellent opportunity to learn more about this growing career field and to work with some of the best professionals in the entire region. Interested students may contact Mrs. Sylvia Bradley in the History Department or Dr. Tom Davidson in Blackwell Library. The application deadline is April 11.

S.W. Field Instruction

All Social Work students who plan to enter field instruction in fall 1983 should contact Harry Aldrich, field instruction coordinator, for an application and faculty team appointment. Applications should be completed by April 8 for a fall '83 semester placement. Call the Social Work Department at ext. 6308 for further information.

Evening Employment

Dependable students with a good telephone voice can earn minimum wage for soliciting donations for the Kiwanis Club of Salisbury beginning April 6.

The hours for the six-week campaign are 5-9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 5-8 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. Saturday.

For more information, contact June Garny, project director, at 207-209 Maryland Avenue, Wicomico Professional Building, Suite 1, or call 546-0120.

WSSC On-the-air

WSSC (72 AM), the campus radio station, operates 13 hours a day, seven days a week. In addition to music, news and weather reports, the station features album giveaways, Gull's Nest prizes, Golden Dome tokens and a concert calendar.

For more information or requests, call 546-6195.

Economics Minor

Starting with the 1983-84 catalogue, students have the option to minor in Economics. The minor in Economics provides an in-depth introduction in contemporary economic material well-being of society.

The emphasis on application of carefully reasoned analysis to questions of personal choice and public policy makes this program a valuable one for students seeking a professional career in education, law, research or administration as well as those seeking employment in business or government or international agencies.

To minor in Economics, the student must have: ECON 201 and 202; either ECON 305 or ECON 306; and three courses chosen from 300 and 400 level Economics offerings (except ECON 451 and 452) and BUAD 281.

For further information contact any of the Economics faculty.

Foreign Language Minors

A minor is now offered in French, German and Spanish at the College through the Department of Modern Languages and Intercultural Studies.

The minor, in any one of the languages, can be taken in conjunction with any major in order to bring international dimensions to that field of study.

The minor requires 18 hours of course work in the language and specifically requires classes in both conversation and composition. Students may consult department faculty members for more details.

Attention Teachers

ENERGY INSIGHTS

Federal Jobs Rill Benefits

by Mark W. Wilkerson

How could the recently signed federal jobs bill possibly benefit Salisbury State College?

Attached to this bill was a provision to extend funding for the politically popular Institutional Conservation Program. This program was originally part of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act of 1978, all of which was a response by the Carter Administration to our nation's worsening energy situation at the time. The program benefits schools, hospitals and local governments by partially funding energy conservation projects which normally could not be completed due to the fiscal parameters within which these institutions are usually bound. Those participating in the program thus far (including SSC) have realized a great return on investment and for this reason the ICP has been extremely popular with Congress.

Regardless of the benefits, President Reagan had slated this program to be discontinued in an effort to hold down federal spending. However, because of its political popularity, our senators and representatives attached a funding provision for this bill to the jobs bill citing increased employment opportunities by each institution enacting the energy conservation projects (good news for all of those out of work electrical and mechanical engineers).

Salisbury State has already received some $40,000 in grant money to perform technical audits whereby energy saving projects were identified and paybacks estimated. We have already enacted those projects resulting in the fastest payback (e.g., sunscreens for the Ruth Powell Dining Hall and Devilbiss Science Hall are either installed or soon to be installed, vestibules for Chester and Choptank Dorms and the dining hall are being built, etc.)

Last fall, SSC was denied funding for any other projects due to an overall lack of funds. In Maryland alone there were over five million dollars worth of requests yet only $750,000 of funds available. However, with the new cycle having been assured increased funding, each institution in Maryland could be eligible for up to $80,000 in grant money. We will be applying for over $250,000 worth of energy conservation measures.

GARDEN NOTES

Forsythia Facts

by Joan E. Maloof

A shrub most people can identify is the bright yellow flowering forsythia. Its blossoms brighten our yards early each spring along with the daffodils and the hyacinths.

Forsythias are desirable, not only for their beautiful flowers, but also for their hardiness. They are almost never damaged by insects or diseases and can grow for many years with no care at all.

Branches cut in January will blossom indoors and brighten an otherwise dreary winter day. The forsythia is easier to "force" in this manner than any other plant and for that reason alone it is a favorite of many gardeners.

Ideally, a forsythia shrub should be planted where there is plenty of room for the graceful branches to spread out to their naturally beautiful form. If pruning is needed, now is the time to do it. The flowers for next year begin forming in a bud case in May. When the pruning is delayed too long after flowering you may be cutting off flower buds which are forming for next year's display. The most important thing to remember about the forsythias is not to prune them after the leaves have come out.

Older shrubs generally need more pruning than the younger ones. Each year, prune about one-third of the main stems that are more than four-years-old by cutting them back almost to ground level. This will increase air circulation and encourage branching near the base.

If you already have a forsythia, but would like to have more, they are easily propagated by cuttings or ground layering. If you do not have a forsythia, they are available from many garden centers now and, unlike some other shrubs, they transplant easily while in flower.

Here on the College campus we have forsythia in bloom behind Holloway Hall, in the courtyard and beside the College Center.

Student Recognition Weekend

For the second year, the College is sponsoring a Student Recognition Weekend. April 22, 23 and 24 has been designated a special time to again recognize the academic and extra-curricular accomplishments of many of our students. The weekend will begin Friday with Honors Convocation preceded by a band concert and will conclude Sunday with our participation in the Salisbury Festival's, "College in the Park."

Throughout the weekend there will be art exhibits, a theatre production, a live on-campus TV show, softball and tennis games, a "beach party," Las Vegas Night, Dance Company programs, honorary society induction banquets and a choral concert. Detailed programs are available from department chairmen, administrative offices and the Dean of Students Office.

Dr. Rodney Convocation Speaker

Dr. Joel M. Rodney, vice president of Academic Affairs, will be the speaker at the annual Honors Convocation, Friday, April 22, at 3:30 p.m.

More than 300 awards will be made to SSC students who have distinguished themselves in different academic areas.

The College Concert Band, under the direction of Charles F. Smith, assistant professor of Music, will play during the program.

Dr. Bellavance will welcome visitors, while Dr. J. Chappelle Mills, Church of the Holy Trinity, will deliver the Innovation and Benediction. Dr. Carol Williamson, dean of students, will introduce the speaker.

Hellman Trio

An internationally-known musical trio, Hellman's Angels, will perform in Caruthers Auditorium, Thursday, April 14, at 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the College Center Program Board, the Daphne Hellman Trio featuring harp, bass and guitar will present its program of compatible baroque, jazz and country music.

In a typical program, their wide-ranging program might include "Yellow Submarine" and "Hey Jude" by the Beatles, Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," "How High the Moon," "Autumn Leaves," "Strauss Waltzes" and "Boogie Woogie."

College in the Park

"College in the Park" respresents Salisbury State College's effort to be a good community neighbor and take part in the Salisbury Festival scheduled April 22-24.

The festival is an entire weekend program and the "College in the Park" will be held Sunday, April 24, beginning at 1 p.m. and continuing until 4 p.m.

Among the many activites will be: Art Department students - ceramics, sketches, painting and wood-carving exhibits; History - exhibits of army equipment and weaponary; Geography-map exhibits; Admissions - materials and information on SSC; Biology - demonstrations, exhibits and models and pathological specimen demonstrations; Physical Science - alternative energy source display; Communication Center - five TV interviewers; Communication Arts - puppet show and mime; ROTC - leadership demonstrattions and drills; The Book Rack - SSC items for sale at 10 percent discount; aerobic dance - demonstrations with audience participation; tennis - ball machine drills for all ages 7 to 70 and teaching of basic tennis strokes; French Club - making selling and demonstrating crepes of various types; Students Education Association - family games to play with the children plus sandwiches for sale; Education class - puppet shows for children; health fair - Nursing, Medical Technology and Respiratory Therapy Departments will conduct blood pressure readings, blood typing and breathing tests; sororities and fraternities - paddle boat races; Physical Education - soccer, badminton and volleyball clinics and a softball game between girls' teams and faculty; cheerleaders - clinic for school age kids with Sea Gull mascot; Student Government Association - students will serve as guides and hosts; and folk dance - SSC Dance Company will perform folk dances.

Through all the events, food will be served, including hot dogs, hamburgers, sandwiches, cake and soft drinks.

TB Screening

All faculty and staff are due to be screened for tuberculosis.

The procedure for screening is a quick and relatively painless skin test. Students from the Nursing Department, in conjunction with the Health Center staff, will conduct a health screening program.

All faculty and staff (full-time, part-time and contractual employees) are encouraged to stop by the Health Center May 2 or 4 between 1:00 and 3:00 p.m. for the test.

Known positive reactors to tuberculin skin tests should stop by the Health Center to make arrangements for a chest x-ray appointment.

Please note that the scheduled TB screening has been changed from the fall semester to the spring. There will be no screening program in the fall of 1983.

In addition to tuberculin screening, optional testing including height, weight, blood pressure, pulse and vision screening will be done.

Virus 'Headed' Off

A mysterious virus, tentatively called Headlinnairies Disease, infected the Xerox copier in Duplication Services causing the untimely demise of several headlines on the newsletter last week. Only a few newsletters were affected (and surely will become collector's items) thanks to the Headline Disease Control Center on the second floor of Holloway Hall. It appears to be an isolated outbreak of the dreaded disease and other copiers on campus appear safe.

Education of Young Children Conference

Dr. Edmund Delaney, chairman of the Psychology Department, will deliver the keynote address at the Eastern Shore Conference for the Education of Young Children Saturday, April 16, at Caruthers Hall.

"Teacher Burnout: Reasons and Remedies" will be the theme of this talk at the start of the conference at 8:45 a.m.

According to Dr. Carolyn Bowden, assistant professor of Education, who is handling the arrangements for the conference, the workshops are many and varied.

Following is a list of the program:

"Development of Writing in Young Children," "Teacher-Made Materials and Activities for 3- and 4-Year-Olds," "Teacher-Made Materials and Activities for 5- and 6-Year-Olds," "Making Better Use of the Cuisenaire Rods," "Meeting the Needs of the Difficult Child," "Using Computers, Calculators and Video Games with Young Children," "Dealing with the Chronically Ill Child in the Classroom," "Innovative Programs in Child Care," "Science is a Verb" and "Starting a Family Day-Care Program."

Other workshops included are:

"Increasing Awareness and Developing A Love For Learning in Infants/Toddlers," "Art and the Infant-Toddler Curriculum," "The Use of Volunteers in the Classroom," "Everyone Has Music Inside." "Incorporating Christian Curriculum into Preschool Programs," "Blocks Aren't Just for Building Anymore," "New Ideas For Outdoor Play," "Opening Your Own Licensed Child Care Center" and "More New Art Activities For Young Children."

BUAD Hires Four

The College is employing four new Business teaching-faculty members, according to Dr. Jerry Lake, chairman of the Business Administration and Economics Department.

The four are Randall LaSalle, accounting, from Faw Casson & Company, certified public accountants, Salisbury; Marie Stone, accounting, Equitable Bancorporation; Will Johnston, finance, University of Baltimore; and John Green, marketing, New York State University at Albany.

Dr. Lake indicates that Salisbury State is faring much better than the national average in hiring Business faculty.

He said recent figures released by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business indicate a nationwide shortage of qualified faculty members in business schools.

"For each 1982-83 doctoral graduate there are four Business faculty openings," said Kenneth R. Smith, committee chairman on faculty supply. Nationwide, the percent of the authorized positions for doctorally qualified faculty were unfilled in 1982-83.

"We are faring much better than the national norm. Sixty percent of the SSC Business faculty will have doctorate degrees," he said. "The norm for Business schools is 50 percent. In addition, one faculty member is in the process of completing his doctorate degree and four others are considered terminally qualified in their accounting speciality with master's degrees and certified public accounting (CPA) certificates.

The Business Administration program at the College has grown rapidly since its start 10 years ago. It currently has over 600 Business Administration majors in the undergraduate program and 40 students in the newly started MBA program. Students graduating from the undergraduate program have a choice of concentrations in accounting, economics, finance, management and marketing. In the near future students will also have a choice of a concentration in information systems management.

Dr. Lake did, however, indicate that the doctoral shortage is critical and feels fortunate to have been able to hire the high quality of Business faculty to meet expanding enrollment needs.

The AACSB news release also stated that a major national doctoral fellowship program is being developed. The AACSB has developed a new brochure, "Business Faculty Careers: A Logical Choice." This brochure describes the strong employment demand for Business doctorates, salaries and additional income sources, and availability of financial aid for doctoral studies. Individual copies are available by contacting AACSB headquarters, 605 Old Ballas Road, Suite 220, St. Louis, Mo. 63141.

ATTENTION FACULTY: Faculty members who wish to change the number of paychecks they will receive for the next academic year (21 to 26 or 26 to 21) should come to the Personnel Office (HH 205) and complete the necessary form prior to May 1.

Rules and Regulations for Tennis Courts Use

1. Court users will reserve court time. Tennis Center personnel encourage court users to reserve a court time 24 hours in advance. Call the Tennis Center at ext. 6361 between 6 and 10 p.m., seven days a week. The reservation book is located at the tennis shack for in-person reservation. Reservations are made for night play only (6 to 10 p.m.).
2. A valid SSC identification card must be presented to the on duty court supervisor before entering the court area. The supervisor will be located at the tennis shack from 6 to 10 p.m., seven days a week.
3. A one hour per player, per court policy, if courts are full.
4. One guest per SSC card holder only.
5. No tennis equipment or supplies will be issued to court users (i.e., ball machine, tennis balls or tennis rackets).
6. No food or drink will be allowed within the court area.
7. Court users exhibiting temperamental behavior will be asked to leave the court area by the on duty supervisor (i.e., abusive language, banging and throwing of rackets).
8. No bikes, skateboards or rollerskates will be allowed on the courts.
9. No hard sole shoes will be allowed on the courts.
10. Questions/problems will be forwarded to the facilities coordinator of Maggs at ext. 6349.
11. Only members of Salisbury State College exhibiting a valid SSC identification card will be allowed use of the Tennis Center.

Overseas Opportunities

Some last minute Fulbright Grants have become available. They have an April 18 deadline. The countries and degree-status required are: Algeria, M.A. or Ph.D. candidate (French or Arabic); Bangladesh, M.A. or Ph.D. candidate; Morocco, B.A. to Ph.D.; Nepal, M.A. or Ph.D. candidate; Pakistan, M.A. or Ph.D. candidate; Sri Lanka, B.A. to Ph.D.; Singapore, B.A.; Sudan, Ph.D. candidate; and Thailand, B.A.

If interested, contact Dr. Ben Fusaro soon at ext. 6470 in DSH 235.

'Romeo and Juliet'

Salisbury State Theatre opens its spring production, Romeo and Juliet by William Shakespeare, on April 22. Performances continue April 23 (Shakespeare's birthday), 24, 28, 29 and 30, each at 8:30 p.m. except for a 2:30 p.m. matineee on Sunday, April 24.

Romeo and Juliet will be performed in the round, which features the audience completely encircling the stage. Dr. William McCarthy, a member of the Communication Arts faculty, directing Romeo and Juliet, notes that this makes "complex language easier to follow than if the audience were all the way across an orchestra pit."

Costumes designed by T. Paul Pfeiffer and fencing staged by Dr. Andrew Hepburn promise to add beauty and concentrated action to the show, pleasing the high-society and "groundlings" alike.

The cast incorporates actors from the community, student body and faculty.

For reservations, call ext. 6288. Tickets are $3.75 to adults, $2 to students and senior citizens, and free to College students, faculty and staff.

Concert Band Performance

The College Concert Band's annual Spring Concert is Sunday, April 17, at 4 p.m. in Holloway Hall Auditorium.

The opening selection will be the exciting overture from the 1831 opera Zampa by the French composer, Louis Herold. A contrasting composition will follow, Robert Jager's contemporary "Third Suite" which features a delightful interplay of uneven rhythms.

The soloist of the evening will be senior alto saxophonist, Darrin Blume, a native of Berlin, Md. and a graduate of Stephen Decatur High School. Blume has been a member of the band since his freshman year and is a student of Douglas Smith. He will play "Concertante" by Clare Grundman, a selection originally dedicated to the U.S. Navy Band in Washington D.C.

The final selection prior to intermission is a collaboration of a steel-company executive in Illinois who wrote the melodies and the professional composer, Harry Alford, who arranged the composition for performance. Published in 1937, "March of the Steel Men" is a unique composition in that it requires an augmented trumpet and trombone section. Students from local Wicomico County high schools will provide this service.

The second half of the program will include Dvorak's well known "Finale" from The New World Symphony and Wagner's "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" from the opera, Lohengrin. John Phillip Sousa, a composer known mostly for his marches, was also quite porficient in composing operetta. The next selection, "The Free Lance March," is a condensation of tunes from such an operetta.

To close the concert, the band will perform a suite from the 1982 Academy Award winning score from the movie, Chariots of Fire.

Foreign Language Minors

A minor is now offered in French, German and Spanish at the College through the Department of Modern Languages and Intercultural Studies.

The minor, in any one of the languages, can be taken in conjunction with any major in order to bring international dimensions to that field of study.

The minor requires 18 hours of course work in the language and specifically requires classes in both conversation and composition. Students may consult department faculty members for more details.

Pre-Business, BUAD Majors

Pre-registration for fall '83 classes is scheduled for April 18-29. Business Adminsitration students must follow the procedure outlined on a special BUAD Instructions Sheet.

Look for this special pink sheet in the pre-registration packet (additional copies are racked outside HH-302). The instructions sheet will help students prepare for pre-registration and will indicate whether they should attend a special BUAD pre-registration session (TRACK A) or schedule an appointment with their faculty advisor (TRACK B).

Students must follow one of these tracks to secure the required faculty validated planning sheet.

Callihan Receives Award

Johnna Callihan, a senior Chemistry major in the Physical Science Department, has received the Student Award Certificate of the American Institute of Chemists for the department's outstanding student.

The certificate will be presented at a dinner meeting of the District of Columbia Institute to be held on April 11 at Evans Farm Inn, McLean, Va. Ms. Callihan will be attending graduate school at Georgia Tech in the fall.

Cottman Presents Award

Delores Cottman, food production manager, presented a personal achievement plaque to Margaret Bednorsky of the Maryland Inn at Annapolis.

Mrs. Cottman, who received the award three years ago, made the presentation at the Hotel, Motel and Restaurant Department Hospitality Seminar recently held at University of Maryland Eastern Shore.

The award is made annually to honor those food service specialists who contribute their efforts for the community.

GARDEN NOTES

The Dandy Dandelion

by Joan E. Maloof

Spring has finally arrived along with the blossoming of beautiful flowers and the lush greenness that makes our lawns and gardens something to behold. Of course there is a trade off—along with the blossoming ferns and flowers are the weeds. The most well-known weed of all is the dandelion.

The common name dandelion comes from the French "dent de lion," teeth of the lion, which describes the serrated green leaves. Taraxacum Officinale is the Latin Binomial which appropriately translated means "the official remedy for disorders."

Until quite recently thousands of people about the earth died each winter and early spring from diseases now known to have been caused by vitamin deficiencies. Ancient herb doctors used the dandelion juices in winter, and the greens for salad in the spring, to aid sufferers who usually improved under their care. Now that supermarkets sell green vegetables throughout the winter and the druggists are vending tons of synthetic vitamins, we no longer depend on the roots and leaves of this humble plant to ward off sickness and death. It is a testimony of the times that we have now turned on the plant and consider it an ugly lawn weed.

The dandelion is one of the most widespread plants on earth. It can adapt quickly to a wide variety of growing conditions. Bees make honey from its pollen, birds eat its abundant seeds, and children enjoy sending the seeds bearing "parachutes" on their way. The dandelion leaves, especially popular in France, are most tasty in the early spring and the root may be roasted and used as an additive for coffee; a trick used often during the depression.

Dandelions are difficult weeds to get rid of in the lawn where they compete with grasses for sunlight and space. The sight of bright yellow blossoms in an otherwise beautiful lawn has sent despair into the hearts of many gardeners. The dandelion seed germinates in only three days sending a top root deep into the ground. Pulling this weed is an almost useless task since any part of the root left underground will regenerate and sprout again. If you wish to rid yourself of dandelions in the lawn, a spray containing 2, 4-D herbicide will do the trick. 2, 4-D interferes with the growth hormones of broad leaved plants, but it will not affect mature grass plants. Care must be taken not to get this material on the leaves of desireable flowers, shrubs and trees since they will absorb the herbicide and be damaged along with the dandelions. Grasses alone are unaffected by 2, 4-D.

On the campus we have many beautiful dandelions. Please help yourself.

SALISBURY STATE COLLEGE

news

Student Recognition

For the second year, the College is sponsoring a Student Recognition Weekend. April 22, 23 and 24 has been designated a special time to again recognize the academic and extra-curricular accomplishments of many of our students. The weekend will begin Friday with Honors Convocation preceded by a band concert and will conclude Sunday with our participation in the Salisbury Festival's, "College in the Park."

Throughout the weekend there will be art exhibits, a theatre production, a live on-campus TV show, softball and tennis games, a "beach party," Las Vegas Night, Dance Company programs, honorary society induction banquets and a choral concert. Detailed programs are available from department chairmen, administrative offices and the Dean of Students Office.

College in the Park

College in the Park becomes a reality Sunday, April 24, from 1:00 - 4:00 p.m. as the culminating event of the Salisbury Festival and Student Recognition Weekend. Students, faculty and staff will participate in numerous activities planned and organized to demonstrate to the greater Salisbury community and area visitors just what Salisbury State is all about.

A complete schedule of events, with a detailed map of the City Park, will be available at the park as a guide to events and locations. SSC will operate shuttle vans from the campus to the park on an hourly schedule for students. The schedule will be posted throughout campus.

The rain location is the Midway Room of the Civic Center.

Dr. Rodney Convocation Speaker

Dr. Joel M. Rodney, vice president of Academic Affairs, will be the speaker at the annual Honors Convocation, Friday, April 22, at 3:30 p.m.

More than 300 awards will be made to SSC students who have distinguished themselves in different academic areas.

The College Concert Band, under the direction of Charles F. Smith, assistant professor of Music, will play during the program.

Dr. Bellavance will welcome visitors, while Dr. J. Chappelle Mills, Church of the Holy Trinity, will deliver the Innovation and Benediction. Dr. Carol Williamson, dean of students, will introduce the speaker.

'Romeo and Juliet'

Salisbury State Theatre opens its spring production, Romeo and Juliet by William Shakespeare, on April 22. Performances continue April 23 (Shakespeare's birthday), 24, 28, 29 and 30, each at 8:30 p.m. except for a 2:30 p.m. matineee on Sunday, April 24.

Romeo and Juliet will be performed in the round, which features the audience completely encircling the stage. Dr. William McCarthy, a member of the Communication Arts faculty, directing Romeo and Juliet, notes that this makes "complex language easier to follow than if the audience were all the way across an orchestra pit."

Costumes designed by T. Paul Pfeiffer and fencing staged by Dr. Andrew Hepburn promise to add beauty and concentrated action to the show, pleasing the high-society and "groundlings" alike.

The cast incorporates actors from the community, student body and faculty.

For reservations, call ext. 6288. Tickets are $3.75 to adults, $2 to students and senior citizens, and free to College students, faculty and staff.

Health Center Closed

The Health Center will be closed on Sunday, May 8. In the event of an injury or medically urgent problem, students should go to the emergency room at Peninsula General Hospital Medical Center.

Salisbury State College is not responsible for fees charged by off-campus health care providers.

SSC Forum Elections

Elections for the vacancies on the standing committees of the Salisbury State College Forum will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 3 and 4. Polling place locations and operating hours are: Tuesday, May 3, 4:30 - 6:00 p.m., lobby of Devilbiss Auditorium (rm. 149); Wednesday, May 4, 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m., lobby of Caruthers Hall Auditorium.

Aycock Exhibition

All are invited to attend the opening of an exhibition of drawings and models by Alice Aycock from 7 to 9 p.m., Saturday, April 23. The exhibit will be located in the Gallery on the second floor of Blackwell Library. Refreshments will be served.

Physics/Computer Systems

There is a newly created concentration in the baccalaureate program in Physical Science. Physics/computer systems, which officially commences in the 1983 fall semester, is designed for relevance to Computer Science and Engineering, fields currently in demand by students and employers.

Building on the College's traditional core courses in physics, the new program emphasizes electronics as well as the design and construction of specialized computer systems. In effect, it will complement existing courses in computer programming and information systems management.

According to Dr. Bellavance, the program is the logical outgrowth of the College's several Dual Degree programs in Engineering. Salisbury State College has some 60 students enrolled in such programs.

Pre-Business, BUAD Majors

Pre-registration for fall '83 classes is scheduled for April 18-29. Business Adminsitration students must follow the procedure outlined on a special BUAD Instructions Sheet.

Look for this special pink sheet in the pre-registration packet (additional copies are racked outside HH-302). The instructions sheet will help students prepare for pre-registration and will indicate whether they should attend a special BUAD pre-registration session (TRACK A) or schedule an appointment with their faculty advisor (TRACK B).

Students must follow one of these tracks to secure the required faculty validated planning sheet.

If students are not in a methods class to receive an application, they should stop by the Department of Education in Caruthers B-152, and pick up an application form. Deadline to return the completed application to the Department of Education is May 2.

ATTENTION TEACHERS

SPECIAL EDUCATION JOB FAIR, APRIL 22 - Atlanta, Ga. Over 70 local school systems and agencies are expected.

MAASCUS TEACHER RECRUITING CONSORTIUM, APRIL 28 & 29 - University of Maryland College Park.

KENT & SUSSEX COUNTIES TEACHER RECRUITMENT CONSORTIUM, JULY 25 - Twelve school districts will be present.

Contact the Career Planning and Placement Center or the Department of Education for more details.

Psychology and the China Syndrome

On April 29, Dr. Lothar Schroeder, an industrial psychologist for the General Physics Corporation, will discuss roles for psychologists in the industrial world.

Dr. Schroeder is intimately involved in human factors equipment design for safety and efficient information flow in nuclear power generating stations. He is also involved in developing training programs for personnel in nuclear plants.

His presentation will begin at 3:30 p.m. in Holloway Hall, room 106. All faculty, Psi Chi members and interested students are invited. A reception follows.

Graduate Assistantship

The Department of Biological Sciences invites qualified individuals to apply for a graduate assistantship. Applicants should have a strong undergraduate background in Biology and must enroll as a graduate student in the master's program at the College.

Responsibilities may include laboratory, preparation, tutoring and occasional teaching assignments. A stipend of $1,200 per semester and waiver of tuition are included as part of the assistantship. Applicants should send curriculum vitae, transcripts and two letters of recommendation by May 31 to: Chairman, Graduate Assistant Search Committee, Department of Biological Sciences, Salisbury State College.

Salisbury State College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and invites applications from qualified minority individuals.

Economics Minor

Starting with the '83-'84 catalogue, students have the option to minor in Economics. The minor in Economics provides an in-depth introduction in contemporary economic theory with the opportunity to analyze a wide range of issues important to the material well-being of society.

The emphasis on application of carefully reasoned analysis to questions of personal choice and public policy makes the program a valuable one for students seeking a professional career in education, law, research or administration as well as those seeking employment in business or government or international agencies.

To minor in Economics, students must have: ECON 201 and 202; either ECON 305 or ECON 306; and three courses chosen from 300 and 400 level Economics offerings (except ECON 451 and 452) and BUAD 281.

For further information contact any of the Economics faculty.

Dr. Hedeen Outdoor Speaker

On Thursday, April 21, at 7:00 p.m. the Outdoor Club will host guest speaker Dr. Robert Hedeen, author of Naturalist On The Nanticoke.

Other items of interest include discussion of the upcoming backpacking trip scheduled for April 29, 30 and May 1. The place for the trip is tentatively the Appalachian Trail near the Delaware Water Gap. The weekend will include some rather rugged backpacking, excellent sightseeing and, of course, camping.

Anyone interested should attend the meeting which will be held in the Chesapeake Room of the College Center.

Dr. Knowles Presents Workshop

Dr. John K. Knowles, professor of Spanish and director of the Department of Liberal Studies, will present a workshop at the 30th annual Northeast Conference on the Teaching of Foreign Languages to be held April 28 to May 1 in Baltimore.

The workshop, entitled "The Old Brain, The New Mirror: Matching Teaching and Learning Styles," is tied to the conference theme: "Foreign Languages: Key Links in the Chain of Learning."

The Northeast Conference, the nation's oldest and largest conference dealing with foreign language teaching, is sponsored by several hundred academic institutions at both college and secondary levels and by other organizations concerned with international studies. An attendance of 2,400 foreign language educators from from all over the country is expected.

Challenge Softball Game

One of the nation's foremost sporting events takes place Sunday, April 24, when a team composed of SSC students squares off against a formidable contingent of faculty and staff in the Coed Challenge Softball Game (or the April Classic as dubbed by many sports purists).

Negotiations for television rights are on-going between the three major networks and two cable firms, ESPN and USA.

However, regardless which network secures the TV contract, the contest will be blacked out on the Eastern Shore. Therefore, all participants are urged to attend.

To participate bring a glove, your body, or both, to the Little League diamond in City Park by 2:30 p.m. For more details, contact Bill Lichtfuss, facilities coordinator at Maggs Gym, at ext. 6349.

Philosophy Symposium

The Philosophy Department, Philosophical Society and College Center announce their annual spring Philosophy Symposium. This year's topic is "Moral Education: A Christian-Marxist Dialogue." The guest speakers will be Dr. Paul Desjardin and Dr. Lucius Outlaw both of Haverford College.

The symposium will begin at 9:30 a.m. with refreshments, followed by the two main addresses. After a buffet lunch, there will be a panel discussion and general debate. (Panelists include Dr. Norman Johnson from the History Department and Dr. Susan Cabral from the Philosophy Department.)

The symposium is free and open to everyone. Luncheon reservations can be made by calling ext. 6426.

Dr. Butler to Present Leisure Paper in Sweden

Nelson Butler, chairman of the Departments of Physical Education and Leisure Studies, has been invited to present a paper on "The Dynamics of Sport as a Leisure Pursuit" at the workshop meeting on leisure reserarch at Vaxjo, Sweden in May. The workshop meeting is being held in conjunction with the fifth annual congress of the European Leisure and Recreation Association.

He has also been invited to be a participant in the deliberations of the Research Committee on the Sociology of Leisure of the International Sociological Association which is also convening its members at the annual congress.

Dr. Butler has received a faculty grant from the Saisbury State College Foundation to participate in the Sweden meetings.

Management Seminar Series

"Improving Productivity Through Creative Use of Human Resources" will be the focal point of the final program in the College's Management Seminar Series.

Dr. Walter G. Strange, associate professor of Business Administration and Economics, and Al Wheeler, executive vice president and operations officer at First Shore Federal Savings and Loan Association, will be on the seminar panel, Thursday, April 21, at 3 p.m. in Caruthers Hall, room 122.

Registration will be handled through the Salisbury Area Chamber of Commerce. Regina B. Haffner, SSC associate professor, is coordinating the seminar series.

Dr. Strange teaches in the area of human resources management. Previously he was on the faculty at the University of Mississippi and Virginia Tech, and has broad experience in management development and consulting. He is a member of the American Psychological Association and The Academy of Management.

Wheeler has been with First Shore Federal for 13 years. He is a member of the Home Builder's Association, the Society of Real Estate Appraisers and serves on the State Legislative Committee for the Lion's Club. He has recently undergone training to be a quality circle facilitator.

Dr. Strange notes, "Managing in a changing economy and difficult economic times requires an increased emphasis on the effective use of human resources and organizational health and direction. Particularly at issue is the need to harmonize human growth and commitment with organizational goals.

"This seminar provides a forum for the discussion of these issues against a background of behavioral science theory and local managerial experience."

Themes of the program will include human motivation and the psychological contract between the individual and the organization, some expected shifts in human motivation as a result of maturation and aging, and the process of blending these with organizational needs and change.

Ward Voice Recital

On Tuesday evening, April 26, the Music Department will present Mary Beth Ward, soprano, in her senior voice recital. The recital will be at Immanuel Baptist Church on Old Ocean City Road, in Salisbury at 8:00 p.m.

Miss Ward will be accompanied by pianist Patti Collett, a member of the Music Department faculty. Miss Ward, a transfer student from Oklahoma Baptist University, is a Liberal Studies major with a concentration in Music, and is president of the SSC Chamber Choir.

Her varied program will consist of works by Mozart, Handel, Debussy and Schumann. Joining her in the last group, songs by Leonard Bernstein from West Side Story and Mass, will be Robert Thompson, a graduate assistant in the Biology Department. Both singers are students of Norma Heyde, voice professor at SSC.

All are cordially invited to attend the recital and reception following.

Free Swim Hours

Free swim hours at Maggs Pool are as follows:

Monday & Friday: Noon-1 p.m. & 4 - 5 p.m.;
Wednesday: Noon-1 p.m. & 4-7 p.m.;
Tuesday & Thursday: Noon-1 p.m. & 4-5 p.m. & 7-9 p.m.;
Saturday & Sunday: 1-5 p.m.

Chorus, Choir Perform

The College Chorus and Chamber Choir will present two combined concerts on April 24 and May 8. The public is invited free-of-charge. The April 24 concert will be held at 8 p.m. in Holloway Hall Auditorium and will feature secular music.

The College Chorus will open the program with a variety of selections from folk music to spirituals. Specific titles will include Irving Fine's "Father William" from a series of settings of texts from Alice in Wonderland, "She Walks in Beauty," a romantic text by Lord Byron, "Ain't-a That Good News," and the Jobim standard, "Quiet Nights of Quiet Stars."

The Chamber Choir will feature a series of madrigals from various countries. Examples are: "In These Delightful Pleasant Groves" by Purcell, "April Is in My Mistress' Face" by Morley, "The Silver Swan" by Gibbons, "The Little White Hen" by Scandello, and "Matone, Lovely Maiden" by deLasso. The program will conclude with a medly of songs by Cole Porter and George Gershwin entitled "On Love."

The concert on May 8 will be at 4 p.m. and will be held at Wicomico Presbyterian Church on Route 50. The program will be performed using the newly installed pipe organ which will be installed the week of the concert. The Chamber Choir will give a performance of Faure's Requiem and the Cantique de Jean Racine by the same composer. Organist for the pieces will be Joan Davis of Rehobeth, Del.

The College Chorus will sing Benjamin Britten's Festival Te Deum, Brother James's Air arranged by Gordon Jacob, Hovland's Saul for narrator and chorus and Rise Up, My Love, My Fair One by McCray. Accompanist for the chorus is Sarah Shafer.

TB Screening

All faculty and staff are due to be screened for tuberculosis.

The procedure for screening is a quick and relatively painless skin test. Students from the Nursing Department, in conjunction with the Health Center staff, will conduct a health screening program.

All faculty and staff (full-time, part-time and contractual employees) are encouraged to stop by the Health Center May 2 or 4 between 1:00 and 3:00 p.m. for the test.

Known positive reactors to tuberculin skin tests should stop by the Health Center to make arrangements for a chest x-ray appointment.

Please note that the scheduled TB screening has been changed from the fall semester to the spring. There will be no screening program in the fall of 1983.

In addition to tuberculin screening, optional testing including height, weight, blood pressure, pulse and vision screening will be done.

ATTENTION FACULTY!!
Faculty members who wish to change the number of pay-checks they will receive for the next academic year (21 to 26 or 26 to 21) should come to the Personnel Office (HH 205) and complete the necessary form prior to May 1.

Grad. Asst. Car Registration

Red decals are issued to faculty and staff only. Graduate assistants are not considered faculty or staff for vehicle registration purposes.

If you are a graduate assistant and have a red decal, this red decal will be exchanged at the Public Safelty Office for a green decal. Remove the red decal from the windshield of your vehicle and return it to the Public Safety Office, Monday - Friday, 8 a.m.-4 p.m. and you will be given a green decal.

If graduate assistants with red decals have not exchanged the red decal for a green decal by April 22, the red decal will be voided and the vehicle will be ticketed.

Event Dates Needed

It is time to select dates for dances (or other events where a retail beer license is needed) for next semester. Dave Ganoe, director of the College Center, requests any organization wishing to schedule an event submit a request to Mrs. Karen M. Griffin, facilities reservation clerk, ext. 6101, no later than 4:30 p.m. on Friday, May 13.

Confirmation of these dates, in accordance with the College Alcoholic Beverage Policy, will be made by the College Center Office prior to the end of the spring semester.

GARDEN NOTES

The Bearded Iris

by Joan E. Maloof

The bearded iris flowers, called "glags" by some, are just beginning to flower here on the Eastern Shore. Irises are one of the most beautiful and complex of all flowers. There are over 200 varieties of irises all varying in color, height, season of bloom and site preference; but all of them have sword shaped leaves and a beautifully unique flower form which has been the delight of artists and gardeners throughout the centuries. The iris flower is distinguished by the three upright petals, called standards, which alternate with three downward curving petals called falls.

Purple is the color most often associated with the iris, but they also exist in a spectacular range of colors from yellow, to pink, to orange, to blue; hence the name "Iris" after the Greek goddess of the rainbow.

For the sake of simplication we group the many different types of irises into three general categories. The bearded iris, the beardless iris and the bulbour iris. Each group varies greatly in its required care and ideal growing conditions.

The bearded iris is the type most common to us all. It derives its name from the fuzzy, often brightly colored, strip running down the center of each fall. There are many different types of bearded irises, each varying in height and time of bloom. But they all prefer full sun and a well-drained soil. These plants spread by thick underground stems called rhizomes. The sandy soils of the Eastern Shore are ideal for these rhizomes which will rot if planted in an area that stays too wet. Iris rhizomes should be planted at an even level with the soil surface anytime from midsummer to early fall. The bearded irises will spread rapidly, reaching their peak of loveliness in the fourth year. After this time the central rhizomes become too crowded and the number of blossoms produced each year will begin to decline. When this happens it is time to divide the rhizomes. Division should be done soon after the last flowers fade. Cut the leaves down to a height of six inches and simply dig up the whole clump. Using a sharp, clean knife cut the rhizomes into sections six to eight inches long with at least one clump of leaves per section. If you notice any rhizomes with holes or rotted spots these areas should be cut out and disposed of. Replant the rhizomes about 10 inches apart and don't forget to share with a favorite neighbor if you wind up with more than you can use.

Here on campus we have beautiful pale purple bearded irises planted among the azaleas near the Maintenance Building.

ROTC Exercise

A major field exercise involving ROTC students will take place April 21-24 at Fort Meade, Md. Students involved will be departing the campus Thursday afternoon and returning late Sunday evening.

The weekend is an opportunity for junior students in the program to demonstrate the skills they have learned and to prepare for the upcoming "Summer Camp" activities at Fort Bragg, NC.

Secretarial Opening

There is an Office Secretary II opening in the Department of Education, available July 1. Non-state employees who wish to apply must have passed the State Exam and be on the Eligible List.

Contact the Personnel Office in Holloway Hall, room 205, ext. 6035, for details.

Secretary's Day Luncheon

There will be a Secretary's Day luncheon in the Salisbury Room from 11:30 a.m. - 1 p.m. on Wednesday, April 27.

Blood Drive

CCPB will conduct its first Student Blood Drive on Thursday, May 5, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Nanticoke Room of the College Center.

Residents of the community are also invited to participate in the program. Technicians from Peninsula General Medical Center will take charge of the administration of the program.

Area residents who donate blood on May 5, who are members of the Eastern Shore Blood Bank, will receive credit from that organization for their contributions.

The blood donations will go to the hospital for elderly persons who have no means of replacement.

"This is the first drive by the student government group," Guy Campion, the CCPB representative said. "Three previous programs were conducted by the Army ROTC. Naturally, we are hopeful that our first will be successful."

Refreshment drinks will be provided by Coca-Cola, while door prizes will be donated by Pepsi Cola.

Sydnor to Speak on Hitler

Dr. Charles W. Sydnor, an authority on Adolf Hitler and the Third Reich, will give a public lecture at 8:00 p.m., Thursday, April 28, in Caruthers Hall Auditorium.

The subject of Dr. Sydnor's address, which is sponsored by the History and Political Science Club, is "Adolf Hitler's Accession to Power: A Retrospective."

Dr. Sydnor is the author of a book on the SS Death's Head Division and numerous articles on Hitler and Nazi Germany. He recently wrote and produced a 90-minute documentary film on Adolf Hitler which received the James Harvey Robinson Prize of the American Historical Association as the most outstanding audio-visual work in any medium created by an academic historian.

The College community is invited to attend Dr. Sydnor's address. A reception will follow.

SSC Forum Elections

Elections for the vacancies on the standing committees of the Salisbury State College Forum will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 3 and 4. Polling place locations and operating hours are: Tuesday, May 3, 4:30 - 6:00 p.m., lobby of Devilbiss Auditorium (rm. 149); Wednesday, May 4, 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m., lobby of Caruthers Hall Auditorium.

'Romeo & Juliet'

Salisbury State Theatre's spring production, Romeo and Juliet by William Shakespeare, continues April 28, 29 and 30, each at 8:30 p.m.

Romeo and Juliet will be performed in the round, which features the audience completely encircling the stage. Dr. William McCarthy, a member of the Communication Arts faculty, directing Romeo and Juliet, notes that this makes "complex language easier to follow than if the audience were all the way across an orchestra pit."

Costumes designed by T. Paul Pfeiffer and fencing staged by Dr. Andrew Hepburn promise to add beauty and concentrated action to the show, pleasing the high-society and "groundlings" alike.

The cast incorporates actors from the community, student body and faculty.

For reservations, call ext. 6228. Tickets are $3.75 to adults, $2 to students and senior citizens, and free to College students, faculty and staff.

Philosophy Symposium

The Department of Philosophy, with the cooperation of the College Center Program Board, will present its third annual Spring Symposium on Saturday, April 30.

"Moral Education: A Christian-Marxist Dialogue" will be the theme of the program. Dr. Paul Desjardin and Dr. Lucius Outlaw, both members of the Haverford College Philosophy Department, will be speakers.

According to Dr. Jerry Miller, associate professor of Philosophy, who is handling arrangements for the program, "the speakers are known for their pedagogical skills as well as for their intellectual acumen."

The symposium will begin at 9:30 a.m. and continue until noon. Following luncheon, there will be a panel discussion, featuring Dr. Norman Johnson, associate professor of History, Susan Cabral, instructor of Philosophy, and Dr. Tony Whall, associate professor of English.

For more information and to make luncheon reservations, contact Dr. Miller at ext. 6427.

Physics/Computer Systems

There is a newly created concentration in the baccalaureate program in Physical Science. Physics/computer systems, which officially commences in the 1983 fall semester, is designed for relevance to Computer Science and Engineering, fields currently in demand by students and employers.

Building on the College's traditional core courses in physics, the new program emphasizes electronics as well as the design and construction of specialized computer systems. In effect, it will complement existing courses in computer programming and information systems management.

According to Dr. Bellavance, the program is the logical outgrowth of the College's several Dual Degree programs in Engineering. Salisbury State College has some 60 students enrolled in such programs.

Pre-Business, BUAD Majors

Pre-registration for fall '83 classes is scheduled for April 18-29. Business Adminsitration students must follow the procedure outlined on a special BUAD Instructions Sheet.

Look for this special pink sheet in the pre-registration packet (additional copies are racked outside HH-302). The instructions sheet will help students prepare for pre-registration and will indicate whether they should attend a special BUAD pre-registration session (TRACK A) or schedule an appointment with their faculty advisor (TRACK B).

Students must follow one of these tracks to secure the required faculty validated planning sheet.

Education Majors

All Education majors planning to student teach in the fall of 1983 need to complete an application form. If students are not in a methods class to receive an application, they should stop by the Department of Education in Caruthers B-152, and pick up an application form. Deadline to return the completed application to the Department of Education is May 2.

Fulbright Deadline

A pair of deadlines for Fulbright Scholarship awards are upcoming: American Republics, Australia, New Zealand, June 15; and Africa, Asia, Europe, Middle East, September 15.

For more information or to make application, contact Dr. B.A. Fusaro, Department of Mathematical Sciences, in Devilbiss 235 or at ext. 6470.

Psychology and the China Syndrome

On April 29, Dr. Lothar Schroeder, an industrial psychologist for the General Physics Corporation, will discuss roles for psychologists in the industrial world.

Dr. Schroeder is intimately involved in human factors equipment design for safety and efficient information flow in nuclear power generating stations. He is also involved in developing training programs for personnel in nuclear plants.

His presentation will begin at 3:30 p.m. in Holloway Hall, room 106. All faculty, Psi Chi members and interested students are invited. A reception follows.

Graduate Assistantship

The Department of Biological Sciences invites qualified individuals to apply for a graduate assistantship. Applicants should have a strong undergraduate background in Biology and must enroll as a graduate student in the master's program at the College.

Responsibilities may include laboratory, preparation, tutoring and occasional teaching assignments. A stipend of $1,200 per semester and waiver of tuition are included as part of the assistantship. Applicants should send curriculum vitae, transcripts and two letters of recommendation by May 31 to: Chairman, Graduate Assistant Search Committee, Department of Biological Sciences, Salisbury State College.

Salisbury State College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and invites applications from qualified minority individuals.

Welsh Gance Glimpse

The Smithsonian Resident Associates have invited Jim Welsh, assistant professor of English, to present a three-week film and lecture program beginning May 31 in Washington, D.C.

The program is a tribute to the late, prodigious French filmmaker Abel Gance and is described in The Smithsonian Associate as "a dazzling series of major Gance films."

The series begins with Gance's Un Grand Amour de Beethoven, remarkable for the filmmaker's experimental sound technique, for actor Harry Baur's interpretation of the composer's personal anguish, and for a symphony of images that equal the power of Beethoven's music. The second film, Lucrece Borgia, representing Gance's more popular work, characterizes through fact and fiction the murderous politics and romantic liaisons of the Borgia family. The series concludes with a film often compared to Renoir's classic, Grand Illusion, Gance's stunningly powerful and poetic antiwar masterpiece, J'Accuse (the second version), made on the eve of World War II.

Beethoven and J'Accuse are among the five films Gance considered to be his best work. Beethoven and Lucrece Borgia are newly reconstructed to their original length from the many cut and fragmentary versions previously available, and will be Washington premieres.

An introductory talk is given on the opening night by Welsh, who is co-author of a book on Gance and co-editor of Literature/Film Quarterly.

Dr. Whitehead Paper

Dr. George Whitehead, professor of Psychology, recently participated in the 54th annual Eastern Psychological Association convention in Philadelphia. He read a paper entitled "The Effect of Subject's Gender on Judgments of Similarity and Choice of a Comparison Other."

Waters Earns Grant

Dr. Michael Waters, assistant professor of English, has been awarded a $500 "Works In Progress" grant by the Maryland State Arts Council.

Dr. Waters has received numerous honors since he joined the SSC staff in 1978. In May 1981 his volume of poetry, Not Just Any Death, was exhibited in six cities of The Peoples Republic of China.

His poems and criticism have appeared in numerous periodicals, including Poetry, The American Poetry Review, The Georgia Review, The Iowa Review and Modern Poetry Studies.

His first book, Fish Light, was published in 1975.

"Works in Progress" Slated

The SSC Dance Company will present an informal showing of dance pieces to be completed for perfomance during the 1983-84 year. The showing is free and open to the public, and will be held on Tuesday, May 10, at 8:00 p.m. in the Dance Studio of Maggs (PAC 168).

The evening will consist of partially finished dances choreographed by faculty director Denay Trykowski, as well as additional pieces staged by company members Karen Woodsum, Debbie Bowen and Suzanne Moore. A highlight of the evening will be a special arrangement of "Salty Dog Rag," featuring student members of the Practice and Theory of International Folk Dance class.

The SSC Dance Company will not present their spring concert series formerly scheduled for May 7, 8 and 9.

Chorus, Choir Perform

The College Chorus and Chamber Choir will present a combined concert on May 8 at 4 p.m. at Wicomico Presbyterian Church on Route 50. The program will be performed using the newly installed pipe organ which will be installed the week of the concert. The Chamber Choir will give a performance of Faure's Requiem and the Cantique de Jean Racine by the same composer. Organist for the pieces will be Joan Davis of Rehobeth, Del.

The College Chorus will sing Benjamin Britten's Festival Te Deum, Brother James's Air arranged by Gordon Jacob, Hovland's Saul for narrator and chorus, and Rise Up, My Love, My Fair One by McCray. Accompanist for the chorus is Sarah Shafer.

Advanced Voice Recital

On Wednesday evening, May 4, advanced voice students Anne Allen, Karin Pusey, Robert Thompson and Penelope Keene will be presented in a recital of opera and oratorio excerpts and songs by Ralph Vaughn Williams and Samuel Barber in Caruthers Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Accompanying at the piano will be music faculty members Dr. Jessie L. Fleming, Patti Collett and Dr. Arthur L. Delpaz, department chairman.

Voice II Recital

On Monday and Tuesday evenings, May 2 and 3, students of Voice Class II will be presented in recitals by the Music Department in Caruthers Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Mrs. Anne Smith will accompany the students in song literature of various styles and musical periods, including German folk songs by Brahms; Lieder by Schumann, Schubert, Strauss and Wolf; English and American folk songs; and Broadway musical selections.

Appalachian Trail Trip

Final plans for the Outdoor Club trip to the Appalachian Trail near Delaware Water Gap will be finalized at the organization's next meeting on Thursday, April 28, at 7 p.m. in Tawes 118. The trip, featuring backpacking and camping, is scheduled April 29 - May 1.

Additionally, a canoeing trip on Nassawango Creek May 8 will be discussed at the meeting.

Canada Experience

A limited number of students who are currently freshmen, sophomores or juniors are being sought to assist with an alternate freshman orientation program this summer. Extending from August 19 to September 1, this program will involve sessions on the SSC campus as well as a 12 day wilderness experience in Algonquin Provincial Park in Ontario, Canada.

Applicants should be in good academic standing, be good role models, and have experience in camping and canoeing. If selected, students will receive no pay but will make the trip to Canada at no cost to themselves.

Interested students should attend a meeting in the Chesapeake Room of the College Center on Monday, May 2, at 8:00 p.m.

Event Dates Needed

It is time to select dates for dances (or other events where a retail beer license is needed) for next semester. Dave Ganoe, director of the College Center, requests any organization wishing to schedule an event submit a request to Mrs. Karen M. Griffin, facilities reservation clerk, ext. 6101, no later than 4:30 p.m. on Friday, May 13.

Confirmation of these dates, in accordance with the College Alcoholic Beverage Policy, will be made by the College Center Office prior to the end of the spring semester.

Free Swim Hours

Free swim hours at Maggs Pool are as follows:

Monday & Friday: Noon-1 p.m. & 4 - 5 p.m.;
Wednesday: Noon-1 p.m. & 4-7 p.m.;
Tuesday & Thursday: Noon-1 p.m. & 4-5 p.m. & 7-9 p.m.;
Saturday & Sunday: 1-5 p.m.

Health Center Closed

The Health Center will be closed on Sunday, May 8. In the event of an injury or medically urgent problem, students should go to the emergency room at Peninsula General Hospital Medical Center.

Salisbury State College is not responsible for fees charged by off-campus health care providers.

Career Planning & Placement

MAY RECRUITING CALENDAR

MAY 3 - WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC CORPORATION will be recruiting in the Career Planning and Placement Center from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Type of organization: radar and communications systems engineering firm. Description: Located Rt. 170 by BWI Airport. Major defense contractor doing research, development, design and manufacture of radar systems (airborne, satellite, land base and shipboard). Also involved in the same for electronic countermeasure equipment. Westinghouse will be interviewing any major relating to engineering applications including physics, high level mathematics and computer science. Sign ups begin immediately.

MAY 4 - R.J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY will be recruiting in the Career Planning and Placement Center from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Type of organization: field sales. The company will be interviewing all majors for an entry level sales representative position. Sign ups begin immediately.

MAY 11 - MARYLAND COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE will be recruiting in the Career Planning and Placement Center from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. They will be interviewing the following majors: Home Economics, all Education majors, Leisure Studies, Physical Education and Biology. Sign ups begin immediately.

All recruiting requires sign ups. Appropriate dress is required.

The Career Planning and Placement Office is located in Holloway Hall, room 273. The phone number is ext. 6075.

WORKSHOPS

MAY 10 - RESUME WRITING - 6:30 - 7:30 p.m. The one session workshop is designed to help develop one of the job campaign's basic tools. Such topics as various formats, uses of resume, printing, cover letters and sections of the resume will be discussed. Handouts will be provided. Bring a draft resume if available. Sign ups are required. Contact the Career Planning and Placement Center, HH 273, or call ext. 6075.

A/C for the Summer

This summer, as in the past, campus-wide electrical demand will be closely monitored. It is the goal of the College not to exceed a 2000KW demand between the peak billing hours of 9 a.m. and 10 p.m.

Air conditioning availability will be as follows when outside temperatures are expected to reach at least 83 degrees during any part of the day.

Holloway Hall (8:00 a.m. - 4 p.m., Monday thru Friday)
Devilbiss Science & Caruthers Halls (Monday thru Friday, 24 hours/day; weekends as needed)
Library (24 hours per day, seven days per week)
Dining Hall (as needed)
Residence Halls (7:oo p.m. - Midnight, Saturday & Sunday, when occupied)
Maggs, Maintenance Bldg. & College Center (7:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday thru Friday)

The above mentioned buildings represent the major electrical loads. The primary task is to keep the dorms off from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

It may, however, be necessary to balance the campus electrical load by shutting down various buildings' air conditioners for short periods of time. This action may be avoided if thermostats are kept up to 78 to 80 degrees. These guidelines are in accordance with the state of Maryland's "Phase I - Energy Conservation Measures, Operations and Maintenance Guidelines."

GARDEN NOTES

History of the Iris

by Joan E. Maloof

In addition to having a beautiful flower, the iris also has one of the most interesting histories of any plant.

Amazed at the range of colors it came in, ancient Greeks named the flower iris, "eye of heaven," which was also their word for the rainbow and the goddess of the rainbow.

The recorded history of the iris began around 1440 B.C. when the Egyptian Pharaoh Thutmose III was in Syria on a conquest. He brought some of the plants home to Egypt with him where they rapidly spread and gained in popularity.

It is widely believed that the iris flower is symbolically represented by the three-pronged fleur-de-lis. This symbol appears in art work of the earliest civilizations as a representation of divine protection and resurrection.

The French kings began using the fleur-de-lis as a royal emblem in 496 A.D. after the pagan King Clovis, frightened by the prospects of doing battle with a quickly approaching fierce army, promised his Christian wife that he would join her faith if victorious in battle. King Clovis won the battle and was baptized. To commemorate the conversion he replaced the three toads, which had previously adorned his flag, with a stylised version of the irises that were found growing near the field of battle.

The design did not get its name, "fleur-de-lis," until the year 1147 A.D. when Louis VII made it the symbol not only of France, but also of Christianity. At the time, it was called "fleur-de-Louis," flower of Louis, but the phrase was soon distorted to "eur-de-luce," flower of light, and finally "fleur-de-lis," flower of the lily.

Throughout the centuries the symbol became more and more popular until it adorned almost all royal garments, furnishings, architecture and armor. When England's King Edward III laid claim to the French crown in 1340, he even added the fleur-de-lis to the British Royal Arms.

The royal emblem changed from a field of fleur-de-lis to only three under the reign of King Charles V later in the 14th century.

Even in America, a country unknown during those times, the fleur-de-lis has become a popular design. The iris plant has spread to America along with the symbol. Today it is a well-loved favorite among gardeners everywhere. In fact, there is an iris society which is dedicated exclusively to the iris enthusiast. Many Americans, both amateur and professional, have spent decades breeding and studying the uniquely beautiful iris.

Secretarial Opening

There is an Office Secretary II opening in the Department of Education, available July 1. Non-state employees who wish to apply must have passed the State Exam and be on the Eligible List.

Contact the Personnel Office in Holloway Hall, room 205, ext. 6035, for details.

TB Screening

All faculty and staff are due to be screened for tuberculosis.

The procedure for screening is a quick and relatively painless skin test. Students from the Nursing Department, in conjunction with the Health Center staff, will conduct a health screening program.

All faculty and staff (full-time, part-time and contractual employees) are encouraged to stop by the Health Center May 2 or 4 between 1:00 and 3:00 p.m. for the test.

Known positive reactors to tuberculin skin tests should stop by the Health Center to make arrangements for a chest x-ray appointment.

Please note that the scheduled TB screening has been changed from the fall semester to the spring. There will be no screening program in the fall of 1983.

In addition to tuberculin screening, optional testing including height, weight, blood pressure, pulse and vision screening will be done.

Honors Director and Student Attend Conference

Dr. Tony Whall, director of the SSC College Honors program, and Kris Nystrom, a sophomore Honors student, attended the 12th annual conference of the Northeast Regional National Collegiate Honors Council at the University of Maine this past weekend, April 22-24.

Dr. Whall, who is editor of the region's Newsletter and also a member of the executive committee, gave a workshop on student-centered approaches to teaching and learning poetry. He also served as discussion leader for a showing of Michael Cimino's The Deerhunter. Kris Nystrom was a co-leader with students from the University of Massachusetts (Amherst) and University of Maine for a workshop entitled "The Honors Student as Campus Outcast."

The Northeast region of NCHC is composed of 83 member institutions from New England and the eastern seaboard. This year's meeting attracted 170 students, faculty and administrators from these schools.

Dr. Harvey Commencement Speaker

Dr. William R. Harvey, president of Hampton Institute, will deliver the College commencement address on Saturday, May 21, at 10 a.m. in the Wicomico County Youth and Civic Center.

Some 700 graduates are expected to receive undergraduate and graduate degrees, with representatives from the Board of Trustees of the Maryland State Universities and Colleges as well as the SSC Board of Visitors present for the ceremony.

Dr. Harvey was elected president of Hampton in July 1978. Founded in 1868, Hampton Institute currently enrolls some 3,800 students in 26 fields of undergraduate study and 11 areas of graduate work.

Hampton Institute is the nation's oldest predominately black private college. Its $37-million endowment makes it the best endowed black institution in the country.

Hampton Institute has turned out more than 25,000 graduates, including Booker T. Washington, founder of Tuskegee Institute in Alabama.

Honors and awards of Dr. Harvey include: Woodrow Wilson "Martin Luther King Fellowship" (1966-70); Harvard University Higher Education Administrative Fellowship (1969); and Woodrow Wilson Administrative Intern Fellowship (1970). Active on many national fronts, he is a board member of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and the Presidential Scholars Commission Alumni Council at Harvard University and the University of Virgina.

Blood Drive

CCPB will conduct its first Student Blood Drive on Thursday, May 5, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Nanticoke Room of the College Center.

Residents of the community are also invited to participate in the program. Technicians from Peninsula General Medical Center will take charge of the administration of the program.

Area residents who donate blood on May 5, who are members of the Eastern Shore Blood Bank, will receive credit from that organization for their contributions.

The blood donations will go to the hospital for elderly persons who have no means of replacement.

"This is the first drive by the student government group," Guy Campion, the CCPB representative said. "Three previous programs were conducted by the Army ROTC. Naturally, we are hopeful that our first will be successful."

Refreshment drinks will be provided by Coca-Cola, while door prizes will be donated by Pepsi Cola.

Friday Credit Union Hours

The State Employees Credit Union introduced Friday evening hours at its Salisbury branch office on April 29.

The Credit Union's drive-up teller windows and office door at 1101 Mt. Hermon Road are open from 9 a.m. - 7 p.m. every Friday.

All other SECU offices, including the Towson headquarters, close at 3:30 p.m. on Friday.

Some services may not be available after 4:30 p.m. Services which require confirmation with an agency personnel department or communication with the Towson headquarters (verification of a joint owner, removal of a collection flag, etc.) must be delayed until Monday morning. First time SECU borrowers must have written verification of their employment date if applying on Friday evenings.

These hours and services are being conducted on a trial basis. SECU will monitor the program to determine member patronage and areas for improvement.

Office hours for the rest of the week at the Salisbury branch remain unchanged. Aside from the new office hours on Fridays, SECU is open Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8:00 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. and 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Welsh Gance Glimpse

The Smithsonian Resident Associates have invited Jim Welsh, assistant professor of English, to present a three-week film and lecture program beginning May 31 in Washington, D.C.

The program is a tribute to the late, prodigious French filmmaker Abel Gance and is described in The Smithsonian Associate as "a dazzling series of major Gance films."

The series begins with Gance's Un Grand Amour de Beethoven, remarkable for the filmmaker's experimental sound technique, for actor Harry Baur's interpretation of the composer's personal anguish, and for a symphony of images that equal the power of Beethoven's music. The second film, Lucrece Borgia, representing Gance's more popular work, characterizes through fact and fiction the murderous politics and romantic liaisons of the Borgia family. The series concludes with a film often compared to Renoir's classic, Grand Illusion, Gance's stunningly powerful and poetic antiwar masterpiece, J'Accuse (the second version), made on the eve of World War II.

Beethoven and J'Accuse are among the five films Gance considered to be his best work. Beethoven and Lucrece Borgia are newly reconstructed to their original length from the many cut and fragmentary versions previously available, and will be Washington premieres.

An introductory talk is given on the opening night by Welsh, who is co-author of a book on Gance and co-editor of Literature/Film Quarterly.

Garden Notes

Azaleas Reward Careful Treatment with Springtime Beauty

Aren't the azalea's beautiful? The small shrubs are in full bloom now, showing off their spectacular red, pink, lavender and white blossoms.

Here on the College campus we have azaleas naturalized in the triangular bed off of Camden Avenue, massed foundation plantings at the Maintenance Building, Devilbiss Science Hall and the President's House.

Azaleas are members of the Rhododendron family. They are differentiated from the larger shrubs we usually think of as rhododendrons by the number of stamens. Stamens are the antennae like pollen producing organs in the flower; rhododendrons have 10 or more stamens while azaleas usually have five. More obviously azaleas are lower growing, flower earlier, and have smaller leaves.

Many people admire the beauty of the azaleas but, unfortunately, not so many understand the growing conditions they require. Most importantly the shrubs need cool, moist, acid soil. The best way to endure these conditons is to add organic matter to the soil before planting. Peat moss, pine needles and oak leaves are all ideal additives as they add humus, which retains moisture, as well as increasing the acidity of the soil. Even with the proper soil azaleas do better if watered during dry spells.

Because azaleas have such shallow roots, which prefer to remain cool, they do best when grown in a partially shaded location with a two to three inch cover of mulch.

Another enemy to the azalea is wind. Windy locations tend to dry out more quickly, a detriment to the shallow roots, and during the winter months continual winds can dessicate the leaves and branches to a point where they are not able to recover.

Pruning is rarely necessary for the azalea unless it is planted in a location where the size must be kept under control. One should always be certain to cut back to a bud or small shoot, and not to cut off large branches with no buds or shoots below the cut. Azaleas will not produce new buds on bare branches the way other shrubs such as forsythia and privet do.

Azaleas require a little more care and effort, but when planted in a suitable location they will reward you with beautiful springtime blossoms year after year.

Simpson Poetry Reading

Pulitzer Prize - winning poet Louis Simpson will read his poems at the College's annual Writers' Day on Thursday, May 5, at 8:30 pm in Caruthers Hall, room 122.

The program is sponsored by the Department of English.

Simpson has published nine volumes of poetry, as well as a novel, an autobiography and three books of criticism. He also co-edited the anthology New Poets of England and America (1957) and is the author of An Introduction To Poetry (1967).

Simpson is arguably the most influential poet of his generation. His criticism appears regularly in The New York Times Book Review and The Washington Post Book World. His poems appear frequently in The New Yorker, The American Poetry Review, The Georgia Review, The Ohio Review and other journals.

Simpson's work has been discussed in numerous articles and at length in two books: Louis Simpson by Ronald Moran (Twayne, 1972); and Four Poets of the Emotive Imagination by George S. Lensing & Ronald Moran (Louisiana, 1976).

His books of poetry are: The Arrivistes (Fine Editions, 1949); Good News of Death in Poets of Today II (Scribner's, 1955); A Dream of Governors (Wesleyan, 1959); At the End of the Open Road (Wesleyan, 1963 – Pulitzer Prize, 1964); Selected Poems (Harcourt, Brace, 1965); Adventures of the Letter I (Harper & Row, 1971); Searching For the Ox (Morrow, 1976); Armidale (BOA, 1980); and Caviare At the Funeral (Watts, 1980). Two new volumes are forthcoming this year: Selected Poems (BOA); and Physical Universe (Ticknor & Fields).

His novel, Riverside Drive, was published by Atheneum in 1962. His autobiography, North of Jamaica, was published by Harper and Row in 1972. His books of criticism are: James Hogg (St. Martin's, 1963); Three on a Tower: The Lives and Works of Ezra Pound, T.S. Eliot and William Carlos Williams (Morrow, 1975); A Revolution in Taste: Studies of Dylan Thomas, Allen Ginsberg, Sylvia Plath and Rovert Lowell (Morrow, 1978; and A Company of Poets (University of Michigan, 1981).

The author is an excellent reader of his own poems which use simple diction, a casual tone and occasional humor.

College in the 'Center' Successful

by Carol Bosserman

"College in the Park" April 24 was a tremendous success even though the weather forced the activities indoors to the Midway Room of the Civic Center.

Restrictions of space and food rules forced several groups to cancel their activities. However, their cooperative spirit and willingness to participate gave impetus to the whole project.

Special thanks go the following groups and their designated coordinator (s):

P.E. 106, Ann LeBaron; SSC Dance Co., Denay Trykowski; Department of Education/SNEA, Carolyn Bowden; SSC Theatre, Andy Hepburn; German Club, Judith Lowden; French Club, Arlene White; Medical Careers, Augustine DiGiovanna; Student Nurses, Nancy Daly and Karen Badros; Physical Education, Bob Cross; Book Rack, Kaaren Kundell; Geographic Society, Carol Hoese; Delmarva Historical Archives, Sylvia Bradley; Admissions, M.P. Minton; Psychology, Dan Gallagher; ROTC, Rick Maloof; Art Department, Jim Burgess; History/Politcal Science, Charles Clark; Communication Center, Terry Auch; SSC Tennis Team, Dean Burroughs; Community Concert Band, Charles Smith; Physical Science Department, Fred Kundell; and Soccer Team, Gerry DiBartolo.

Many people worked devotedly behind the scenes to make this event happen: William Standaert, Carol Bloodsworth, Gretchen Altergott, Mary McNally, Mary Luke, Sara Mae Wilkins, Virginia Powell, Nancy Culver, Margaret Sewell, Ginny Riffle and Dolores Powell.

Julie Perrine, senior Leisure Studies major, did a fantastic job of organizing details, keeping files and being available when needed. She supervised setting up the Midway Room and assisted in solving problems throughout the afternoon. Many, many thanks to you, Julie.

Chorus, Choir Performance

The College Chorus and Chamber Choir will present a concert on Sunday, May 8 in Bethesda United Methodist Church at 4 pm. The public is invited free-of-charge. The Bethesda location is a change from previous publicity.

The Chamber Choir will give a performance of Faure's Requiem and the Cantique de Jean Racine by the same composer. Organist for the pieces will be Joan Davis of Rehobeth, Del.

The College Chorus will sing Benjamin Britten's Festival To Deum, Brother James's Air arranged by Gordon Jacob, Hovland's Saul for narrator and chorus and Rise Up, My Love, My Fair One by McCray. Accompanist for the chorus is Sara Shafer.

Phi Kappa Phi Initiates

The College's chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, a national honor society, inducted 30 new members at an initiation ceremony held April 24 at the Ruth Powell Dining Hall.

Dr. Bellavance, and Dr. Joel Rodney, vice president for Academic Affairs, took part in the ceremony, which was handled by Dr. Ray Thompson, professor of History.

The purpose of Phi Kappa Phi is to foster and recognize outstanding scholarship in all areas of instruction. It is the only national honor society which cuts across the lines of academic disciplines. For seniors, candidates must have a grade point average higher than 3.5 on a 4.0 scale. For juniors. only those with the highest academic records are selected.

This year's initiates represent a variety of academic areas; seven from Business Administration, five each from Medical Technology and Psychology, four from Nursing and English, three from Education and Mathmatics, two each from Art, Biology, Liberal Studies and Social Work, and one each from Chemistry, Communication Arts, Modern Languages, Geography, History and Politcal Science.

SALISBURY STATE COLLEGE

news

MAY 12, 1983 VOL. XII, NO. 29

Honorary Degrees to Truitt, Dr. Harvey

A prominent Eastern Shoreman and a college president will receive honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degrees at Salisbury State College's Commencement exercises on Saturday, May 21, at 10 a.m. in Wicomico Youth and Civic Center.

Charles J. Truitt, Sr., well-known Salisbury newspaperman, radio and television pioneer, writier, historian and industrialist, and William R. Harvey, president of Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., who is also the commencement speaker, will be honored.

Language Honor Society Established

Four of Salisbury State College's outstanding students in Spanish recently earned the College the opportunity to establish a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, a prestigious honor society whose purpose is to recognize excellence in the study of the Hispanic language and culture.

Although the College and the Modern Language Department had to satisfy certain institutional requirements, it was Misty Knight, Leduc Obas, Patricia O'Neil and Patricia Priola who satisfied the personal requirements: completion of three years of college Spanish, including at least three semester-hours of Hispanic literature; an average of 3.0 in language classes; and a GPA of at least 2.75.

Doctor Jorge Giro, a professor of Spanish at Towson State University, began the three-part ceremony by initiating Dr. John Knowles, professor, William Palmer, associate professor, Dr. Gerald St. Martin, assistant professor, and Wavie Gibson, instructor. He then assisted them with the initiation of charter members: Misty Knight, Leduc Obas, Patricia O'Neil and Pat Priola. Dr. Giro completed the activities by conducting an impressive installation ceremony, which included the lighting of a mater candle, the assigning of the chapter name (Omicron Iota), and the granting of a chapter charter.

Among those who attended the initiation-installation activities were spouses, relatives and friends. Dr. Bellavance and Dr. Carol Williamson, Dean of Students, also attended the honor-bestowing event.

Employee Picnic

The College's annual Employee Picnic for all classified employees and their administrators is June 7 beginning at noon. It promises to be a fun-filled afternoon featuring free food, games and prizes.

Friday Credit Union Hours

The State Employees Credit Union introduced Friday evening hours at its Salisbury branch office on April 29.

The Credit Union's drive-up teller windows and office door at 1101 Mt. Hermon Road are open from 9 a.m. - 7 p.m. every Friday.

All other SECU offices, including the Towson headquarters, close at 3:30 p.m. on Friday.

Some services may not be available after 4:30 p.m. Services which require confirmation with an agency personnel department or communication with the Towson headquarters (verification of a joint owner, removal of a collection flag, etc.) must be delayed until Monday morning. First time SECU borrowers must have written verification of their employment date if applying on Friday evenings.

These hours and services are being conducted on a trial basis. SECU will monitor the program to determine member patronage and areas for improvement.

Office hours for the rest of the week at the Salisbury branch remain unchanged. Aside from the new office hours on Fridays, SECU is open Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8:00 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. and 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. on Wednesdays.

MCEA Election

MCEA Chapter No. 72 will hold an election for officers on May 17 at 7:00 p.m. in the Nanticoke Room of the College Center. The newly elected officers will take office October 1.

Graduate Assistantship

The Department of Biological Sciences invites qualified individuals to apply for a graduate assistantship. Applicants should have a strong undergraduate background in Biology and must enroll as a graduate student in the master's program at the College.

Responsibilities may include laboratory, preparation, tutoring and occasional teaching assignments. A stipend of $1,200 per semester and waiver of tuition are included as part of the assistantship. Applicants should send curriculum vitae, transcripts and two letters of recommendation by May 31 to: Chairman, Graduate Assistant Search Committee, Department of Biological Sciences, Salisbury State College.

Salisbury State College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and invites applications from qualified minority individuals.

Summer Sessions Health Center Hours

Health Center hours for Summer Sessions will be 8:00 a.m. to noon. There will be no health services available on the weekends.

Health Center will be closed on June 7, 8 and 9. In the event of an injury or medically urgent problem, students should go to the emergency room at Peninsula General Hospital Medical Center. Salisbury State College is not responsible for fees charged by off-campus health care providers.

Garden Notes

A Time for Annuals

by Joan Maloof

To the delight of many, it is time once again to plant annuals. The most popular annuals are zinnias, marigolds, impatiens, petunias and ageratums, but there are dozens more which can be grown successfully in our area.

Unlike other plants, which store up energy in their roots and rise from those roots again, annuals live and die in one season. They are killed in the fall by the first hard frost and should not be planted in the spring until all danger of frost has passed. Despite their short life, annuals have a longer flowering period than any other garden plant. Annuals set out now will bloom continuously for four or five months.

In addition to their abundant flowers, annuals are popular because they are extremely easy to grow and, at about 10 to 20 cents a plant, relatively inexpensive. Some people are discouraged by their temporary nature but even this can be an asset, enabling residents of rented homes and summer cottages to enjoy a flower garden without large investments of time or money. Annuals are also ideal for more serious gardeners as they can give a garden the feeling of being new every year either by a change in the variety or the color of flowers planted. Newly landscaped areas also benefit from annuals used to "fill-in" until shrubs and trees have grown to their desired sizes.

Annuals can be purchased from garden centers, started from seed indoors, or sown from seed directly into the garden. Of course the easiest and most reliable method is to purchase the annuals from a garden center. These plants are available in flower now so that you may select the colors you want for your garden.

A less expensive way to get beautiful flowers is to sow them directly into your garden. Annuals seeded in the garden frequently fail to germinate properly because the soil cakes and prevents entry of water. To prevent this, sow the seed in vermiculite filled furrows and plan to water as often as necessary.

To maintain healthy plants during the growing season, keep the area among your flowers mulched and weed free. Water often, and remove mature flowers as well as seed pods. Finally, on those hot summer afternoons when you can do little else except sit back with a cool drink, take some time to enjoy your lovely flowers, knowing that they will disappear as quickly as the summer days.

Here on the campus we have planted petunias in the courtyard and the planter at Holloway Hall, and at the maintenance building; portulaca in the planters at the library; and red impatiens in the planters at Chester, Choptank and Devilbiss Science Hall.

Have a nice summer
See you next fall
